mediately but they reportedly were not served. Instead, Torphy chose to notify the accused by telephone and arrange voluntary court appearances.

The procedure kept identities off the record in an obvious attempt to guard against a renewed attack on the validity of the secret grand jury proceedings.

The initial challenge was made by Norman Skogstad, an attorney representing the West Side Bank of Milwaukee. He told the State Supreme Court Monday that the jury's rule of secrecy had been abused and asked the justices to consider calling a halt to the entire proceedings.

Quick Rejection

It took less than five minutes for the court to reject the Milwaukee attorney's plea on grounds that it was premature.

Bardwell said Tuesday that he expected another challenge.

"Now when warrants are issued, obviously those people have the right to attack the validity of the indictments," he said.

The state lobby law was enacted in 1957. It prohibits lobbyists from offering legislators anything of value. The maximum penalty for violation, which is a misdemeanor, is a fine ranging from $200 to $5,000.

Witness Says Dodd Took Trip To Help Klein

Boyd Acknowledged Giving Documents to Pearson, Anderson

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Thomas J. Dodd's former administrative assistant swore today that the senator told him the purpose of a 1964 trip to Germany was to help Chicago public relations man Julius Klein.

James P. Boyd Jr. was the first witness as the bipartisan Senate Ethics Committee began taking public testimony in its investigation of misconduct charges against Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat.

A trip Dodd made to Germany in April 1964 has been described by the committee as "a critical element" in the current phase of its probe — the senator's relationship with Klein, a registered agent for West German interests.

Boyd testified that before the senator made the trip, Klein had advised him that he had lost clients in Germany and needed to be "bolstered" and to have his "image refurbished."

Boyd said also that David Martin, a long-time aide to the senator, told him that the matter of interviewing a prisoner in a German prison also was involved in the trip.

Dodd has said that he made the trip for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to investigate murder and kidnaping as instruments of Soviet policy.

Friend Sought On Charges Of Abduction

RACINE (AP) — A family friend was sought today in connection with the disappearance of a 6-year-old girl.

A warrant charged Gerald F. Pashek, 44, with abduction, a police official said.

The child, Debra Sue Larsen, was found apparently unharmed Tuesday about 24 hours after she had disappeared.

Deputy Inspector Thomas J. Koetting said the warrant was issued after a witness reported a man let the girl out of a car near her home. The witness wrote down the car's license number, Koetting said.

Pashek's car was found parked in the Milwaukee suburb of Cudahy. Police in Cudahy said today they were watching the rooming house where Pashek had lived, but had not been able to locate him.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Larsen, who moved here recently from Cudahy, described Pashek as a family acquaintance.

One Other Communist Jet Damaged; Five U. S. Planes Lost Over North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot flying a jet fighter crippled by enemy fire and running critically low on fuel shot down a Communist MIG17 jet over North Viet Nam Tuesday.

One other MIG was damaged and possibly destroyed as four Navy F8 Crusaders and four MIG17s tangled 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. But the MIGs shot down one Crusader, and ground fire brought down a Navy photo-reconnaissance plane in the same area.

In all, five American planes were reported lost in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief shot down Tuesday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, an Air Force F100 Supersabre hit by Viet Cong groundfire 75 miles southwest of Saigon today and a C123 transport downed on a defoliation mission over the South Tuesday.

Crews Rescued

The crews of both planes lost in South Viet Nam were rescued.

In the ground war, U.S. paratroopers and cavalrymen battled a Communist battalion on the eastern flank of South Viet Nam's strategic central highlands for the third day, and a spokesman said the enemy toll had risen to 144 killed.

No major action was reported elsewhere in the South. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky eased his political war against his militant Buddhist opponents by briefly lifting the five-day blockade of Saigon's Buddhist Institute. During the hour's respite, 203 persons quit the encircled compound, but several hundred remained behind.

Several truckloads of draft-age youths were hauled off for military service as Ky mingled the conciliatory gesture with continued firmness against the dissidents.

Continues Fast

Though his revolt showed every sign of disintegrating, the militant monk Thich Tri Quang continued his protest fast for the 15th day in the Saigon hospital where the government brought him from Hue Tuesday.

The battle with the Commu-nist battalion was the third this month in the central highlands, whose loss would split South Viet Nam in two. It began Monday when the Reds hit a small unit of the 101st Airborne Division pushing through a valley during Operation Nathan Hale.

Helicopters quickly lifted in reinforcements from the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division. The outnumbered Communists pulled into tunnels and log bunkers they had prepared to keep a toe-hold on the highland stretch north of the coastal town of Tuy Hoa.

U.S. officers think that the Communists may plan a summer monsoon offensive with the highlands as their chief target. To keep an enemy drive from starting, the allied forces are staging constant search operations in the area, seeking out enemy concentrations.

Patrolmen Seal Off Small Neighborhood in Shooting

Battles Erupt as Civil Rights Leaders Debate 75 Miles Away

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Highway patrolmen sealed off a small Negro neighborhood early today after Negroes and whites exchanged gunfire in Philadelphia. One white man was wounded late Tuesday night.

The gun battles erupted here as civil rights leaders 75 miles away debated the merits of violence and nonviolence when they returned to Philadelphia as part of the Mississippi march.

Philadelphia Police Chief Bruce Latimer said a white man whom he identified as Stanley Stuart, an employe of a glove factory, was wounded during an exchange of gunfire near the Freedom Democratic party headquarters.

Stuart was treated for buckshot wounds in the neck and shoulder at a hospital here and sent home.

The highway patrol moved in and blocked off a three or four block area.

Birdshot

"No one's going in or coming out until daybreak," said Inspector Maynard King.

Latimer said Stuart's car was hit by both birdshot and buckshot. He said he thought Stuart was alone at the time.

Negroes inside the Freedom Democrat headquarters relayed a report to their offices that three carloads of whites drove up and began firing at them. They said they returned the fire and thought they hit at least two cars.

Other staccato bursts of gunfire were heard in the area later.

Jim Letherer, a white one-legged veteran of the Selma, Ala., march, said he was outside the F. D. T. building at the time. Letherer, 32, from Saginaw, Mich., said a blue car drove by and a shot was fired from it.

It returned a few minutes later and three or four more shots were fired.

"I was standing about five feet from the car," Letherer said. "He shot at me and missed. After he shot at me he pulled away real fast. I threw my crutch at the back of the car.

More Shots

"A bunch of local folks were armed and they started shooting back."

More than an hour later, he said, a second car with two men

Hundreds Riot; 24 Arrested In Florida City

Cars Overturned, Policemen Injured In Pompano Beach

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes rioted early today, throwing rocks and bottles at police, stores and cars before riot police cleared the streets with billy clubs and the threat of tear gas.

Two cars were overturned, one was set fire, and three or four policemen hurt by flying glass, one officer said.

Debris littered the main street in the Negro district from sidewalk to sidewalk, but the overall damage apparently was light.

Display windows at two stores were smashed, and there were three reports of homes being looted.

Police arrested 24 Negroes.

The riot in this city of 16,000 about 25 miles north of Miami lasted less than an hour.

It apparently was the culmination of tension built up Tuesday when reports spread

Father, Son Seek Same Legislative Seat

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A Wichita man has filed for the Republican nomination for the same legislative seat being sought by his son, a Democrat.

"I suppose it creates an odd-looking situation," said Bruce B. Madden, the father. "But the filings were entirely independent."

Madden's son, Robert B. Madden, 21, filed for the Democratic nomination for state representative early in May. He did not know of his father's intentions.

British Pirate Radio Owner Shot Dead

Mysterious Crew Seizes Station; Police Hold Couple

LONDON (AP) — A leading British politician-businessman was charged with murder today after the operator of a pirate radio station was found slain in his home.

The dead man's pop music station off the southeast coast in the Thames estuary meanwhile was occupied by a mysterious band of raiders who silenced it.

Maj. William Oliver Smedley, former vice president of the Liberal party and a pirate radio tycoon, was charged with murder in a special court.

The dead man was Reg Calvert, 37, who ran Radio City, a pop station operating from an abandoned antiaircraft fort on Shivering Sands, 12 miles off the coast.

The shooting came shortly after disclosure that an unidentified boarding party had taken over the station.

Police gave no indication whether there was any direct link between the raid and shooting.

Smedley, 54, is chairman of Project Atlanta, an organization

Summer Enrollments Near 19,000 for 11 Campuses in State

MADISON (AP) — Summer session enrollments at the 11 campuses of the University of Wisconsin neared 19,000 as classes began Tuesday.

Subsequent registration in several short sessions is expected to raise the total to 22,000, more than 10 per cent above 1965, the university said.

Young People Die Raising Toll to 406

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of two young people in separate accidents have brought Wisconsin's 1966 highway toll to 406, compared with 419 on this date a year ago.

Rodney Nofsinger Jr., 15, of rural Elroy died Tuesday of injuries received on Monday when a tractor overturned on him as he drove the vehicle on a town road near Elroy.

Cameron Puckett, 3, of Woodman died Tuesday night of injuries suffered a few hours earlier when he was struck by a car in Woodman.

A double-fatality crash on a highway narrowed to one-lane traffic because of construction drove Wisconsin's 1966 traffic toll to 404, compared with 419 a year ago today.

Two persons died Tuesday in a headon collision near Spring Green on U.S. 14 where barricades had been erected in one lane of traffic by a construction crew.

Killed were Earl S. Campbell, 47, of rural Spring Green, and Mrs. Oriole LaFleur, 62, Bay City, Mich. Her husband,

Hearings Begin on Military Draft; General Hershey Is First Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee opens hearings today on the military draft — a system the committee chairman described as an "unpleasant fact of life that cannot be wished away."

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who has headed the Selective Service for 25 years, is the first witness at sessions called by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers after the draft came under fire from congressional critics.

In a statement prepared for the start of today's hearing, Rivers said the committee must determine whether the draft law is functioning as Congress intended or whether it needs substantial revision.

Facts Clear

The South Carolina Democrat added: "The facts appear abundantly clear ... we do need a draft law for now and the foreseeable future."

Hershey's testimony could have a bearing on whether there will be a later, full scale investigation of the Selective Service System.

"If it looks like the draft needs an investigation, we'll make it," Rivers said.

Rivers acknowledged there have been complaints about the draft's operation. He said he hoped Hershey could answer them.

Some of these he cited as:

— One local board defers a college student indefinitely, while another board terminates the deferment from completion of the academic year.

— No nationwide regulation on part time students.

— High school dropouts must score higher on tests than high school graduates to be accepted.

"This obviously encourages high school dropouts," Rivers commented.

The chairman warned "No law ... can endure if it does not, in the last analysis, have the sanction and support of a majority of the people."

Congressional critics contend the draft discriminates against the poor and uneducated. They charge that the affluent who can afford to go to college are deferred.

Some members of Congress have suggested that other types of national service, such as the Peace Corps, be allowed as an alternative to the draft.

But others say new administrative procedures could curb discrimination.

Just Treatment

"We will never devise a draft law which will gladden the heart of the young man who receives his induction notice," Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said in calling for a special draft study commission last month.

"But we can write a law which will assure him that his country is treating him justly, without discrimination and with his best interests in mind during this period of national emergency."

The "authority to induct" portion of the draft law expires June 30, 1967. The hearings starting today could provide groundwork for decisions on this and other sections of the law.

De Gaulle Shares Viet Nam Views With Brezhnev

MOSCOW (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle discussed the war in Viet Nam with Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev today and French sources reported their views were similar.

The informants said De Gaulle was critical of U.S. policy on Viet Nam while Brezhnev accused the United States of savage aggression.

The French sources said the two leaders "noted the convergence of their points of view on the Viet Nam situation."

Earlier French sources said differing viewpoints had slowed up the opening round Tuesday.

"When we talk about easing of tensions, they talk about security," one French informant complained.

Police Still Search for Clues To Death of Boy in Superior

SUPERIOR (AP) — Detectives turned to science today to try to solve the mysterious death of a 14-year-old newspaper carrier boy.

Police conceded they had found few clues in two days of investigation after the crushed body of Michael Fisher was found abandoned in a roadside ditch.

"We'll have to rely on the State Crime Laboratory," said Police Chief Charles Barnard.

The chief said the youngster's clothing was being sent to the crime laboratory in Madison. Also forwarded were blood-stained rags found on a bridge Tuesday.

Barnard said the rags appeared to contain a fragment of tissue and hair. They were discovered in a paper bag on a girder of a bridge over the Nemadji River about three miles from where the boy's wagon and its load of newspapers were found Sunday.

Police Uncertain

Barnard said he was leaning toward the theory that the boy was beaten to death, although police have not yet completely discarded the alternate possibility that the youngster was struck by a hit-and-run vehicle.

The wagon was found in front of the first home on Michael's newspaper route Sunday morning. The other 65 papers were undelivered. The body was found 12 hours later in a remote area at the outskirts of Superior.

An autopsy attributed the cause of death to a crushing blow on the head. Absence of widespread bloodstains at both the area where the wagon was left and the place where the body was found has led police to speculate that the boy was lured into an automobile before his death.

Still missing were the 14-inch long wire cutters the Fisher boy carried to use in opening newspaper bundles.

Authorities quoted a witness as reporting having overheard an early morning argument Sunday in which one voice shouted, "You're going to jail," and another replied, "No, I'm not going to be arrested."

An investigator theorized that the youngster may have "seen something he shouldn't have."

Elvse Rinkenberger is director of the summer session.

No New Warrant Issued Bather At Happening

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A magistrate refused Monday to sign a new warrant for the arrest of a student accused of participating in a nude art performance.

The original charge of lewd and lascivious conduct filed against Jeffrey K. Hubbell 20 Chicago Ill. was dismissed in court Monday upon prosecution request.

Magistrate John J. Kenney said he would not sign a new charge against the University of Wisconsin junior unless the police squad presented a witness to the alleged offense. Police promised to do so Wednesday.

Hubbell and Mrs. Susan G. Darcy 21 Madison a UW coed were charged originally with being the couple who stripped and went through the motions of bathing in beer cooler before an audience of 250 in a "happening" at the Milwaukee Art Center April 28.

A judge threw out the original charge against Mrs. Darcy on grounds the warrant was too vague. A rewritten charge of lewd and lascivious conduct was lodged against the coed Saturday.

New Appleton Water Meters Pay Dividends

Revenue Hike From Accurate Readings Offsets Costs

An accelerated water meter repair and replacement program undertaken by the Appleton Water Department at the urging of the Public Service Commission, is starting to pay dividends.

The report was made to the Water Commission Monday afternoon by Russell Fulcer distribution superintendent who started to push the program to rid the city of obsolete meters about three years ago.

Repair and replacement Fulcer said have been costing about $32,500 a year but he contends. The additional revenue the city will derive from corrected readings should more than compensate for the cost of the replacement repair program in the long run. Since 1962 some 750 new meters have been installed at a cost of more than $90,000.

He estimated by June of 1967 the department will have repaired or replaced the oldest water meters in the city.

Not on Market

Some models we removed and threw out are no longer on the market Fulcer said.

Before the city stepped up its meter renovationg program the Public Service Commission issued a critical memorandum stating that the city's program was falling behind considerably.

A new policy was adopted in which all water meters in the city are now inspected at least once during the course of an eight year cycle.

associated with the pirate radios which broadcast from just outside British waters to evade the government ban on commercial radio broadcasting.

A few hours before police announced Calvert's death, it was learned that a boarding party of 10 men and a girl had taken over his station Monday and were still holding it.

The raiders and the station's seven-man staff stood on the deck of the fort early today and talked to newsmen in a tug below.

Said one bearded raider: "We were hired to do a job and we are doing it. After that ask the bosses."

The raiders were believed to have been sent by a businessman claiming to have supplied transmitting equipment to the station.

Calvert bought the station from Screaming Lord Sutch, a pop singer who started it more than a year ago. It was supposed to merge next month with Station UKGM (United Kingdom Good Music).

Reports Say Assemblymen, Banks Indicted by Jury

March 28. Charles Brees, a West Allis lobbyist for conservation groups, was indicted in April on charges of perjury and false swearing.

Branch Banking

The grand jury had evidently turned to the issue of branch banking after opening its probe by examining conservation matters. The panel resumed its proceedings Tuesday after delivering the latest indictments and listened to testimony from two lobbyists for highway transportation interests.

Making brief appearances were John Varda of Madison, a representative of the Wisconsin Motor Carriers Association, and Charles Elliott of Madison, a representative of the Wisconsin Petroleum Council.

Varda's organization had supported an attempt to allow 65-foot trucks on specified highways in Wisconsin. The Assembly passed the bill, but it died in the Senate High Committee.

They were the 58th and 59th witnesses to appear before the grand jury. Torphy said the investigation would be renewed Friday morning.

Sky Diver Burned On Power Lines

ELKHORN (AP)—A sky-diver survived despite severe burns when his parachute dumped him into power lines Tuesday.

Richard Bright, 34, Arlington Heights, Ill., was being treated at Lakeland Hospital here for possible second and third degree burns on his back and right arm, a nursing official said.

Authorities said Bright's parachute became entangled in power lines along Highway 120 in a jump near Lake Geneva.

Patrolmen Seal Off Small Neighborhood After Fighting

came by. There was an FBI agent and one of the city's two Negro policemen there then, he said. More shots were fired and the fire was returned.

A little later the Negro policeman detained two white men and white police officers picked them up and took them to headquarters for questioning. They were later released. They were not identified by police.

Latimer said police received a call at 10:05 p.m. from a white man identified as Gibson Eakes, who claimed his car had been peppered with shot as he drove through the Negro neighborhood. Eakes told the police chief he wasn't wounded.

At Yazoo City, Dr. Martin Luther King said he would lead the Mississippi civil rights marchers back to Philadelphia armed with "the ammunition of justice — the armor of righteousness." A King aide said they probably would return to Philadelphia Thursday.

A hostile crowd of cursing whites hurled firecrackers and insults at King Tuesday when he stood on the Neshoba County Courthouse steps here and told a Negro group: "Today, we have seen men with hatred on their faces who want to turn this country backward."

Anniversary

It was to commemorate the second anniversary of the slayings of civil rights workers James Chaney, Andy Goodman and Mickey Schwerner that King came to Philadelphia Tuesday with a contingent from the group continuing the march through Mississippi begun by James H. Meredith.

Meredith said in New York Tuesday that he would return to the march Thursday or Friday, or when the marchers arrive at Canton, Miss.

The march route returns to Highway 51 in Canton, Meredith said. It was on Highway 51 that Meredith, 33, was shot and wounded from ambush near Hernando, Miss., June 6.

"I think this is by far the worst situation I've ever been in," King said after Tuesday's violence. "This is a complete climate of terror and breakdown of law and order."

Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price — one of the 17 men the federal government claims participated in the slayings of Chaney, Goodman and Schwerner on June 21, 1964 — tried to block King from mounting the courthouse steps.

Not Afraid

"I'm not afraid of any man," King shouted as the heckling and disorder mounted. "Before I will be a slave I will be dead in my grave."

"We'll help you," screamed several white men.

While the memorial march and services were being conducted at Philadelphia the main column stepped off 16½ miles from Louise to Yazoo City — where they got a quiet reception — and set up a campsite in a Negro ballpark owned by the city.

King and other Negro leaders argued over violence and nonviolence at a nighttime rally in Yazoo City.

"If we had black sheriffs, we would have had black deputies and if there had been black deputies, there wouldn't have been trouble at Philadelphia," said Willie Ricks, a Student nonviolent Coordinating Committee official.

Ricks is an advocate of Negro militancy which he calls "black power."

Calls for Attacks

"Negroes in Mississippi will never have anything until they show black power," he exhorted. "When a white man attacks us, attack him back."

Andrew Young, executive director of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, countered: "Anybody that goes preaching violence in a situation like this is a fool. The only way we can make the streets of Mississippi safe for women and children is to make Cecil Price obey the law.

"I don't want to have to go through life having to have my big boys around me."

Then Ernest Thomas of the Militant Deacons for Defense and Justice said, "I don't believe in talking brotherly love when one man is whipping the other one. They are talking about a hot summer in Chicago, in New York, in Los Angeles. But there is going to be a hot summer in Mississippi, too.

"There's going to be no more violence on the white folks' part, because if there is, there will be blood shed in Mississippi."

Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said his organization planned to ask the federal government to send troops and federal marshals to Philadelphia.

King called for "a coalition of conscience" among the militants and the nonviolent groups. "A violence campaign is too impracticable to even think of it."

through the Negro district that a white store owner had slapped a 10-year-old Negro boy. The store owner, Arthur M. Marks, 42, was charged with assault and battery and released on $50 bond. The boy was unidentified.

Muttering crowds gathered at the store at closing time and the owner asked for police protection. Civic leaders asked the Negroes to leave. Most did, only to return later.

The crowd grew to 600 late in the evening and the mood worsened as the number of police grew.

Patrol Cars

By midnight, a six-block section of the main street, Hammondville Road, was solid with patrol cars, their red and blue lights flashing.

Reinforcements from the highway patrol, the sheriff's office and the Fort Lauderdale riot squad had built the police force to 100.

The serious trouble began when the officers were given the order to break up the crowds.

"Go home before you get hurt," officers yelled from beneath the plastic face masks on their riot helmets.

The Negroes banded together in small groups.

As police moved in with billy clubs and tear gas guns ready, the Negroes disappeared into the shadows of the dimly lit street. Then a shower of rocks and bottles sailed out of the darkness.

Twenty-four Negroes were arrested before the streets were cleared about 1:30 a.m. At least one Negro was bleeding.

Two Athletes Defect From Cuban Squad

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)— Two more Cuban athletes have defected to seek asylum in the United States as the end of the Central American and Caribbean games in San Juan draws near.

Francisco Marti Gonzales, 20, a swimmer, and Hector Rodriguez, a track man, left their team Tuesday, bringing to three the number of Cubans to defect since the games started 10 days ago. Marti said five or six others plan to defect.

Juan Pablo Vega Romero, 18, a wrestler, sought asylum June 13.

Both Marti and Rodriguez were taken to the U.S. Immigration offices by Cuban exiles. The man who aided Marti was his cousin.

Marti said he plans to live with his cousin in New York. He told a news conference he was turning his back on Fidel Castro because there is no future for a young man in Cuba. He said he tried to leave Cuba in 1961 but was denied permission.

Young People Die Raising Toll to 406

George, 66, was hospitalized at Dodgeville.

Iowa County sheriff's deputies said workmen had been patching the concrete pavement on highway three miles east of Spring Green.

Barricades were left to guard one spot where a slab had been replaced in one lane before the crew and its flagmen moved on to another segment, the deputies said. The two cars collided when one swerved to miss the barricade, investigators explained.

The toll for the weekend rose to six when a driver died in a Marshfield hospital Monday of injuries suffered in a two-car crash Sunday on Highway 12-16 near Camp Douglas in Juneau County. The victim was identified by the State Highway Patrol as Robert A. Hutchinson, 40, of Grand Marsh in Adams County.

Witness Says Dodd Took Trip To Help Klein

mittee to conduct its current probe after columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson published various charges against him. Boyd has acknowledged that he turned over thousands of documents from the senator's files to the columnists.

In a series of columns Pearson and Anderson pictured Dodd as serving as "an errand boy" for Klein, delivering Senate speeches ghost-written by Klein and making a special trip to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, has denied these and other charges and filed a $2 million libel suit against the columnists. Klein, a retired Army major general who has been active in Republican politics, also has denied the charges.

Dodd has said he welcomes the investigation.

The committee voted unanimously Tuesday to call Klein to testify at its public hearings. But chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said Klein's appearance may be delayed because he now is in Europe and customarily travels by ship rather than by plane.

Dodd, who sat in on two days of closed hearings held by the committee preceding the open hearings, said he also will testify but does not know when.

20-Acre Plot Annexed By Appleton

Land for Warehouse Was Formerly In Grand Chute

Appleton's size was increased by 20 acres Tuesday night when the city council approved the annexation petition of Appleton Warehousing, Inc. and Baldwin Co.

The owners intend to construct a large warehouse on the land which was formerly a part of the Town of Grand Chute.

The land was annexed by ordinance through a unanimous vote of the council. It is on the west side of Lynndale Drive next to the railroad tracks.

In a separate action earlier in the day, a group of Outagamie County Board members met with the council's public safety committee to discuss the "courthouse area parking problem."

The committee finally agreed to recommend four-hour parking limitations for angle parking spaces surrounding the courthouse. At the same time, aldermen suggested the county consider obtaining off-street parking.

Fall Dedication Services are scheduled for the new $115,000 Appleton Bible Chapel. Construction started in the fall of 1965. First Service Set in New Bible Chapel

The first services in the new $115,000 Appleton Bible Chapel, 2600 N. Mason St., are scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m.

Speaking at the service will be Gavin Hamilton, Chicago, lecturer and author of religious books.

The structure of colonial design seats about 250 persons and has a fireside room for youth and 12 Sunday school rooms.

Architects were Walgren, Rheimer and Larson of Chicago. Contractors included Utschig and Sons, general; August Winter and Sons, plumbing and heating, and Hewitt Electric Service, electric.

Former location of the chapel was the corner of Drew Street and E. Wisconsin Avenue. For the past year and a half the congregation has been meeting in the Odd Fellows Hall.

2 Hurt in Accidents

Vehicle Strikes Utility Pole; Car, Motorbike Collide

A motorbike rider and an Appleton motorist were injured in accidents late Tuesday afternoon and early today.

John Blick, 44, 235 E. Marquette St., received nose and face injuries about 12:50 a.m. today when the car he was driving left N. Richmond Street in the 1700 block and struck a utility pole.

Details of the accident were not known this morning. Blick was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance. The left front of the car was damaged, according to Appleton police.

Slid Into Car

Michael Neuman, 16, 336 E. Pershing St., received cuts and bruises to his arms and right side about 6:05 p.m. Tuesday when his motorbike was involved in a collision with a car in front of 1602 E. Randall St.

Driver of the car was Clarence E. Gollnow, 51, who was about to turn into his driveway when the accident occurred.

Police said Neuman was westbound on Randall and his machine tipped over when he applied his brakes to stop for the Neuman car. He slid into the car.

Swimmers Say $64 Taken From Clothing

Eighteen young persons reported a total of $64.70 missing from clothing in the bathhouse at the Riverview Country Club pool Tuesday night.

In addition, one person was missing a cigarette lighter and another a bath towel.

Amounts of money stolen ranged from 35 cents to $17. The pool was being used for a private swimming party from 10 to 11 p.m., police were told.

The bathhouse was not locked when the thefts occurred, police said.

Seek Extradition of Chicago Fugitive

Winnebago Roadblock Nabs Man Charged After Call Girl Raids

A 33-year-old Chicago man, wanted by Illinois and federal authorities on charges growing out of a raid last October on alleged call girl centers on Chicago's northside, was tentatively scheduled to be brought into Outagamie County Court Branch 2 this afternoon for an extradition hearing.

Frank Moriello, 33, a part-time dock hand in Chicago, is being held in Outagamie County jail on federal fugitive charges.

He was captured Monday night on State 21, just east of Omro, by Winnebago County, Omro and Winneconne authorities. Lawmen apprehended Moriello after they set up a roadblock.

The Chicago man was charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for allegedly conspiring to solicit prostitution, according to William Martin, assistant state's attorney in Illinois.

$25,000 Bond

Moriello was brought before Federal Court Commissioner Patrick F. Couglin who set bond at $25,000. The Illinois man is in jail in lieu of posting bond.

Illinois authorities this morning said that Moriello and four other men were indicted Oct. 1. They were arrested during raids on what authorities described as crime syndicate operated call girl centers.

The state's attorney's office said they had information that Moriello has been "traveling all over the country" since his indictment. Authorities said he never returned to his home.

It was learned that he "has no record to speak of."

A warrant was issued for Moriello May 23 by a U. S. commissioner in Chicago. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in this area also worked on the case.

Winnebago County Sheriff Marvin Peppler said his lawmen were notified by Waupaca authorities that Moriello was in the area. Peppler said Moriello was alone when he was taken into custody. He offered no resistance. The Chicago man's car reportedly contained a considerable amount of fishing gear and other sporting goods.

Meanwhile Martin said in Chicago this morning that if Moriello waives extradition, Illinois authorities will pick him up in Appleton.

"Even if he does not waive extradition, we will seek his retur nthrough the governor's office," Martin said.

Council Okays Land Swap, Clears Way for New Span

Major Projects Now Assured For Appleton

Transaction Wins Approval at Special Meeting

Several major city and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. projects were assured Tuesday night when the common council gave solid support to a series of property exchanges and purchases.

The action, taken at a special meeting called by Mayor Clarence Buckley, will have direct and indirect tie-ins with:

—Building a $1 million addition to the existing city water treatment plant in the "industrial flats".

—Construction of a proposed multi-million dollar bridge over the Fox River parallel with Oneida Street, adding another traffic-moving link to and from the central city, and a downtown interchange.

Old Fire Station

—Planned expansion of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. service center and administrative offices on the old fire station site at Oneida and Washington Streets.

—Major relocation and expansion of the utility's storage yard and warehousing facilities on a 20-acre site in the municipal industrial park on the southwest side.

The purchase agreement, recommended by the board of public works and its negotiating committee, was referred back to the board without comment last week. Wednesday night aldermen approved the package by a 16-2 vote.

In response to questioning by Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd), the water treatment plant superin-

75,000 Gallons Daily

Missing Erb Pool Water Still Puzzles Officials

City and recreation department officials are at a loss in pinpointing the 75,000 gallon loss of water from the Erb Park Pool daily.

However, it won't have any effect on the daily swimming program which attracted more than 2,600 youngsters and adults Tuesday as 80-degree weather put in a long-awaited appearance in the Fox Cities.

Earlier in the week, a water department spokesman said the pool, which has a 600,000 gallon capacity, has used up well over 2 million gallons since opening a week ago.

"Better and Worse"

Louis Precourt, who is in charge of the municipal pools, said today the water leakage problem at Erb has been "better and worse" over the past four to five years.

He said it wasn't caused by cracks in the pool foundation, because maintenance crews repair them before the start of every swimming season. "We applied about 12 gallons of rubber base caulking compound," Precourt explained.

Precourt said several tests have been made in recent years to pin down the source of the leak.

Backwash Pool

"Sometimes when we backwash the pool (using about 50,000 gallons) in a day or two we suddenly pick up that many gallons from practically out of nowhere," Precourt said.

Dyes have been put in the piping but they usually end up in the main drain line which could leak and be the cause of the trouble, according to Precourt.

However, checking out the main, which has four underground pipes leading to it, would require tearing up most of the bottom of the pool, including the "island" area, he said.

"We have been putting in an awful lot of maintenance hours and hope someone can help us come up with a solution for the problem," Precourt said.

Committee Recommends Study, Tests

Machinery is in motion to consider building a new high-level bridge across the Fox River in the general area of Oneida Street, providing a new gateway to Appleton's central city.

The city council's street-sanitation committee has recommended a study of the proposed multi-million dollar project, Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), committee chairman and council president, disclosed Tuesday night.

Pointer made his announcement during a special meeting of the council after agreement was reached to purchase two homes on Prospect Avenue from the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. as part of a land and property package between the city and utility.

Preliminary Studies

"The committee has met and will be asking the council to approve preliminary studies and the making of foundation tests for the bridge which would extend over Oneida Street," Pointer said.

The actual committee recommendation will not come before the council until its regular meeting July 5.

The two acres on which the homes are situated would be used for bridge right-of-way.

The bridge, No. 2 priority in the city's comprehensive plan, recently received the approval of the Project 85 Committee of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce. Because of the amount of planning and engineering work required for such a project, 1969 would be a tentative starting date for construction.

Municipal Improvements

No. 1 on the city's list of municipal improvements recommended by St. Louis firm of Harland Bartholomew and Associates is reconstruction of College Avenue and rejuvenation of the central business area.

There has been almost general agreement another bridge is needed over the Fox River to handle the traffic in Appleton. The proposed new span would take the excessive traffic loads off the existing bridges which frequently are used at peak capacity.

Rough estimates place the cost of a high-level structure across the Fox at $5.5 million.

The bridge study group of the Project 85 Committee recommended the Oneida Street

Firm Completing Plans For Parking Structure

Appleton Officials Push Acquisition of Land For Facility Adjoining Soldiers Square

Construction plans for the Soldiers Square parking structure are being completed by a Detroit consulting firm and should be in the hands of city officials within a few weeks.

In the meantime, the city is moving along with its plans to acquire some properties adjoining Soldiers Square through negotiations and condemnation.

Jurisdictional offers have been prepared for service on three owners. The city presently owns about 60 per cent of the land needed for constructing the 450-car ramp which will be the first municipal off-street facility south of College Avenue.

Rough Estimate

A rough estimate is that the ramp -- to be bounded by the Square, Appleton, Lawrence and Morrison streets -- will cost about $1 million.

It is planned to advertise for bids once the council okays final plans. City officials say buildings on some of the property being acquired will have to be razed, causing delay, but hope to have construction underway this summer.

City Clerk Elden Broehm, acting on the authorization of the council, is advertising for razing bids.

Some Optimism

There has been some optimism in governmental circles that the city will be able to have possession of the properties by mid-July.

City Atty. David Geenen is handling the legal details.

Mayor George Buckley, chairman of the land acquisition committee and board of public works, says he wants everything connected with the project expedited, pointing out the ramp will have to be up before College Avenue can be reconstructed.

Lighting System

Regarding reconstruction, the council's public safety committee Tuesday indicated it plans to recommend the street lighting system be placed on College Avenue when it is rebuilt in the spring of 1967.

In another development related to the central business district plans, the parking commission has been asked to remove parking meters on the south side of the existing Soldiers Square parking lot so construction of the new ramp will not be hindered.

College Students Find Summer Jobs in K-C Mills

More than 140 college students are working this summer in Kimberly-Clark Corporation Fox Cities mills to earn money to help finance their education.

In addition, 20 permanent production workers have been added to the payroll of the Neenah mill, according to Fred Hollenbeck, mill manager.

Fifty-nine of the students hired worked in the mills during past summers.

All of the students are sons and daughters of Kimberly-Clark employes. They will be filling in during vacations of regular workers on production jobs, materials handling and packaging. Some will be doing summer cleanup work. A few of the girls at one mill are in the stenographic department.

One requirement for employment is that they are college students who intend to continue their education, or are high school graduates registered to enter college.

Ten of the students are in graduate school and are employed in research and engineering.

Thieves Take $445 From Pizza Palace

The fourth major theft of money this month was reported to Appleton police Tuesday afternoon.

About $445, including $76 in change, was taken from the Pizza Palace, 815 W. College Ave. The loss was discovered about 2:15 p.m. by Frank Pierri, Pizza Palace owner, who said the building was vacant for about two hours after noon.

The missing money was in a bank bag on a cabinet shelf. The cabinet was broken into, but police said there did not appear to have been a forcible entry into the building.

Police still are working on thefts earlier in the month at Dag's Drive-in, Doering's Super Valu and Appleton Pharmacy. A total of more than $1,100 was taken from the three business places.

Man Charged With Robbery

$10,000 Bond Set In Monday Holdup Of Bar in Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — Bond of $10,000 has been set for Eugene Archer, 41, no permanent address, charged this morning with the armed robbery Monday night of Pinno's Bar, 702 Oregon St.

Archer had asked for time to consult an attorney. Court proceedings are scheduled to resume Monday.

Arraignment of Archer's woman companion was expected this afternoon. Police said she would be charged with being an accessory to robbery and with forgery.

The pair was arrested at a bar in Fond du Lac Tuesday night by Fond du Lac detectives after another Oshkosh couple they had contacted notified Oshkosh police. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac police collaborated in making the arrest. The arresting officers said Archer offered no resistence.

Authorities claim the woman purchased the .22 caliber pistol used in the armed robbery with a forged check.

Pinno's Tavern was held up shortly after 11 p.m. Monday with the robber obtaining about $50. The bartender recognized the holdup man and gave his description to police.

State Veterans

Stordock Nominated For Honor at King

WAUPACA — G. H. Stordock, former commandant of the Grand Army Home at King and a leader in state veterans organizations, has been nominated to have one of the new buildings being constructed at the home named in his honor.

The nomination came at the annual state convention of Disabled American Veterans Sunday at Fond du Lac.

New Structures

A new central service building is under construction at the home and a new $2.5 million nursing care home will be started later this summer.

Myhra is chairman of the Assembly veterans and military affairs committee, and the resolution was in recognition of Stordock's efforts in behalf of legislation pertaining to veterans of all wars and their dependents.

Stordock has been legislative director of the Wisconsin Veterans Council since 1961. He also was active during World War II in the same capacity and was largely responsible for legislation enacted at that time for veterans of WW II. Following the Korean conflict he promoted similar legislation.

Firemen Aid Woman

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called to 224 E. Winnebago St., at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday to assist Mrs. Mary Thompson, 74, who fell from a chair. Firemen remained at the home until a doctor arrived.

New Power Source for Fox Valley

Nuclear Plant Also Generates Revenue

The new $60 million nuclear plant, which will be constructed by the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. in the Town of Twin Creeks, Manitowoc County, will have an annual operating payroll of more than one-half million dollars, members of the Appleton Rotary Club were told Tuesday.

Speaking on "Nuclear Power for the Fox Valley," was Daniel Sullivan, of the Wisconsin-Michigan employe training department, who presented some statistics on the plant which will be completed by early 1970.

"Nuclear costs are competitive," he said. "We would not be building a nuclear plant if they were not."

Conserve Fossil Fuel

It must also be remembered that they are safe and will conserve fossil fuel, he said. "This is important due to the increased demand for coal, oil and gas which has caused us in many instances to make use of lower grade resources."

Sullivan also stressed that there will be no government subsidy of any sort for the new plant, because the plant will not be an experimental reactor, for which subsidies are primarily provided.

"The new plant will employ an average of 500 persons during construction with a top of 700; will require three years to build and when completed will have a plant force of about 60" he said.

$1.5 Million Taxes

The plant wil pay $1.5 million in state and local taxes and of this amount, $800,000 will be returned to the county and community, he said.

Giving an overall picture of the nuclear plant situation, Sullivan said that there now are 13 plants in operation in the U.S. and six major commercial plants now under construction.

In 1964 about 1 per cent of the total U.S. generating capacity was nuclear; by 1970 it should be from 10 to 15 per cent; by the 1980's, 30 to 40 per cent and by 2,000, 50 per cent, he said.

Lists Advantages

He also listed some advantages of such a plant. "The future holds several possibilities for cost reductions for both nuclear and coal plants with increased scientific knowledge and increased competition," he said.

With a nuclear plant there will be no air pollution problems such as exists at fossil fuel plants, Sullivan added.

"There are a few pounds of waste daily within the fuel but this is collected by water purification and air filter systems" he said.

Safety Advantage

Safety was also listed as an advantage. "A bomb-like explosion is a physical impossibility because of the type of fuel used and the design principles built into the reactor.

"The fuel that is used in our nuclear reactor is only 2 to 3 per cent fissionable. An atomic bomb contains more than 90 per cent fissionable fuel rods," he said.

There have been no nuclear accidents and no known violations of the Atomic Energy Commission regulations, Sullivan added.

2 Conditions Attached To Airport Grant Not Problem, Counsel Says

$973,420 Grant to Winnebago For Jet Strip Construction

OSHKOSH — Conditions imposed on the $973,450 Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) grant to Winnebago County for construction of jet airline facilities at its airport are not expected to threaten quick action on the project, Gerald Engeldinger, county corporation counsel said today.

A groundwork of information will be laid and project plans discussed at a 7 p.m. meeting today of the board's aviation committee.

Engeldinger said he will present all information on the project at the meeting and the committee will then discuss and decide how much money to provide and the methods by which the project will be financed.

FAA officials are expected to meet with county officials sometime next week to see the situation in Oshkosh "first hand". This will give both agencies (federal and county) a better general understanding of what the grant and the project consists, Engeldinger said.

The provisions state: first, that the existing control tower be relocated to conform with the alignment of the new runway. The federal grant does not include funds for such a relocation, but may be obtained later. Rep. John Race said Tuesday, and second, that the new 6,700 foot runway be aligned more to the south, thereby eliminating noise problems in the city of Oshkosh.

T. K. Jordan, State Aeronautics Commission director, said he has not yet received word from FAA on an exact date they would meet in Oshkosh to discuss alignment problems.

Home Builders First Victims Of Tight Money

Antiinflation Policy Backers See No Cause for Worry

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders of homes contend they're the first victims of tight money. Consumers who buy on the installment plan might be the second. And some businessmen say they're worried lest their plans for expansion be cramped.

But supporters of the policy to fight inflation by holding a tighter rein on credit doubt if there'll be any great or lasting deterrent in the plans of many now regarded as possible victims.

The theory is that tight credit in itself isn't the sole cause for the home building downturn. Nor does today's moderate curb on credit seem likely to inhibit consumer spending or business plans. Other factors usually weigh much more with consumers and corporate directors than does the amount of interest charges. And if credit is tight, many have savings or other assets upon which to draw.

Someone to Suffer

But even the staunchest defenders of monetary restraint don't deny that someone is likely to get hurt.

And home builders have the statistics right now that seems to back their contentions that their industry is suffering.

The Commerce Department says that in May, when money was noticeably tightening, the starting of new homes dropped by 13 per cent. This brought it to the lowest rate since January 1963.

The housing industry had been having its troubles for at least two years, with only an occasional upswing that turned out to be temporary. It still expects another push upward when the big crop of postwar babies marries, starts families — and commands the income to pay for new homes, however humble. Some in the industry had felt that the big postwar demand for housing had been met and that the last two years of quiet was only a normal prelude to the expected pickup in the next few years.

New Twist

But now tight money is giving a new twist to all conjectures. Potential home buyers often are finding it hard this year to get a mortgage because the usual lenders don't have available funds.

Other segments of the construction industry are still booming. Office and commercial buildings, business plants and equipment are still putting a pressure on most material supplies and labor.

Instalment loan charges are going up in some areas. But consumer buying hesitation now seems to be little influenced by higher interest.

What is worrying some of the public is whether all the talk about tight money and maybe higher taxes to beat inflation really means that the economy is in danger. Put specifically, they're wondering about their jobs, their paychecks, and about all the uncertainties which the speedup in the Viet Nam war implies.

The stock market's hesitancy also probably deters as many people from taking on new financial obligations as does any tightness in money and credit.

The monetary authorities wouldn't have put the moderately tighter money policy into effect if they hadn't wanted it to choke off some of the more risky loans, and to cool down some of the speculative fever.

But they still say it shouldn't cause any real slump in consumer spending or any but a temporary crimp in business expansion plans.

One of the Training Units now in the second week of summer drill at Camp McCoy is the 84th Division unit headquartered at the reserve armory in Menasha. Here members of the unit lecture guardsmen on care of a rifle. Sheriffs Association Presidency Withdraws

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County, Ala., has withdrawn as a candidate for president of the National Sheriffs' Association.

Clark made the announcement at Tuesday's session of the NSA convention and then nominated Sheriff T. Ralph Grimes of Fulton County (Atlanta), Ga., for the post.

Clark, as first vice president, would traditionally have received the top position.

NSA President Martin J. Ferber of Hackensack, N.J., said Clark withdrew because of "uncertainty of his tenure in office" in Dallas County, where the sheriff has been a symbol of resistance to racial integration.

Clark was defeated in his bid for the Democratic nomination for sheriff in a May 3 primary.

Neenah Can Buy Post Office for $1

NEENAH — City officials have been given an extended deadline to submit plans to the General Service Administration (GSA) on possible uses for the government surplus post office building.

Neenah has until July 15, an extension of 15 days, to decide if they will buy the building, determine what they would use it for and to submit an intent of such a development to the GSA.

Declared government surplus last week, the post office building has been offered to city and county governments in two ways:

Fairchild Boosted for Federal Court

Recommended for Vacancy on Seventh Circuit Court

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Prospects of appointment of Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice Thomas E. Fairchild to a federal court post in Chicago have been boosted by his fellow lawyers.

Fairchild was among five persons recommended Tuesday for appointment to fill the vacancy on the U.S. Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals.

The State Bar of Wisconsin submitted to President Johnson the names of Fairchild, Circuit Judge Richard Orton of Lancaster, and three attorneys, including a former state president of the bar.

Fairchild has already been endorsed by both Sens. William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., for appointment to succeed Judge F. Ryan Duffy, 77, Milwaukee, who is retiring from the federal appeal bench July 1.

Fairchild, 53, is a former Wisconsin attorney general and twice was Democratic nominee for U.S. senator. First elected to the State Supreme Court in 1956, he was reelected in April without opposition for another 10-year term to start next January.

Recommended with Fairchild and Orton were Milwaukee attorneys Marvin E. Klitsner and John Kluwin and former State Bar president Francis Wilcox, an Eau Claire attorney.

Youths Jailed, Fined For Possessing Beer

Two 18-year-old Appleton youths received brief jail sentences and fines Tuesday afternoon after they pleaded guilty of possessing beer off a licensed premise.

Roy C. Krause, 835 W. Grant St., and Richard A. Kramer, 817 S. Kernan Ave., were sentenced to jail until 9:30 a.m. Thursday and drew fines of $50 and costs each or 24 days in jail.

They were arrested Friday in Kimberly by Outagamie County authorities and appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Move to Sell Racine Park Downed in Council Vote

MENASHA — In a showdown vote Tuesday by the common council on the sale of the Racine Street Park site, aldermen supporting a delay advised by Mayor Kenneth Holmes outnumbered the opposition led by Ald. Walter Remmel by 7 to 5.

Remmel called for adoption of a resolution that would have put the controversial park land up for sale under terms suggested by Milwaukee real estate developer James Callan. Aug. 1 would have been the date for reading purchase offers, followed Aug. 2 by council acceptance or rejection of the top offer.

Holmes had appeared to support the proposal until his unheralded move Tuesday night. He told the council he believed the $115,000 minimum sale price, listed upon Remmel's request in the resolution, was too low. Holmes added that Jerry Pollak, planner for Victor Gruen Associates, will attend a Menasha Redevelopment Authority meeting July 6, and the mayor recommended seeking Pollak's opinion on the advisability of a commercial development on the site.

Ald. Ernest Koerner, who has long been publicly in favor of using the Racine Street site for municipal building purposes, reported he had spoken with Callan by telephone just prior to the council meeting. Callan "advised me to vote against" the sale resolution, Koerner said. He said the developer had given "a lot of reasons." A passing truck on Main Street drowned out part of Koerner's argument.

Alds. William Erickson and Robert Probst both rose to say they had favored the sale arrangement when Remmel asked to have the resolution drawn up at Monday night's council committee meeting. But both said later they had been swayed by the mayor's arguments and would oppose the resolution.

Probst advised Remmel, "This resolution will be defeated," and asked the Second Ward alderman to withdraw his motion until after the July meeting with the planner.

Dane County Village To Give Support to Smasher at Stoughton

MADISON (AP) — Officials and community leaders of the village of Oregon in Dane County planned to officially record their support today for location of an atomic accelerator at nearby Stoughton.

A resolution backing the project was scheduled to be given to the University of Wisconsin President Fred Harvey Harrington. The university figures prominently in efforts to locate the proposed $375 million facility.

Plan Studied For Change In Courthouse

OSHKOSH — A new courthouse annex will probably be recommended to the Winnebago County Board as a means of solving space problems in the courthouse.

The board's Special Building Remodeling and Renovating Committee Tuesday night eliminated as economically unfeasible, proposals to subdivide present courtrooms or to build an addition to the courthouse to create additional space.

Studies and planning for a new annex, on the site now occupied by the Geer-Murry Building Annex, will continue with the committee making a progress report to the board Thursday.

Robert Yarbro, of Sandstedt Knoop-Yarbro, consulting architects for the county, told the committee that horizontally dividing the present courtrooms would create unusable expensive rooms and that adding to the courthouse would be "the most expensive space the county could build."

Forced Retirement Veto Override To be Attempted

NEENAH — Several aldermen indicated this morning they will attempt to override Mayor Carl Loehning's veto of an ordinance which makes mandatory retirement at the age of 65.

However, action will probably be delayed at the July 6 council meeting until members of the finance committee study the mayor's objections.

Loehning exercised his veto powers Tuesday for the second time in his career when he turned down the ordinance approved by an 8-1 vote at the June 15 council meeting.

The mayor said he felt "more latitude" should be given in the ordinance and council members should decide on the merits of retaining a city employe after he has reached his 65th birthday.

The ordinance for non-elected officers and city employes was to go into effect on Sept. 30, 1967.

Menasha Tot Rushed to Hospital After Drink Of Charcoal Starter

MENASHA — An 18-month-old boy was listed in satisfactory condition today in Theda Clark Memorial Hospital after drinking charcoal lighter fluid shortly before midnight Tuesday.

Police intercepted a call to firemen and sent a squad car to rush the boy, Thomas Schnell, to the hospital. Officers were told the boy, son of Mrs. Alice Schnell, 329 Second St., was in the care of a babysitter.

The sitter told officers she saw the boy drink from the container and gave him milk as an antidote. When he began falling asleep on the floor, she became frightened, police said. The woman caller who telephoned firemen was unidentified.

Strong Measure

Auto Safety Bill Okayed By Commerce Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — An auto safety bill stronger than President Johnson originally asked has been approved unanimously by the Senate Commerce Committee. It goes to the Senate floor where leaders hope for passage before the July 4th holiday.

The committee's bill directs the secretary of commerce to issue interim safety standards next year for 1968 models and to put permanent mandatory standards into effect a year later.

Johnson had proposed legislation giving the secretary authority to issue safety standards. But administration officials working with the committee said they had agreed to the stronger version.

The bill also is stiffer than proposals made by the auto industry.

The bill is expected to clear the Senate with almost no difficulty. But a companion highway safety measure scheduled for consideration at the same time could touch off a floor battle.

The highway safety bill as approved by the Public Works Committee would authorize $375 million to help states and cities develop more effective accident prevention programs. Some senators contend not enough money is provided by the measure. A floor fight to broaden it is likely.

Land Swap Approved, Way Cleared for Bridge

bridge be built after the reconstruction of College Avenue and before development of a proposed civic center in the heart of the city

The present South Oneida Street bridge would remain to serve localized traffic requirements in Appleton's industrial flats

At present according to updated traffic counts the four existing bridges at S Memorial Drive S Lawe Street S Oneida Street and E College Avenue handle a peak hourly flow of about 2 360 vehicles

75 Per Cent

About 75 per cent of the traffic load is on the Memorial Drive, S Oneida and Lawe Street spans

The bridge study group pointed out a bridge at the S Oneida Street location would benefit the central business district considerably more than a structure at some other point

Long range plans call for the downtown improvements and proposed civic center to be the focal point of the Fox Cities region

An important portion of the major street and highway plan prepared by Harland and Bartholomew Associates for Appleton relates to improved traffic service for vehicles crossing the Fox River and then recommends the new Oneida Street bridge

The approach for the bridge from the south would begin at Orange Oneida Streets and an improved connection to Appleton and Oneida Streets is recommended to the north according to consultants

The 1985 traffic assignment indicates the minimum cross section for the new Oneida Street bridge should provide for four traffic lanes ' they said

City, Power Firm to Make Series of Property Switches

tendent Dr William Gallaher said the additional land will enable the utility to expedite final plans and construction of much needed treatment facilities

Winnebago Pipeline

The plant addition will be done in conjunction with the city's plan to construct a pipeline to Lake Winnebago for its water supply until other communities in the region concur in forming a cooperative utility to building a line to Lake Michigan in 10 to 15 years

Dr Gallaher was asked what role if any the present water being taken from the polluted Fox River had with regard to health

We have always had safe water but it has been chemically treated extensively ' Gallaher said resulting in unusual taste and claims by some that it did not appear to be palatable

Gallaher said Appleton is at the critical point regarding water supply pointing out the present treatment plant can handle a 13 million gallon capacity and has reached the maximum output periodically in recent years

Emergency Restrictions

He recalled that on the last Saturday in June 1964 the treatment plant was about 1 million gallons behind the projected demand during a warm spell making it necessary to impose emergency restrictions

I would say our most critical point will be reached this year or next for sure due to the increased consumption and demand for water Gallaher added He did not preclude the chance of restrictions again

Gallaher said the treatment plant is presently carrying a tremendous pollution load from the Fox and predicted The pollution will drop considerably when we actually start taking our water directly from Lake Winnebago

Gallaher said he made the statement to erase any doubt in the minds of residents that Lake Winnebago water would in effect be the same as that taken out of the Fox River emphasizing there was a significant difference

Vote Against Swap

Alds Clifford Ridger (16th) and Al Stoegbauer (4th) cast the two votes against the city power company transaction

In effect the package cost the city $112 000 plus the fire station property

However it will recoup the cash outlay when the Appleton Water Department—a separate utility—now buys the land in the flats from the city

In addition Gallaher and Robert DeLand water commission chairman said the tank on the power company property is actually worth $50 000 and will be used for future water storage purposes

DeLand said long range plans of the commission call for relocating the water department office and equipment station from its present downtown location to the flats

'Seen Better Years"

'That water standpipe on Washington and Walnut has seen its better years and you can't expect it to stand up forever either DeLand commented

He said with acquisition of the power Company's old gas plant property the water department would have enough land now with its present holdings to construct additional facilities which would enable Appleton to produce and treat 43 to 47 million gallons of water a day

If you talk about relocating the present treatment plant it would cost millions and millions of dollars DeLand cautioned

The difference in the various property values listed by appraisers hired by the power company and the city separately added up to about $500 when considering the entire transaction

Industrial Park

Last year the power company bought 20 acres in the industrial park for $87 000 making it necessary for the city to seek another site for the new municipal garage Approximately 30 acres were obtained from Outagamie County at the old airport lot about $68 000

Power company officials have said the city could take immediate possession of the land it will require for the treatment plant addition adding there will be a gradual phasing out of other property the city obtained in the deal

No indication was given as to when the downtown expansion program would get underway

The city intends to proceed with plant addition and water pipeline this summer the project being financed through long-term revenue bonds

Lloyd Koehnke Jr. Gets Post on Temporary Basis

Lloyd E Koehnke Jr 34 was appointed acting director of the Appleton Recreation Department by the Parks and Recreation Commission at its meeting Tuesday

Koehnke who has been with the department for 10 years the last six as sports supervisor will fill a vacancy created by the resignation of R W Grover He will serve until the commission appoints a permanent director

The commission has until Sept 1 to fill the post Appointment will be made based on qualifications established recently by the city council in the reorganization of the park and recreation departments

Koehnke's appointment was recommended by Mayor George Buckley

Permanent Director

Ald Arthur Mueller (19th) commission member said the commission should appoint Koehnke as permanent director but several other members said this could not be done due to the recent ordinance passed by the council

The ordinance establishes qualifications which must be met by job applicants including a college education Applicants must take written and oral examinations

Several aldermen have introduced a resolution recommending the deletion of the college education as a qualification for the job

Several commission members noted that while the stipulation stands Koehnke would not be able to apply for the job

10 Years Experience

'Ten years experience is worth more than a college education, Mueller commented

The possibility of amending the ordinance to read or the equivalent of a college education was suggested by some of the members

The resolution regarding deletion of the college education requirement was tabled until the next meeting

Reliance Construction Co Sheboygan won the contract for 12 miles of bituminous surfacing on State 57 in Chilton in Calumet County and on U S 151 in Manitowoc County for a bid of $287 078

Bids for projects in 23 counties totaled $10 328 451 Included were two projects in Milwaukee County that will run over $2 million apiece

Union Objects To Garnishment Clause in Contract

KAUKAUNA A city employes union representative appearing Tuesday before an unofficial meeting of the board of public works asked that a clause in the union contract concerning garnishments be stricken from the pact

The contract states that first garnishment proceedings will result in a warning and a second proceeding in discharge The union spokesman said union members had never agreed to such a clause

Board members indicated the clause may have been inserted as a result of a misunderstanding The matter had been discussed for many years they said and agreed to reconsider the issue at the next regular board meeting

Chilton Co-Op Garage Burns in Tuesday Fire

Two-Truck Structure Owned by Station Totally Demolished

CHILTON — A two truck garage owned by the Co Op Service Oil Co station on E Grant Street was razed by fire about 5 40 p m Tuesday

The fire appeared to have originated in the ruins of the adjacent old Lunde building which burned several years ago Fire Chief Nobert Sturm said

Co op spokesman said the west wall of the co ops seed storage building located next to the garage was burned Seed valued at $3 000 was lost

The entire city volunteer fire department was called out in the effort to contain the blaze The co op mill and a private seed company also are located nearby

Unloading Car

The blaze was noticed by workers who were unloading a railroad freight car of feed between the mill and burning garage They reported hearing a series of explosions from the garage when notifying the fire department

Sturm said the freight car saved the mill from being destroyed Firemen were able to keep it covered by water and prevented the blaze from spreading further

About a half ton of feed in the car was destroyed by the heat The wall of the car facing the fire was badly warped

Intense Heat

Co op mill workers had to discontinue unloading the car because of intense heat

Two trucks normally stored in the garage were removed before the structure collapsed An old car stored there was lost

Sturm said the department brought the blaze under control in 20 minutes but firemen remained at the scene for two hours to prevent a flareup from the smoldering ruins

Assessments Set for Kaukauna Residential, Commercial Land

KAUKAUNA — An assessment rate of $5.50 per foot for residential property frontage and $7.75 per foot for commercially zoned property on Arthur, Blackwell and Division streets was set Tuesday night by the common council.

No objections were received at a Monday night public hearing on rates in connection with concrete surfacing and installing curb and gutter on the streets.

The council also proposed a $5.16 rate for residential property and $7.71 for commercial property on Plank Road and Green Bay Road for similar work.

The street surfacing in this area is of higher quality, since it is a joint project with the state. A public hearing on assessment charges was set for 6:30 p.m. July 18 after which the rates will be officially adopted.

Investigate Possibility

A motion to investigate the possibility of securing information on the cost and feasibility of hiring a labor negotiator for the city deadlocked five-to-five in an aldermanic vote.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon indicated he would make his decision in writing and break the tie at the next council session.

Aldermen voted to remove County Trunk Z from Crooks Avenue to the west city limits from the federal secondary road system but to retain it as part of the county trunk system.

Aldermen also learned that Bayorgeon has requested the county to include County Trunk Z from Crooks Avenue to Kankapot Creek on the 1967 road improvement program.

Objection Letters

Letters of objection from Harold Kiffe on assessment charges on Blackwell and Ducharme streets were referred to the board of public works for study.

He indicated objection to the Blackwell Street on the basis of two assessments within 11 years and on Ducharme since the land assessed was not improved by the street and is of no value.

A council ruling that proof of financial responsibility for bidders on public works projects may be waived at council discretion, will be sent to legal counsel representing a bidder.

The attorney had filed an objection since in a recent bid letting the low and successful bidder failed to file proof until several days after bids were opened.

Improve Streets

An offer by Mrs. Helen Garrison to sell property adjacent to Riverside Park to the city at a cost of $2,300 was referred to the finance committee for study. Mrs. Garrison had previously offered the property to the city for $2,500.

Aldermen voted to begin a program of loosening, oiling and chipping three miles of city streets, with assistance from the county, to determine whether the program should be continued on all streets.

Temporary heating units were approved for the sewage disposal plant pending complete remodeling of the structure, but a study on costs is to be prepared for the board of public works prior to final adoption of the proposal.

The engineer was instructed to contact the board of education to determine whether grading and graveling could be done on St. Mary's Place and Ann Street as part of the school board's landscaping project at the new Quinney School.

Cost of the street work would be done under the school contract and billed back to the city.

Council Alters Voting Rules At Kaukauna

Aldermen May Ask For Separate Poll Without Second

KAUKAUNA — Aldermen Tuesday night voted to change council procedures to permit an alderman to request and receive a separate vote on any question without first receiving a second for his request and council approval.

Previously an alderman could move for a separate vote on a question, but his motion had to have a second and be passed by the council before the separate vote was considered. Through the years this has irked many aldermen and led to some disagreements.

The city attorney will incorporate the decision into the official rules of the council.

A proposal to form a personnel committee for the city was held over for further study.

The city attorney was instructed to begin working with the legislative committee and police department on a truck route for the city which will be incorporated into city ordinances.

Septic Tanks

The council approved the purchase of a commercial heavy-duty lawnmower at a cost of $119 and the purchase of 20 loads of top soil for use at White City Park.

The assistant health officer was instructed to notify Cleveland Avenue residents whose homes do not have septic tanks or have inadequate systems to install septic tanks to handle sewage prior to Aug. 1, 1966.

Council members felt it was not feasible to install a sanitary system to the Cleveland Avenue area now, as the street has limited residential development and is located in a deep ravine, which would make installation of sewage lines and lift stations a costly project.

State Democrats Name New Field Director

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — John Larsen, former Mineral Point teacher and school administrator, is the new field director for the state Democratic Party organization.

The 29-year-old officer of the state party headquarters has served as chairman of the Iowa County party unit and, while a student at the University of Wisconsin a decade ago, was head of the campus chapter of the Young Democrats.

Post-Crescent Carriers Take Vacation at Shawano Lake

Twenty-six boys have taken a 3-day vacation from their Post-Crescent carrier duties to travel to Shawano Lake for a campout.

The only thing the boys will be doing that even faintly resembles work will be helping prepare two of their daily meals. The rest of their time will be spent horseback riding, swimming, rifle shooting, golfing, roller skating, playing baseball and basketball, taking part in games and contests or just loafing around.

The trip was awarded to the carriers for compiling the highest numbers of total points in the paper's annual spring subscription drive.

Four district Post-Crescent managers accompanied the boys on their trip.

Kaukauna Youngsters Will Play 'Politics'

KAUKAUNA — City youngsters will play "politics" at the 10 city playgrounds soon.

They will elect a mayor, aldermen, clerk, treasurer, attorney, assessor and all other city offices as well as the appointive officers of chief of police and fire chief.

Plans call for city officials to visit city parks Thursday and Friday to meet their counterparts.

Purpose of the event is to acquaint youngsters with voting procedures and enable them to learn more about the governing body of a city. Playground leaders will supervise the elections.

Kaukauna Youth Fined After Cycle Mishap

LITTLE CHUTE — Robert Wettstein, 20, 807 Draper St., Kaukauna, signed a stipulation of guilt and forfeited bond of $20 at the village police station Monday after being arrested last week for disorderly conduct.

Wettstein was arrested after he drove a motor bike off the road and into a field last week. He had been drinking prior to the incident, police said.

'Honored Sir' at One Time Was Title for Dad

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you drive after taking six drinks, there's a 1-in-20 chance you'll be involved in an accident. But if you try to drive after 20 drinks, according to the American Insurance Association, it's a 50-50 gamble whether you and the car will get home safely.

Kids today may call their dad anything from "Popsy" to "hey, you." But in early New England, Puritan children addressed their father as "honored sir."

The late William Randolph Hearst was a man who didn't like to be crowded. When he went to the theater alone, he always bought two seats — one for himself, the other for his hat.

Quick Change

Some octopuses are better quick-change color artists than chameleons. In the twinkling of an eye they can switch from chocolate brown to milky white or brick red.

College boys now have less and less desire to become tired businessmen. Only 14 per cent of the 1964 graduates from Harvard took business jobs, as compared with nearly 40 per cent of those graduating five years before.

Quotable notables: "Nothing in life is to be feared. It is only to be understood" — Marie Curie.

You probably never have seen an oyster eat corn on the cob, and you probably never will. But it has been found that small amounts of cornstarch in water help growing oysters put on from 30 to 40 per cent more meat.

Prosperity Headache

Prosperity certainly has its headaches. Americans gulped enough aspirin tablets last year to provide two a week for every man, woman and child in the country.

If the United States reaches a peak population of 432 million in the year 2010 — a statistical possibility — half of all Americans will be under 25.

If you spent less than $129 for medical and dental care last year, you were healthier than the average person.

A Russian proverb advises: "Going to sea? Pray once. Going to war? Pray twice. Going to marry? Pray three times."

Folklore: You can bring bad luck to anyone by turning his picture upside down. If your house burns down and you build another in the same spot, it will burn down, too. Girls with long fingernails are likely to be spendthrifts. Eating bread crusts will make your cheeks rosy.

It was George Santayana who observed, "Those who disregard the past are bound to repeat it."

After Meeting on television's "The Mating Game" actress Joan Patrick, 23, and magazine writer Richard Warren Lewis, 33, plan to marry. He proposed 12 days after selecting her for his date from a panel of girls on the show. Miss Patrick is from Windsor, Ontario, and once was Miss Canada. (AP Wirephoto)

Peninsula Players Open 32nd Year July 2

Comedy 'Impossible Years' First Show At Theatre-in-Garden at Fish Creek

Fox Cities Theatergoers will be looking forward to the 32nd summer theater season of the Peninsula Players which opens July 2 with the comedy "The Impossible Years."

Not only is the season's playbill an outstanding one, but many of the area's favorites are back at the Fish Creek playhouse.

Appleton's James Mckenzie and his actress wife, Jeanne Bolan, are associate producers of the Players' nine-week season. The dramatic group which performs at the unusual Theatre-in-a-Garden at Fish Creek is the oldest summer theater in the state.

William Munchow, Appleton native and well-known actor during his student days with Lawrence College Theatre, will be returning in August to appear in the Broadway hit "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." Two musical production actors, Bill Koza of "South Pacific" and Richard Stadelman of "My Fair Lady," also will be on hand for the Aug. 16-Aug. 18 "Forum" production.

Other familiar faces at Fish Creek's Theatre-in-a-Garden will be returning. Jeannette Deahy, Chicago stage and television actress; Lynn Bilek, also from Chicago, who returns for her third Players season; Lorrine Vozoff of Milwaukee, a second year player, and Ely Baca, New Yorker, also back for his second season.

New This Season

New this season will be James Shannon of Evanston, Ill., a Northwestern University drama major who received his master's degree this month. Also has worked in summer stock for two years at Eagles Mere, Pa.

Returning to the Players as director is Kip Cohen who has been associated with five Broadway productions, four national touring companies and 83 touring presentations with major stars. His dramatic background also includes considerable experience with summer stock.

Charles Likar, 1964 stage manager for the Players, also will be back for the 1966 season. He is a graduate of Goodman Theater in Chicago and has worked as assistant director for this school of the drama while appearing at the Candlelight Dinner Playhouse near Chicago.

Starts 7th Season

Tom Connors begins his seventh year as general manager of the theater. Public relation director is Door County summer resident Sarah Louise Mann from Hinsdale, Ill.

Tickets are available for the season of plays at the Theatre-in-a-Garden, Peninsula Players, Fish Creek.

Students Give Recital

FREEDOM — Piano and organ students of Mrs. Weldon Huss presented a recital at her home last Thursday. Piano duets and solos were played by Mary Jean and Dan Smith, Susan Brockman, Ann Murphy and Kay Huss. Organ solos were played by Joan Garvey, Debbie Arnoldussen, Jim Greenwood and Kay Huss. Guests were the Barbara and Ann Appleton mothers of the students.

Clinton Youth Severely Burned In Explosion

BELOIT (AP) — A teenager working in a Clinton welding shop was severely burned in an explosion and flash fire Tuesday.

Donald Gabel, 16, Clinton, was listed in poor condition Tuesday night at St. Mary's Hospital Burn Center in Milwaukee.

Authorities said Gabel was working alone in a painting room of the shop at Clinton, seven miles east of here, when the blast occurred. He ran from the room as flames flashed out.

A nursing supervisor at the hospital said Gabel suffered third degree burns to the most severe type over nearly half his body. He had second degree burns over another 25 per cent of the body area, the official added.

John Gary Replaces Danny Kaye

BY TV SCOUT

9 10 — Channels 2 7 12 — The John Gary Show, the summer replacement for Danny Kaye, is predictably laced with plenty of music. The youthful singer opens belting "More" continues with "Yellow Bird" and "Georgia." His guests are Leslie Uggams who contributes a bouncy "Trolley Song" and Chad and Jeremy who ignite a swinging English song and dance session. Before it's over Danny Kaye pops in to sing and tell the story of "Alouette" and to join John in a memory game of girls from their past. (Color Premiere)

6 30 7 — Channels 11 6 9 — Batman is involved with Zelda the Great, a magician with glycerine tears and a bag of tricks. As played by Anne Baxter she is a sight to behold, swishing nimbly in blazing orange getups and needling her evil cohort, Eivol (Jack Kruschen). In desperate need of money they kidnap Batman's Aunt Harriet (Madge Blake) and hold her for $100,000 ransom. (R Color)

6 30 8 — Channels 5 — The Intruders on The Virginian provides some excellent suspense. Darren McGavin is featured as a bandit chief who takes over Shiloh Ranch and hopes to fix up an Indian war. Question here center around whether the Army and Chief Black Feather will get around to smoking a peace pipe before the Shiloh men lose their scalps. (R Color)

8-8 30 — Channels 2 7 12 — Green Acres has some funny moments when Oliver takes some of his soil to be analyzed by an agricultural college. When the results come in, he is ready to pack his bags and move back to his New York penthouse. This surprises Lisa who is finally getting used to her role as a farmer's wife. But not iron mouthed Mama who has been pouring talcum powder, cold cream and perfume into the garden. (R Color)

8 9 — Channels 4-5 — Bob Hope Presents its final new drama of the season. "In Pursuit of Excellence" a poor title for a rather weak storyline. Glenn Corbett plays a college athlete who is caught up with the cliche of making a top grade so he can (a) qualify for the big race and (b) impress his sweetheart's family. (Color)

8 9 — Channels 11-6 9 — The Big Valley has another one of its less than shattering episodes as Victoria (Barbara Stanwyck) shoulders earthquakes and child birth with equal consideration. Along with Charles Bronson and an about to give-birth Indian maiden (Alizia Gur) she is trapped in an abondoned mine. There is considerable fuss by Bronson, her former employe, and the girl who doesn't want to have a white man's child. (R Color)

8 30 9 — Channels 2 7 12 — No Rice at My Wedding on The Dick Van Dyke Show is a small classic on the subject of jealousy. Through a series of flashbacks we return to the Petries' courtin' days when Laura named Bivouac Baby in an Army beauty contest must decide between Rob (whom Millie says is "cute") and a GI (whom Millie rates as "beautiful"). (R)

9 10 — Channels 11 6 9 — Lila Hagen, one of Broadway's better actresses, make a rare television appearance on The Long, Hot Summer. She plays an old but attractive skeleton from Will Varner's past. Expect plenty of fireworks here as Miss Hagen makes the most of her role flipping around Frenchmen's Bend for the first visit in 20 years. (R)

9 10 — Channels 4 5 — I Spy again combines comedy and mystery with excellent results. Sleuths Bill Cosby and Robert Culp are out to stop the Red Chinese from testing a bubonic plague causing virus in Japan. The setting is a convention on obesity (of all things) and the interference includes Marilyn Mason, a pesky neophyte. (R Color)

Piano Pounding Child on Right Track for Musician

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hey, mom! Better let Johnny pound the piano with his fists. He's on the right track, a music expert says.

If the child can't express himself in such primitive manner, says Martha Smith, he may wind up with 90 per cent of American school children — a musical dropout.

Mrs. Smith, of the suburban Bellflower Unified School District, is in charge of a $73,330 federal pilot project to combat the musical dropout problem.

Mrs. Smith's first, second and fifth grade students bang out basic rhythms with hand drums, bells, glockenspiels and xylophones. It's noisy, but the kids love it.

"The children may divide into two groups, boys and girls, and then begin a song base on that," Mrs. Smith explains. "The song is 'boy, girl, boy, girl.'"

Keep Time

The children chant and keep musical time on the instruments, pointing first to the boys and then to the girls and singing "boy" on a low note and "girl" on a high note.

Then they learn the forms opposite. "Girl, boy, girl, boy."

This is child's play," Mrs. Smith admits, "but it uses form and style. It's not just like dancing the frug, but a ritualized and stylized organization of human expression."

The teacher who is beginning a summer extension course at the University of California at Los Angeles to instruct high school teachers in the method, bases the instruction on the Orff Schulwerk system, imported from Germany.

Traditional teaching of music is worthwhile, Mrs. Smith says, but only about 10 per cent of the children get the full benefit, the others become musical dropouts.

Dems Wooing Young Liberals In Mississippi

Move Slowly for Fear of Arousing Senator Eastland

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The hope for a genuinely bi-racial Democratic party in Mississippi now hangs by a thin but sturdy thread on the efforts of youthful white liberals and veteran Negro leaders to create a strong Young Democratic organization.

With the virtual extinction of the moderate Mississippi Democratic Conference last December, the Young Democrats have now taken up the cause of political bi-racialism. In practical effect, that means bringing Mississippi back into the national Democratic party.

The task in segregationist Mississippi is awesome and the prospect of foreseeable success small. But the mere fact that a major effort is being made is, at least, a harbinger of progress. So are signs that the national Democratic party is beginning to waver in its total opposition to anything that doesn't meet the approval of Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi.

Eastland Dominates

The national Democratic party, on White House orders, heretofore has scrupulously refused to give any support at all to genuinely bi-racial Democratic politics in Mississippi. The main reason, of course, is that Eastland, Mississippi's senior senator, still holds a hammerlock on the Senate Judiciary Committee, which passes on all of Mr. Johnson's judicial nominations.

Eastland and most other ruling Democrats in the whites-only hierarchy that runs the party in Mississippi are violently opposed to any dilution of their power. A bi-racial party consisting of more than just a few tame Negroes brought in for window-dressing would surely dilute that power and might in time destroy it.

Today, however, quiet discussions are taking place in Washington that could produce some financial support for the YD's summer organization campaign — including indirect National Committee help. Furthermore, small amounts of badly needed funds are now in sight from the Southern Regional Council, from the national AFL-CIO, and possibly from Congressmen who belong to the Democratic Study Group in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Ask For Speakers

That's not all. Nationally known Democrats are being quietly asked to come down to Mississippi and speak under YD auspices. The most recent speaker was Rep. John Brademas of Indiana, who went to college in Mississippi. Another recent visitor was Rep. Charles Weltner of Georgia, elected with heavy Negro support from his Atlanta district. A major reason for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's speech at Ole Miss several months ago was an invitation from the YDs.

Some other Democrats are less enthusiastic because of possible retaliation at the hands of big Jim Eastland.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, the liberal Texas Democrat, politely declined a YD invitation several weeks ago for that reason. Vice-President Humphrey was compelled to turn down an invitation to speak sent to him by Aaron Henry, the head of the Mississippi NAACP. Henry and the NAACP's Charles Evers are the two top Negro civil rights leaders backing the Young Democrats.

Point To 1968

In short, the door to the party's hierarchy in Washington is still almost tight shut. The hope of the Young Democrats is to force it open gradually over the next two years and, in 1968, elect delegates, white and Negro, at precinct and county conventions to the party's state convention.

If they can do this, their hope is then to elect several of their own members to the Mississippi delegation to the 1968 Presidential convention.

All this is two years in the future. For this summer, the immediate job of co-chairman Hodding Carter III, white moderate newspaper editor from Greenville, Miss., and Cleveland Donald, a militant young Negro graduate of Ole Miss (class of '66), is to open new YD chapters in Mississippi counties that don't have them.

The climate for bi-racialism in the Mississippi Democratic party is as bad today as it was when the MDC started with high hopes a year ago. But the alternative — a white-black split dominated by the Eastlands on one side and the racial Mississippi Freedom Democratic party on the other — is the hopeless alternative. This may be Mississippi's last chance to build a liberal, integrated Democratic party in this decade.

Anti-Castro Group Says Fidel Is Behind Iron Curtain

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An American anti-Castro group says a double is taking Fidel Castro's place in Havana while the real Cuban leader is undergoing medical treatment behind the iron curtain.

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba said Monday it was told by reliable sources that the prime minister left Cuba seven days ago.

Guard Met in War Games By Heat, Rain

CAMP McCOY (AP) — Wisconsin's National Guard launched their mock war games Monday in broiling heat and drenching rain.

A battalion of infantrymen, equipped with tanks, took up defensive positions in the rugged terrain of this training camp in Western Wisconsin to await attack by other guardsmen.

As the men moved into position, afternoon temperatures mounted under a tormenting sun. After nightfall thunderstorms washed over the area and turned hillsides into mud slides.

The 9,000 men of the 32nd Infantry Division are being rated by Army teams during the exercises capping the annual two-week summer training period.

JOAN AND TED KENNEDY—AN AMERICAN ROMANCE

It is difficult to write a romantic, rather than a political profile of such public figures as U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy and his blond, green-eyed wife. "Joan Kennedy: How a Shy Girl Grew Up" is a tender love story that began when a naïve, beautiful college girl was introduced to a schoolmate's "little brother". It was love at first sight, and they were married before Ted finished law school.

Joan showed her strength and maturity in 1964 when her husband's senatorial campaign was interrupted by his airplane accident. She overcame her natural shyness to politick through Massachusetts and deliver the speeches that sent him back to the Senate with a margin of more than a million votes!

Things are back to normal now for Joan, Ted and their two lovely children. She insists: "No public life is ever going to take me away from my family. I am a wife and mother first, and all other things are second to that."

Friends Care for 60 Made Homeless by Bomber Crash

Red Cross Has No Customers In Hampton, Va.

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Residents of a stricken area here take care of their own.

In the wake of the crash of a Marine jet that killed two and injured 44 Monday night, the Red Cross set up emergency facilities in Buckroe Beach High School to shelter the 60 persons left homeless.

But there were no takers. The homeless were with relatives and neighbors.

The A6 Intruder jet collided high above Chesapeake Bay with a sister jet. The second craft plunged into the bay after its crew bailed out, unhurt. The other continued toward Buckroe Beach, a heavily populated section of Virginia's vast military complex, after its crew, too, bailed out over the bay.

The pilotless craft clipped the top half off a 50-foot oak behind a house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallant, hit the house on the left side and plowed a 25 by-8 foot crater in the earth between the two dwellings across the street.

Mrs. Gallant, 30, and her year-old son Donald were killed.

Most of the injured suffered burns from the fire as the jet fuel burst into flames. Only 10 of the 44 were kept overnight at Dixie Hospital.

Rows of one-story, shingled cottages were charred or ripped open by the blast or fire. Four automobiles were smashed or burned out. Ten homes were leveled and others were damaged.

Residents of the 12-acre area, their friends and relatives, and civilian and military officials turned to the task of digging out Tuesday.

Senate Clash Pending

'No Skulduggery' In Switch at CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The switch in the Central Intelligence Agency leadership was no covert skulduggery to try to head off a Senate clash over supervision of the spy agency, senators involved in the dispute said today.

William F. Raborn's resignation as CIA director did not change the picture nor was it an attempt to salve any wounded Senate feelings, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said.

"It had nothing to do with the hassle up here," Mansfield said in an interview.

"It was not involved," Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said. "The dispute is not over the CIA but over the Senate supervision of it."

Further, Mansfield said, Fulbright's Senate Foreign Relations Committee may introduce today its resolution to revamp the Senate supervision of the big intelligence agency.

This, he said, would set the stage for fireworks after the Senate's July 4 holiday week.

The battle is over the Foreign Relations Committee's attempt to put three of its members on the exclusive seven-man CIA panel, headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Russell has called it an attempt to muscle in.

Raborn's resignation was announced Saturday by President Johnson. The President nominated Richard M. Helms, the agency's No. 2 man, to succeed Raborn as director.

Letter Exchange

Johnson's announcement came a day after disclosure of an exchange of letters between Raborn and Fulbright.

Fulbright had asked if the Foreign Relations Committee set up its own CIA subcommittee whether Raborn would give it the same treatment he gave Russell's subcommittee.

Fulbright reminded the CIA director that Raborn had refused to answer some of his questions at a briefing in February.

In his letter of reply, dated a week ago, Raborn said "The questions to which I stated I was unable to respond were questions directed to the activities of the agency as to 'sources and methods' rather than to substantive intelligence information."

Fulbright acknowledged Tuesday that he had asked Raborn — and Raborn had refused to answer — whether the agency in effect ever used university research programs or the student exchange program, bearing Fulbright's name, in its efforts to gather intelligence information.

Fulbright was understood to have been disturbed at disclosure earlier this year that the agency once had used an air program in Viet Nam, administered by Michigan State University, as cover for some of its agents.

Seaman John C. Walters cuddles his 3-month-old son, John II, as he holds him for the first time at Alameda air station Tuesday. Walters was greeted by his wife, Penny, and the baby when he came ashore from the 85,000-ton nuclear powered carrier Enterprise. The warship arrived in California after a six-months tour of duty off Viet Nam where its planes flew 13,000 combat sorties. The Enterprise will be based in San Francisco Bay. (AP Wirephoto)

Urgent Meeting Sought

Dominicans Anxious for Order Withdrawing Inter-American Force

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican government is seeking an urgent meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers to set the date for the Inter-American Peace Force to start leaving.

Official sources said Dominican Foreign Minister Carlos Federico Perez summoned the Latin-American diplomatic corps Tuesday night to ask for a meeting in Washington Friday for the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States.

Diplomatic sources expressed doubt the ministers could or would meet on such short notice. They believed that Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy knew this but wanted to put his effort on the record. Garcia-Godoy has been mentioned as a presidential possibility in 1970.

Balaguer Approval

The decision by the provisional government was believed to have the approval of President-elect Joaquin Balaguer. Garcia-Godoy and his cabinet met with top officials of Balaguer's Reformist party Tuesday.

The six-nation peace force was created in May 1965 by the foreign ministers of the OAS nations after the United States sent 18,000 troops to the Dominican Republic to stop the April 1965 rebellion. The United States has about 6,800 men in the force, and there are about 1,200 Latin Americans.

The six nations with troops in the force—the United States, Brazil, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras and Paraguay—have proposed to the OAS that the foreign ministers agree on a withdrawal date after the new Dominican government is installed July 1.

Internal Problems

It is known that Balaguer is not anxious for full immediate withdrawal of the force. Garcia-Godoy, however, has expressed belief that the Dominican armed forces and police are capable of handling any internal security problem.

Some Dominicans fear that ultraconservative elements in the Dominican military may balk at projected reforms or attempt reprisals against followers of defeated presidential candidate Juan Bosch, whom they overthrew in 1963. The peace force is considered to have been the main deterrent against such reprisals.

Balaguer's victory over Bosch was confirmed Tuesday by the national election junta. The final official result gave Balaguer 769,265 votes to 525,230 for Bosch.

Board Clears Conservation Chief Hopeful

Kenneth Beghin Accused of Using Undue Influence

MADISON (AP) — The three-year battle over appointment of a chief warden in the Conservation Department continued in court today after a candidate for the post was cleared of undue influence charges.

The State Personnel Board, meeting Tuesday night in Milwaukee, dismissed accusations that improper influence had been used to try to win the job for Kenneth Beghin, a Conservation Department pilot.

Department Director Lester Voigt asked a Dane County Court, however, to throw out Beghin's attempt to force an immediate appointment to fill the vacancy.

Judge William C. Sachtjen, presiding over the latest clash in the lengthy controversy, was expected to rule on Voigt's dismissal request today.

Bureau List

Beghin is one of three men certified by the State Bureau of Personnel as eligible for the post. He has asked the court to order Voigt to answer why he hasn't named a warden from the bureau's list.

The Personnel Board, at its separate meeting, decided that Beghin was apparently unaware of letters circulated that urged his appointment and therefore he was innocent of any irregularities.

The board said Beghin had no knowledge of one letter sent by State Sen. Jerm is Leonard, R-Bayside, until he read of it in a newspaper.

Leonard had represented Beghin when he won a State Supreme Court ruling removing Walter Zelinske from the post of chief warden last October. Zelinske's attorneys had raised the influence issue.

The Supreme Court ordered a new appointment after deciding that Zelinske had failed to pass a civil service written examination when named to the job in 1963. When the Bureau of Personnel submitted a new list of candidates based on the three-year-old tests and left off Zelinske's name, Zelinske challenged the list.

Beghin's petition in Sachtjen's court was filed in an attempt to require Voigt to make an appointment from the pending list.

Monsoon Offensive

Commanders Certain Of Viet Nam Edge

BY ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. commanders are guardedly confident that the tide of war in Viet Nam is running in favor of the allies.

They feel they can smash a Communist monsoon offensive if there is one.

Their optimism stems largely from military successes of the past three months, a time when South Viet Nam was wracked with political turmoil and crack Vietnamese fighting units were pulled out of the line.

But some observers contend that American commanders are making the same mistake the French made before their defeat here in 1954. They say the French thought they could win if the Vietminh fought on French terms, but the Communists pursued their own form of guerrilla fighting in a war that was as much political as military.

Basis for Confidence

The guarded U.S. optimism stems from these factors:

1. The United States and its allies have clearly seized the initiative and are seeking out the enemy in ever-increasing offensives. In one recent week allied operations reached a record high of 39 search-and-destroy sweeps by 1,000 troops or more. Of these, U.S. forces launched 25.

2. The massive buildup of allied forces continues. The United States has 270,000 troops here and expects to add 100,000 more before the end of the year. Nearly all of these will be combat forces rather than logistic or support troops. The Australians have just finished increasing their force from 1,500 to 4,500. The South Koreans have nearly 25,000 men now and will add 17,000 more by August. The allies including the South Vietnamese already outnumber four to one the combined North Vietnamese and Viet Cong force of 300,000 estimated to be in South Viet Nam.

3. New weapons, new tactics and, importantly, new methods of intelligence in detecting the Communists and anticipating their intentions are paying off.

High Mobility

4. The high mobility of U.S. and allied forces, built around the helicopter, is proving a decisive battle factor. Helicopters are being used to lift troops swiftly into battle, as gunships to bring ammunition and weapons to the battlefields, and even to bring in artillery pieces.

5. U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam are disrupting supply and transportation lines, hampering war production and hurting morale. In South Viet Nam, U.S. planes are supporting ground actions by the allies and keeping the Viet Cong from massing for offensives.

U.S. military men feel if the South Vietnamese government can settle the internal strife produced by the Buddhists, the allies in time can convince the Communists they cannot win militarily and must negotiate.

Civil Disorder

During the antigovernment disorders of the past three months, soldiers of the Vietnamese 1st Division sided with the Buddhist rebels in Hue and Da Nang, thousands of Vietnamese paratroopers and marines were diverted to Da Nang and Hue to smash the dissidents, and other thousands of combat troops were used to overcome Buddhist rioting in Saigon. All of this cut into the Vietnamese war effort.

Some U.S. officers in the field complained that the Vietnamese were not fighting their share of the war. U.S. commanders in Saigon conceded that the internal political turmoil had reduced the Vietnamese effort but pointed out that Vietnamese troops were used in support of several recent large American operations, notably Hawthorne and Paul Revere in the central highlands.

United Front Need Surpasses Political Issues

Dirksen, Percy Campaign Together Despite Differences

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are trying hard to ignore individual differences over prime political issues in their effort to present a united front in the fall election campaign.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., demonstrated this kind of dexterity when he announced he is going to campaign for the Republican ticket in Illinois.

Topping the ticket is Charles Percy, Chicago industrialist, as the party's senatorial nominee. Percy has given his support to an "open housing" provision of the Johnson's administration's civil rights bill.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, contends that the provision, which would ban discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, is unconstitutional.

Irked by Dirksen

Percy and some other Republicans have been irked by Dirksen's failure to find a common ground with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach for compromise language which would put the party behind the housing provision.

Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday that Katzenbach had failed to come up with a promised memorandum which the senator had agreed to present to the GOP Policy Committee.

In its absence, Dirksen explained his own no-compromise position to the Republican senators. He said they were "extremely attentive." He heard "no lamentations" about his position nor was there any demonstration of support for it, he said.

Housing Doomed

The housing provision appears doomed in the Senate unless Dirksen supplies the GOP votes to cut off an expected Southern filibuster.

Asked about Republicans who are backing the housing provision, Dirksen said they are "misguided." But he amended that to say that "they haven't got complete information."

Farm Workers Sign Agreement

LOS ANGELES (AP) The National Farm Workers Association has its first major contract—a giant stride in the union's drive to organize those who pluck and tend the nation's bountiful crops.

The union and Schenely Industries Inc. signed Tuesday a one-year agreement involving 450 men and women who pick and care for grapes on the company's 3,600-acre vineyard near Delano, in the central California Valley.

At the heart of the agreement is a 35-cent hourly wage increase, raising the Schenley minimum wage to $1.75 an hour.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stated Words

The idea here is to attach the abbreviation of one of the U.S. states to the front of each given word and come out with another word. For example, if we give you the word 'INTER' you can attach the abbreviation for "PENNSYLVANIA," or "PA," to the front of this word, and come out with the word 'PAINTER." Try the following.

Words Often Misused. Disgusted, be seen about to draw out or forth, and illicit, improper or illegal. Thus: We must try to elicit the truth from this witness, and "They are engaged in illicit trade."

Often Mispronounced. Amenity and amenable. Pronounce the "e" in "amenity" as in "men." Pronounce the "e" in "amenable" as in "mean."

Often Misspelled. Toad (reptile) Toed (having toes) Towed (drawn).

Word Study. Use a word three times and it is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's Word: legacy, something left by will; a bequest. "He was surprised to learn of the legacy arranged for him by his uncle."

Chinese Sentenced for 17-Year-Old Murder

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP) — Chang Chin-lung, 50, was sentenced to death Monday for a murder committed in mainland China 17 years ago.

A brother of the victim spotted Chang on a street last year and reported him to the police. Testimony at the trial brought out that Chang, an army enlisted man, bayoneted Sung Chi-chuang to death in June 1949 because he was in love with Sung's wife.

The woman testified that she had never dared expose Chang for fear he would kill her.

Win Town-Country Wagon By Identifying Famous Cat

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Here's a new kind of grand prize to win!

It's the Radio Steel Town-and-Country Stake Wagon, built for work and play. Five of these strong, practical wagons made of steel and fine hardwood will be awarded as the national grand prizes in today's easy puzzle contest, one to each boy or girl whose contest entry is judged to be one of the five neatest and most original correct entries received from all the cities where this column is published.

These Town-and-Country wagons are colorful and flashy. They are big — 38 inches long 18 inches wide and the stake body is 10 inches deep. That's a perfect size for running errands, hauling lots of packages, racing, coasting and so on. The movable stake sides and ends are red. There's a fit-grip handle on the wagon tongue, recessed tie rods, "sports-flair" hub caps, graphite bearings that never need oiling, plated bolts, nuts and stake brackets and puncture-proof, semi pneumatic tires. The whole thing weighs 40 pounds — and that's a lot of wagon!

To try for one of these fine vehicles manufactured by Radio Steel and Manufacturing Company, all you have to do is identify the famous cat in the picture above, clip out the parts and paste them together properly, print the cat's identity beneath its picture, along with your own name, age, and address, then decorate your entry in any neat, original way, using paints, crayons, cutouts or other means. Finally mail the picture to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent before midnight Friday, June 24.

Guess famous cat

If your entry is one of the 5 neatest and most original correct ones from the Appleton area, you will win a packet of 100 foreign postage stamps as a qualifying local prize. All qualified entries will be considered in the judging for the five national grand prizes.

Winners' names will be announced here. Their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned. Thursday: How to construct a miniature man of stones!

Supreme Court Justices Don't Fit Into Categories

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trying to pin a flat across-the-board liberal or conservative label on the nine Supreme Court justices for their work in the term which ended Monday is like trying to squeeze jelly.

They split ranks repeatedly and shifted around.

These five men — Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas — have been bracketed together as liberals.

This would seem to give the liberal viewpoint a 5-4 majority over the justices who have been labeled conservative: John M. Harlan, Byron R. White, Potter Stewart and Tom C. Clark.

And this would have been the case, if it had worked out that way. But it didn't. The liberals voted as a block more often than the conservatives but there was otherwise a mish-mash.

In 18 major cases, which this writer picked from the court's decisions in the 1965-66 term to get an insight into how the justices stood, here were some of the results:

The conservatives voted unanimously against a decision of the liberals only twice. Four times they voted unanimously with the liberals who, for their part, voted unanimously only eight times out of 18.

But six times the conservatives voted unanimously in joining one or more liberals in making up a majority necessary to give a decision.

In the 18 decisions the greatest dissenter was Black who has been considered an extremely consistent liberal from away back. Some liberals may consider his dissents this year in the best liberal tradition.

But that judgment depends on who is doing the considering. For instance, was it in the liberal tradition for Black to vote with Harlan and Stewart against the court's 6-3 decision banning the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in state elections?

But Douglas, another long-standing liberal, dissented six times, five times side by side with Black, but not joining him against three other decisions, including the poll tax ban.

Clark's Dissents

The voting of Clark may surprise many who thought they had him safely tucked away in their minds in a conservative niche. He dissented only twice from the majority decision, the same number of dissents Warren and Fortas gave.

Brennan was on the majority side more often than any justice on the court, dissenting only once, and that was against the majority decision which said that only in limited circumstances could arrested civil rights workers have their case shifted from state to federal courts.

In this dissent, a blow to civil rights workers, Brennan was joined by Warren, Douglas and Fortas, while Black teamed up with Harlan, Stewart, White and Clark to make the majority decision.

Libel Suits

Besides his dissent in the civil rights workers' case, Warren dissented against a majority vote that federal labor law does not bar libel suits seeking money damage under state law for statements made during an organizing campaign. Fortas' two dissents were the same as Warren's.

Whether White will ever take a position that will give him a fair and fixed title as liberal or conservative is far from clear yet. He's been a pretty independent spirit. He had three dissents.

Clark, with only two dissents out of the 18 cases examined, could hardly fit into a conservative jacket. Fortas, new on the bench this past term, on his record this year belongs in the liberal grouping.

Harlan and Stewart were the most conservative but their decisions were not rigidly conservative.

PROJECT WEIGHT WATCH

By Lillian Mackesy

Post-Crescent Food Editor

Recognizing that the dieter's road is far from a primrose path, the National Dairy Council has gone all out for Project Weight Watch. The Council knows that trying to shed unwanted pounds is difficult, but it also knows that it can be done by following the principles of a nutritious, but good reducing diet. It's not based on magic. . .it's not based on fad foods. . .it's not wishful thinking either.

It's just plain, common sense based on careful calorie counting and following the four basic food groups in menu planning. These are milk and dairy products in one category. . .meats and other protein foods in the second. . . whole grain enriched breads and cereals representing the third. . .fruits and vegetables the important fourth.

The Council has backed up its project with a collection of attractive and well-organized booklets. The packet of four costs only 30 cents and may be obtained from the National Dairy Council, 111 North Canal Street, Chicago, Ill., zip code 60606. The titles are self-explanatory and well worth having as a quick reference on everyday nutrition so vital to the health of any family. They are "The Food Way to Weight Reduction". . . "Personalized Weight Control". . ."Your Calorie Catalog Accenting Protein". . . "Choose Your Calories."

Council nutritionists contend that it's extravagant to spend a large share of calories on foods that give back only a few nutrients and sometimes none at all.

If attempts to lose weight have frequently resulted in failure, Dairy Council dieticians say, try it next time with a diet that follows the principles of a good reducing diet. Plan varied menus low in calories, but above all, be prepared to go slowly.

It won't be easy, but it will

Add Flavor, Interest to Diet Meals

There are many ideas a calorie-counting cook can use to make her meals both interesting and flavorful. Here are a few suggestions designed to start the creative cook on her way.

Add a quarter teaspoon of basil to beef or lamb for each six servings. Substitute other seasonings and herbs for the basil, such as rosemary, garlic salt or dry mustard.

Rosemary and savory both go well with veal, chicken or fish. For each six servings, a quarter-teaspoon of the cook's choice is recommended.

Borrow an old-fashioned leaf from the pioneer cook's "receipt" book and herb garden. Season tomatoes with curry, basil or oregano. Touch up turnips with rosemary, cabbage with savory. Zucchini squash or carrots go beautifully with thyme or nutmeg, just as dill enhances cauliflower and spinach is improved with either marjoram or nutmeg.

To cut down on fat, scramble eggs in a double boiler, using one teaspoon of milk for each egg. Season with salt and pepper, then give the eggs an extra dash by adding a little curry. Chopped chives, green onion or chopped parsley also enrich scrambled eggs.

Lakefront Festival Of Arts Planned

MILWAUKEE — Saturday and Sunday are the days set aside for the fourth annual Lakefront Festival of Arts on the lawn of the War Memorial Center, 750 N. Lincoln Memorial Drive. Preparations indicate it will be the largest event of its kind in the midwest.

The festival, sponsored jointly by the Friends of Art of the Milwaukee Art Center and the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co., will begin at 11 a.m. each day. This year 33 more artists, including 19 photographers, will be present, making a total of 202 exhibiting artists from Wisconsin and the Chicago area.

The Friends of Art have donated $1,000 to be awarded to seven winning artists. Gov. and Mrs. Warren P. Knowles will present the prizes at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Demonstrations Planned

Selected craftsmen will demonstrate their skills to visitors and a special area has been set aside where children may paint. Two circus tents will be erected for art displays. Food and beverage tents will provide refreshment for artists and visitors alike. Works for sale will be arranged on over a quarter mile of fencing set up for that purpose.

A highlight of Saturday's schedule will be a twilight concert by the Milwaukee Music for Youth orchestra conducted by nationally known musician and conductor, Skitch Henderson. The concert will be presented from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. on the east lawn of the Center.

The sounds of folk singing, dramatic presentations, movies and jazz music will issue from the galleries of the War Memorial Center throughout the festival. Among the free programs will be one by classical guitarist James Yoghourtjian, folk singing by the Coachman of Marquette University, and a piano concert by the award-winning young musician Charles Brindis. Also slated are programs by the 65-voice Bay View High School choir and drama by the Marquette Players.

In the motion picture department, two award-winners from abroad, "The Red Balloon" from France and "The Golden Fish" from Japan, will be shown. John Schelkopf has assembled a series of his rare silent films for viewing.

Last year more than 36,000 visitors browsed through the festival exhibits and viewed the programs, purchasing more than $20,000 worth of art. A larger crowd is expected this year.

Additional tables and chairs will be set up for picnickers. In the event of rain, the festival will be held inside the War Memorial building.

Pair Plans October Nuptial Rite

Your Problems

Wife Must Play Operator for Husband's Long-Distance Calls

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has a thing about placing long distance telephone calls. He just hates to do it. So I must take over this thankless chore.

If he would tell me who he wants to call and leave me alone, everything would be fine. But, no — he stands by the phone, makes motions with his eyes and his hands, writes notes and shoves them in my face. When he begins to pull at my arm and shout instructions at me, I get mad. The long distance operators must think I'm a subnormal child.

Last night I told him I won't place any more calls for him unless he leaves me alone. He says he wouldn't yell at me if I did it alright. We've had so many arguments over this that I'm turning to you in desperation. Plese help. -- Dial 211

Dear Dial: Ask your husband to write down (a) the name of the person he wishes to reach and (b) whether he wants you to place a person-to-person call or a station call.

Ask him to wait in another room until you have the party on the line or word that the party cannot be reached. This should put an end to the problem.

DEARN ANN LANDERS: I am a boy who is almost 14 years old and very worried about something. I have been the shortest kid in my class ever since I can remember. Mom keeps telling me I'll catch up and not to worry about it. But I am not catching up and some of the guys I hang around with are almost 6 feet tall.

Could smoking be the cause of me not growing? Please answer in your newspaper article. Thank you. — Sawed Off Runt

Dear Sawed Off: Smoking does not stunt growth. (I heard the same old wives' tale when I was a teen-ager.) But it could cause other -- and more serious — problems if you keep it up. Smoking over a long period of time can damage your blood vessels and give you real throat and lung trouble. Knock it off, Bub.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother and I had an argument last night. It all began when a fellow I grew up with asked me out. (We are the same age, 17.) I dated him twice during spring vacation and decided not to date him any more because he is just like a brother.

My mother likes this guy a lot. When she heard me turn him down she became upset and asked why I would refuse to date such a wonderful fellow. When I told her I didn't get a charge out of him she looked at me like I was a scarlet woman or something.

I tried to explain that when a boy holds my hand or puts his arm around me I want to feel a certain little excitement. She said I was "disgusting." When I asked her how she could have married daddy if she didn't get a charge out of him, she gave me a lecture on my dirty mind.

I would like your opinion on this argument and your verdict. — J. W.

Dear J. W.: There is nothing disgusting or dirty about that "certain little feeling of excitement." It is as natural as hunger or thirst. It is one of the basic human drives that keeps the earth populated.

I do think, however, that a girl who would refuse to date a fellow because he doesn't turn her on, makes a big mistake. The most enduring kind of love doesn't make you go boinn-nnng the minute your eyes meet his — like it says in the songs.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Annual K of C State Picnic Set Sunday

The Knights of Columbus of Wisconsin will have its 29th annual picnic Sunday at Silver Lake near Wild Rose. James Cain, Oshkosh, is chairman of the event.

A field mass will be held on the grounds of Silver Lake Resort at 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Henry McMurrough, Madison, state chaplain of K of C, will be celebrant.

This is the only state-wide event sponsored by the Wisconsin Council and it will be attended by all state officers and newly elected state officers who take over their duties July 1.

Silver Lake Resort is located two miles east of the village of Wild Rose.

Auxiliary Tells New Officers

SHERWOOD — Mrs. Carl Hendrickson was elected president of the Thomas E. Kees American Legion Auxiliary Thursday evening. Mrs. Harold Dodds will serve as first vice president; Mrs. Gordon Funk second vice president, and Mrs. Clarence Zahringer, treasurer.

Mrs. Kenneth Ott has been appointed secretary; Mrs. Gilbert Thiel, historian; Miss Ann Zahringer, chaplain, and Mrs. Elmer Wundrow, color bearer.

Officers will be installed at the Sept. 22 meeting.

When a recipe calls for "stewed" tomatoes, buy that variety to use. Some cooks confuse stewed tomatoes with plain canned tomatoes; the former are packed with bits of onion and green pepper and are well seasoned. The stewed tomatoes come in 4-serving cans and also in buffet cans to serve two.

In making Western Sandwiches, scrambled eggs are enriched with onion, green pepper and ham for the filling. But, if you like, you may use dried beef instead of the ham. Just saute the beef with the onion and green pepper before adding to the beaten egg.

Accidents Top List as Killers Of Children

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Although rapid advances in medicine in the past 25 years have reduced sharply the death rate of children aged one to 14, the time for complacency has not yet arrived. Accidents rather than disease are now taking an increasing proportion of children's lives.

This sobering news comes from a life insurance company, which calculates that in 1962-'63 accidents were responsible for about one third of all deaths among boys aged one to four and for nearly half the total at the school ages. Among girls almost one out of every three deaths in the age range one to 14 years resulted from injuries.

Motor vehicles are the major cause of accidental deaths among pre-school and school age children, followed by fires and drownings.

With school doors closed or closing throughout the country motorists should be on the alert for darting youngsters. Parents should be strict and set unbreakable rules about ball playing in the street. They might also arrange for swimming lessons offered free-of-charge by many community agencies across the land.

Making Summer Pleasant Means Beating the Bugs

Smack! You catch one in the face. Smack! This time it's the back of your neck. You are not only the victim of these hits, but also the aggressor, for in warmer weather, you'll find that you smack, slam, shoo and shake at flies, mosquitoes and other insects that are vastly more numerous than people — and far more of a health hazard than many people realize!

By heeding the six tips in this story, compiled by researchers, you can make it tougher on the insects than they make if for you — and save yourself a lot of unnecessary swatting.

Using space sprays or aerosol bombs inside the house is one good way to best the pest. Use residual sprays that will stick on screens, porches and garbage cans for longer lasting protection. A single pair of flies could produce 191 septillion offspring in one summer, if all lived, but a plentiful supply of fly traps, fly poisons and swatters around the house will keep you well-armed this summer against the impending invasion.

Covering cesspools, septic tanks and rain barrels tightly and putting screening over open cisterns can help cut down the problem by keeping them from places. Don't let water accumulate in tin cans, eaves, troughs or street gutters. And use larvicides on standing water in pools or ponds.

Replacing screen doors and windows that don't fit snugly, or have torn screening is a job that should be done early in the season. Play it safe with 16-mesh to the-inch screens on doors and windows to keep out all insects. A screen door that doesn't close competely obviously won't keep out insects. One that closes with a slam and a bang is as disturbing to the nerves of the housekeeper as the buss and bite of a mosquito and the annoying sight of flies hovering over the family's food.

Keeping screen doors closed without noisy banging is easy when you substitute pneumatic air-liner screen door closers for old-fashioned inadequate coil springs.

Several Phones

Installing extension phones on the patio, by the barbecue, swimming pool and in other popular outdoor locations can save you many unpleasant and bothersome steps during the hot weather period, and they're readily accessible in case of emergency.

Knowing how to keep cool on a hot summer day can help you to survive the summer. Some helpful hints: Take frequent showers. According to scientists, lukewarm water will cool you off more quickly than either hot or cold water. Use crushed ice in drinks to get more ice-surface and colder drinks. Army research proves that wearing a T shirt is cooler than going without one, because it helps absorb your perspiration. And perforated leather shoes are cooler, because they allow your feet to "breathe."

Sitting around complaining about the heat is a sure-fire way to make you notice it even more. Summertime activities which take your mind off the soaring temperature can be one of the best ways to live through the summer— and like it!

Weight-Watchers Need Nutrition of Balanced Meals

be easier than before with far more satisfactory results. Of course, once the pattern of calorie counting is started, the whole new way of eating must be kept intact. Coupled with a sensible program of exercise . . . walking is one that's great for anybody and everybody on or off a diet . . this pattern should be kept up as much as possible, too.

DIETARY RULES

First, the diet should be balanced and meet all the recommended dietary allowances for protein, vitamins and minerals. The only deficiency should be in calories.

Second, the diet should utilize readily available and commonly preferred foods as opposed to unusual or "special" diet foods.

Third, the diet should be flexible and allow for a variety of foods. This avoids monotony and one food can be exchanged for another one that furnishes the same food value — not merely the same calorie count.

Fourth, and really most important of all, the diet should be a pattern for life. It should be suitable not only for weight reduction but also, with an adjustment in calories, for the long-term maintenance of normal weight.

1400 CALORIES

It would be wonderful to see the pounds disappear before our very eyes when attempting to lose weight, but it simply isn't all that easy. It is recommended that women 18 to 35 years old eat 2,100 calories a day, so that a 1,400 calorie diet represents a deficit of 700 calories. This is low enough to allow a slow weight loss yet high enough to provide calories nd nutrients necessary for e n e r g y. For women 35 years old to 55, the 1,400 calorie level is 500 calories less than the recommended amount.

Weight loss should be one to two pounds a week, say the experts. Any excessive rate of weight loss fails to provide for the necessary adjustment to a revised eating pattern, besides frequently cheating the body of its needs for maintaining health.

The following menu suggestions are in the 1,400 calorie-a-day plan, suggested for the moderately active woman. "The Food Way to Weight Reduction" contains several sample meal patterns and menus based on calorie counts ranging from 1,000 a day to 1,800. This handy booklet also lists food alternates and several recipes.

Among the flavorful recipes are the three for low calorie dressings which can be made at home quickly and easily. Here are the menus and salad dressing recipes.

BREAKFAST MENU

- 4 ounces orange juice
- ¾ cup unsweetened ready-to-eat cereal
- ½ cup milk
- Coffee or tea, plain

LUNCHEON MENU

Sandwich—
- 2 ounces ham
- 1 ounce Swiss cheese
- 1 slice rye bread
- 1 teaspoon butter

- 1 carrot
- 1 celery stalk
- 1 medium apple
- 8 ounces whole milk

DINNER

- 4 ounces broiled beef patty
- ½ cup green peas
- 3 tomato slices
- ¼ head lettuce (small)
- Vinegar Dressing
- 1 small roll
- 2 teaspoons butter
- 1 cup unsweetened strawberries
- 8 ounces whole milk

TANGY VINEGAR DRESSING

- ¼ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 clove garlic sliced
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspon non-caloric liquid sweetener
- ½ teaspoon dill or tarragon

The recipe may be varied with the subsitution of rosemary or thyme for the last ingredient choice listed — dill or tarragon.

Combine all ingredients, blending well. Store in refrigerator. Recipe makes one third cup dressing. It is best to prepare it in small quantities.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING

- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 3 tablespoons wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- Dash pepper sauce
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients, blending well. Chill at least 30 minutes to blend flavors. Recipe makes about one and one-quarter cups dressing. The calorie count: one tablespoon equals one teaspoon butter or 35 calories.

ZESTY SALAD DRESSING

- ½ cup tomato juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ⅛ teaspoon liquid non-calorie sweeener (up to ¼ tsp.)
- ½ teaspoon lemon juice
- Dash chili powder
- Dash hot peppersauce

Combine all ingredients; blend well. Store in refrigerator. Recipe makes half-cup dressing.

Mosquitos Attack

It's not fair — but if you're healthy, dark-skinned, active, perspire freely, and scent yourself with perfume, cologne, or after-shave lotion — you make a splendid target for mosquitos. This is the itchy word from the American Medical Association which adds, however, this note of comfort. If you dress in light-colored clothing rather than in blacks, dark reds, and dark blues (which mosquitos prefer), bathe frequently and cut down on scents (since the beasts are guided to their human target by such emanations), and cut down on strenuous activity, the insects may by-pass you.

Tension Can Cause Misplay

Twenty hands of bridge produce no strain when you're playing for coffee and cake, but they give you the jim-jams when the championship of the world is at stake. The strain caused Sammy Kehela, one of the world's great bridge experts, to misplay a game hand during the world team championships a few weeks ago in Italy.

Opening lead — ◇ Q

Kehela took the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the queen of spades to West's ace. Back came the queen of hearts.

Since West had explained his leads, Kehela knew that West had the king of hearts. Kehela had to guess whether the opening lead was a singleton queen o rfrom the doubleton Q-J of diamonds.

Declarer led a spade to the king and got to his hand twice with high clubs to ruff two low hearts in dummy. Then he led the ten of diamonds.

Kehela thought for a long time and then played the low diamond from his hand. West won, cashed the king of hearts and eventually got a second trump trick to defeat the contract.

Sure Play

After leading a low spade to dummy's king at the fourth trick, Kehela should lead a low diamond to the king. Since the jack happens to drop, South has no further problem.

Even if West can ruff the king of diamongs he cannot defeat the contract. If West returns a trump or a club, South draws the last trump and gives up a diamond trick. Dummy's good diamonds make the rest easy.

If West returns the king of hearts, South ruffs in dummy, gets to his hand with a club and ruffs another heart. Back with a club to draw the last trump, and South has ten tricks.

If West returns a low heart instead of the king, South lets it ride to the jack. Then he draws West's last trump and gives up a diamond.

A very complicated hand, but not too difficult for one of the world's great players — except for a slight case of tournament tension.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 2 NT, and the next player passes. You hold: S5; H 9 6 3 2, D 8 5 3; C Q 6 5 4 2. What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. The hand is not quite good enough for a response to the opening bid of 2 NT.

Women Employed in the construction industry met to discuss organizing a local unit of 'Women in Construction' Saturday. Discussing plans for the June 29 meeting, when the group will apply for a charter are Mrs. Solvieg Jorgenson, Milwaukee; Miss Elizabeth Kelnhofer, Milwaukee; Mrs. Edward McCarthy, Miss Jerri Smukowski, Milwaukee, and Mrs. S. E. Harp, Milwaukee Chapter 104 members met with the group to explain and help them set up a local club. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Women in Construction To Organize Area Unit

Women in every phase of the construction industry, from architecture to roofing, met at noon Saturday to consider organizing a Fox Cities 'Women in Construction' chapter. Members of the Milwaukee unit met with the group for a luncheon session at Skall's Colonial Wonder Bar.

Area women were informed of the n a t i o n a l organization's scholarship program, national and local chapter activities and requirements for chartering.

Plans have been made for a 6:30 p.m. meeting June 29 at Skall's, when the group will make formal application for a charter, study and set up bylaws and appoint temporary officers. All those attending will be eligible for charter membership.

Women from Neenah-Menasha, Oshkosh, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Appleton or other area communities who are interested in joining may contact Mrs. S. E. Harp at Oscar J. Boldt Construction Co.

Recreation Essential to Health, Good Family Ties

The month of June is National Recreation and Park Month. It is an excellent time to remind ourselves that the ancient saying, "All work and no play . . ." is still very sound advice.

Everyone knows that recreation is important, but all too often we become so busy with work and home duties that we forget to play.

Every parent knows how important play is to the young child. Through play, he gains physical strength, develops physical skills, and establishes warm relationships with his parents, brothers and sisters, says the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

But the values of play and recreation are not restricted to the young. All ages need relief from boredom, relaxation from tensions and the self-fulfillment found in recreation.

Wide Range

Recreation is not all physical activity. Recreation may range from active physical pursuits to quiet activities, such as reading. It may bring excitement or relaxation. It includes both solitary activities and those with groups. It may range from cultural and educational pursuits to trivialities.

Many agencies — governmental, voluntary, and religious — offer recreation programs. Many of these are fine, but the home still remains the most important center, not for recreation itself, but also for developing lifelong recreation interests, skills and tastes.

The possibilities for home and family recreation, combined with the neighborhood parks and other play centers, are almost unlimited. Each family will have its own special tastes. Some of the fundamentals are books and reading, conversation, music, art and drawing, photography, home improvement projects, gardening and many others. The backyard can accommodate equipment for all sorts of games and sports.

Good Family Activity

Leisure activities are powerful forces in the home. They can cement family ties, create wholesome attitudes, and foster understanding among members of the family. Many an avocational interest has turned into a career.

June is a good month for American families to take stock of their approaches to play and recreation. Some things can be done by the family as a group; others by family members as individuals. This month might be the time when father and mother can ask themselves: Do we play enough in our family? Are we becoming too busy to do some of the things we enjoy doing?

Your doctor and his American Medical Association prescribe play and recreation for the physical and emotional well-being of all of us.

Preparation, Storage of Food Vital for Safe Picnic

When you plan foods for a picnic — plan for the safety of those eating. Warm weather, little refrigeration or limited facilities for keeping foods hot may cause food hazards, according to Mary Beeler, institution foods specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Bacteria grow best at lukewarm tepmeratures. Food taken on picnics often stays just warm temperatures. Food taken several hours, enough time for bacteria to multiply and be hazardous.

Try to prevent bacteria getting into food by handling it carefully during preparation. Be sure hands and working surface are clean. A cut finger, a bad cold, or any contagious disease means bacteria are around and may affect food, particularly if it is not heated after preparation. Heating kills bacteria.

Thrive in Non-Acids

Bacteria grow best in non-acidic foods such as meats, fish, poultry items of all kinds, eggs, dairy products and foods made from them.

Particularly susceptible are recipes of finely chopped up foods such as chicken salad, other meat or egg sandwich fillings and casseroles. These foods have more surface area where bacteria growth can take place. Also, in the process of preparation these foods are probably handled more.

Many sandwich fillings and salads are not reheated after preparation. If this is the case, keep cold until serving time. There are inexpensive ways of doing this such as ice in an ice chest or dry ice packs of some type.

Keep Hot or Cold

Keep hot food such as casseroles, or other pot luck dishes hot from the oven till served at the picnic. Keep the food in a tightly closed container in a hot or heat resistant carrier. If food is to be reheated at the picnic, keep it cold until using.

Place foods cooked the day before the picnic such as fried chicken into the refrigerator immediately after cooking. Reheat just before the picnic or serve cold.

You may wonder whether or not to keep picnic leftovers. If they have been kept very hot or very cold all during the picnic there should be no possibility of bacteria growth. However if food has been exposed to the outdoors and allowed to reach a lukewarm temperature, it would be wiser not to keep it.

Fanciful Approach Adds Flourishes To Kitchen Tasks

Wrap yams with foil and bake in hot coals for an hour or so. The yams will taste good with ham slices that are being grilled over the charcoal fire.

Boundary Commission Created With Michigan

Similar to Wisconsin-Minnesota Unit; Chief Interest Is Conservation

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A new state law assures the creation of a Michigan - Wisconsin boundary area commission for joint resource planning after the model of the Wisconsin-Minnesota boundary commission already established.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles will appoint five citizen members of the commission, who with a group of legislators and technicians will compose the joint body with similar delegates of the state of Michigan with which Wisconsin shares a common boundary of several hundred miles in length.

In enacting the Wisconsin-Michigan boundary commission, the legislature also appropriated a $50,000 fund to finance the operations of the two interstate boards.

Representatives of the technical services within the principal administrative agencies of each state will serve as advisers of the commission. The members of the agency will serve without pay, but will be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in the performance of their work.

Conservation Objectives

Mutual conservation objectives will be the principal concern of the joint commissions representing Wisconsin and its two neighbors.

The compacts between them will be for the purpose of "present and future protection, use and development in the public interest of the boundary lands, river valleys, and waters comprising the boundaries of this state," the enabling act declares.

The detailed objectives include:

Joint regional planning for the development of the boundary areas.

Measures for controlling air and water pollution, maintaining water quality and controlling water use.

Programs for control of soil and river bank erosion and the general improvement of the river basins.

Diversion of waters from and into the rivers.

Restrictions and regulation of land use development designed to preserve the scenic and recreational attributes of the river basins.

Other restrictions, regulations or programs the commission may recommend to the party states.

Christian Science Lecturer to Visit Appleton Church

Norman B. Holmes, a Christian Science teacher and practitioner in Chicago, will speak on "God—Not Chance" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Holmes, a graduate of Northwestern University, served on active duty as chaplain in the U. S. Navy during World War II and the Korean War.

During this time he was officially accredited in the Christian Science healing ministry and was later called to Boston to serve as manager of the Department of Branches and Practitioners of The Mother Church.

Piling of Baled Paper, Debris Disturbs Appleton Officials

Health department authorities are disturbed over the practice of some unknown party of piling baled paper and other debris in the 700 block on W. College Avenue.

Inspectors have termed the site "a nuisance" and will bring the matter up at today's board of health meeting.

The department also released its monthly report today which showed that chicken pox, mumps, measles, scarlet fever and strep throat are still making the rounds in the community.

The May report also shows:

—Deaths totaled 22, including 10 non-resident.

—Births added up to 152, of which 77 were non-resident.

—There were five illegitimate births, four of them local.

—Heart diseases, cancer and pneumonia were the leading causes of death in Appleton last month.

Big Sing at Fort William

MacDowell Chorus Plans Canadian Trip

Plans for the Mac Dowell Male Chorus of Appleton to attend the big sing at Fort Williams, Canada, next April were discussed at Monday night's board meeting at the home of Walter Nissen, chorus president.

Karel Richmond, president of the state association; Robert Brinkman, acting governor of the Mac Dowell chorus; Elmer Rehbein, executive secretary of Associated Male Choruses of America, and Nissen attended a recent meeting in Rhinelander where the Canadian show was discussed.

Board members reviewed the state sing of last Saturday night at Wisconsin Lutheran School in Wauwatosa. Choruses from Appleton, Kenosha, Milwaukee and Negaunee, Mich., attended.

Summer Outing

The chorus will have a summer outing at Richmond's cottage on Lake Winnebago Aug. 13. President Nissen appointed committees for various activities.

Edwin F. Zordell will continue to direct the chorus and David Richardson will be accompanist for the 33rd chorus season.

A music committee was appointed to meet with Peter Gietman, music secretary, later this summer. Members are William Gast, the Rev. G. Bretheim, Leonard Hanstedt, Richmond, Harold Pritzl, Edward Ihlenfeldt, Gerald Froeling, Charles Breemer, and Nissen.

First rehearsal will be Sept. 12 at First English Lutheran Church Educational Building. Prospective members will be invited to join the chorus for the new season.

Past Auxiliary Head Installs Officers For Hortonville DAV

HORTONVILLE — Mrs. George Davis, past commander of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) Auxiliary, installed officers of the local chapter Monday evening.

Reports were given by Mrs. Alvin Grambsch and Mrs. Louis Steichen on the 38th convention which they attended at Fond du Lac.

Members were reminded that July 10 is DAV day at King.

College President Raps Set Course For Freshmen

RACINE (AP) — A college president challenged Tuesday the concept that freshmen must follow a predetermined, common path in broad, background studies in the first year on campus.

Mrs. Esther Raushenbush, president of Sarah Lawrence College in New York, lashed out at what she called the "tyranny of quantity" in freshman studies.

She told an educational conference here that such prerequisite programs ignore the initiative and the incentive freshmen have in approaching their studies.

"When he enters college, the student's intellectual and personal freedom is greater than at any other time in his life, as is his need to discover and test its limits," she said.

Mock Torture Inflicted on Guardsmen

CAMP MCCOY (AP) — The mock war games of the Wisconsin National Guard were extended to fake torture of prisoners Tuesday as 9,000 infantry men went through summer combat tests.

The maneuvers over the hilly terrain of Camp McCoy are designed to grade the 32nd Infantry Division's preparedness for combat.

Captured guardsmen underwent questioning in a prisoner of war camp in near 90 degree weather while agents simulated sounds of physical punishment in the background. Some prisoners were blindfolded and others were handcuffed.

"Most of them hang in there pretty tough," said an interrogator.

The guard's performance in the war games is being evaluated by Army teams. The two-week annual training exercises end Saturday.

Menasha Driver Fined Following Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Mrs. Ida Smith, 372 Nassau St., Menasha, admitted ignoring a traffic light and was fined $15 Monday by Raymond Sanders, municipal justice.

Mrs. Smith was arrested following a June 11 accident.

JEFF'S BARBECUED CHUCK ROAST

Another all-time FAVORITE RECIPE from Good Housekeeping

2½ pounds chuck roast, 2" thick
1 five-ounce bottle soy sauce
¼ cup brown sugar, packed
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup Burgundy
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1½ cups water

Early in day: In 12" x 8" x 2" baking dish, blend soy sauce with rest of ingredients; refrigerate roast in this sauce for at least 6 hours, turning once.

About 2 hours before serving: Start fire. Grill chuck 5" from hot coals, for 30 minutes on each side, or to desired rareness, often spooning on marinade.

To serve: Don't slice meat: divide it into 4 individual servings.

Business Lines

With Post Crescent Business Editor Dick Lynch

MAYOR BUCKLEY AND CONVENTIONS

Appleton Mayor George Buckley seems to be unimpressed with a recent Sunday Post Crescent feature article on convention business and what economic advantages conventions can bring to a city

The story which was extensively researched explained how great a direct cash flow a convention can pump into a city's economy and how great a total economic impact a convention can have on a city Del Drumm executive secretary of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce likes to refer to the convention business as the industry without a smoke stack

Pointing out statistics on convention business in other Wisconsin cities during 1965 the article pointed out that LaCrosse a city about the same size and population as Appleton had 1965 convention cash flow of $2,915,800 and an approximate economic impact which totaled $16,894,000 In Wausau smaller than Appleton the cash flow during 1966 is expected to run about $1.15 million and the impact is expected to be around $6.8 million based upon the number of events staged so far this year and the balance scheduled for the rest of the year

Limitations

Oshkosh has had 23 conventions so far in 1966 and will have another 22 before the year ends and will feel the benefit of an impact of upwards of $4 million Appleton on the other hand because of its limitations in convention facilities will have about 18 conventions this year and many of them will be utilizing facilities outside the city limits

The term cash flow and economic impact are based on averages supplied by the United States Chamber of Commerce and the federal government's Department of Commerce An average convention delegate spends $30 daily on such areas as accomodations, meals, night clubs and entertainment shopping, gratuities, parking, cabs tours and gasoline The money then turns over a minimum of six times in wages services and supplies before it loses its economic effect within a community In other words a $1,000 cash flow would have a minimum economic impact of $6,000

Realizing that many prominent civic leaders in Appleton feel the city is not getting its share of convention business mainly because of a lack of a sufficient number of downtown hotel and motel facilities and of a facility large enough to seat hundreds of convention delegates Mayor Buckley's comments are surprising

Buckley said he is all in favor of doing everything he can to bring more conventions to Appleton He said he was going to address the Wisconsin Letter Carriers Association Friday (they're meeting in LaCrosse by the way) and invite the group to hold its 1967 convention in Appleton Buckley said I don't think the lack of facilities has handicapped the city in attracting conventions There is sufficient hotel and motel room

Even more surprising is Buckley's view that the city doesn't have a need for a downtown convention center like the one visualized by Harland Bartholomew and Associates, St Louis, in the comprehensive plan it prepared for Appleton The plan places an auditorium and convention center in a Jones Park civic center complex The auditorium-convention center would be on the southwest corner of Oneida and Lawrence streets fronting on Lawrence The auditorium would face a hotel which also is visualized in the plan The hotel would be at the southwest corner of College and Superior fronting on College and would extend along Superior as far as Lawrence Street

Under a revenue bond I'd be greatly in favor of something like that Buckley said, but I don't know about in the downtown area we've got a bad enough parking problem already and something like that would only make it worse I'd prefer something like this provided it was on the fringe of the city with parking facilities like they have at the Green Bay Arena

Actually Buckley stated I really don't have any ideas on this subject I'd like to have a council decision before I'd say there was something I preferred or not Other than the fact that he said he was going to invite the letter carriers to Appleton Buckley said he knew of no ways to boost Appleton's convention business

In answer to a question Buckley also said he doesn't think his policy of opposing city officials attending out-of-state conventions has adversely affected the prospects of bringing other groups into Appleton As far as bringing national groups or conventions into Appleton goes he said we don't have any chance of getting them in here anyway

Position of Prestige

Although Buckley said We've got too many other things cooking to worry about this there are several Appleton civic leaders who feel the city will never gain the position or prestige it can have in the Midwest if the city does not have the facilities to house large numbers of out of town guests

It is a tragedy we feel when one of the largest industrial firms in the country Kimberly Clark Corp can't hold seminars and events in the Fox Cities for its national sales force because of a lack of accommodations And we also wonder if a statewide group such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars who held their convention in Appleton last year will return to a convention city where delegates had to stay in private homes because of a lack of hotel rooms and business meetings had to be held in a building that was so small that the fire department stated it was unsafe and a fire hazard

Typewriters Becoming Essential Home Tools

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Cris Collins, now into her senior year at high school, typed all her final reports on my new (now by "right of possession," her) home portable this past month. Young Sumner Collins, now completing his Master's Degree, types all his papers as a matter of course on — typing a column in a third — his (once my old) portable. My husband and I, as newspaper people, type just about every communication at home as well as at the office, and consider a typewriter far more essential household equipment than a toaster or TV.

While we own more typewriters than most families, we are not nearly as unusual as we might appear. In a growing number of schools, 5th and 6th graders are typing their homework and in some school systems, typing is now prescribed. Each year, the age at which teen-agers buy their own typewriters goes down. There are an estimated 35,000,000 typists in this country, including 3,000,000 secretaries, stenographers and typists and 3,000,000 students.

It was the sight of Cris typing her term papers in one room and Sumner typing his thesis notes in another which impressed me with the extent to which the home market for typewriters must be developing. What I suspected was nothing in comparison with the facts.

$40 million a year after World War II, annual sales of home typewriters have soared to more than $100 million. In 1955, sales of portable typewriters, the typical home unit, totaled 700,000. This year, sales are slated to hit 1,500,000 and, estimates Earl H. Tiffany Jr., president of Litton Industries' Royal Typewriter Division, largest typewriter manufacturer in the world, by the early 1970's the total will double again.

"The portable has become a household appliance and an educational tool for students," he declares. "By the 1970's, it will become a regular kitchen appliance in the two and three-typewriter home." Although one in four homes now has a typewriter, he considers the home market "75 per cent untapped," and views the other three homes as "a logical and obtainable market."

There is no disputing the strength of the forces pushing the uptrend for all kinds of typewriters, standard and portable, manual and electric.

Its place in the office and factory needs no elaboration and its position will become even more secure in even more sophisticated forms as our population grows and business becomes more complex. In the home, a most significant factor is the spreading acceptance of typewritten private correspondence and the preference for the typewritten over the longhand letter in all but a few instances.

Now the schools are becoming an increasingly important force with both students and teachers agreeing that typing of homework improves organization of papers and increases proficiency in language, reading and reasoning. In a study of 7th grade students in Middletown, Ohio, 97 per cent of the students said it made school work easier and 53 per cent said it enabled them to work faster. More than 25 per cent declared typing made school work more fun! Understandably, the teachers were unanimous in the opinion that typing produced more organized and neater papers.

The whole typewriter industry is in an upsurge. Since 1960, U. S. typewriter sales have risen one-third and a peak sale of 2,400,000 units totaling $400 million is anticipated for 1966.

The big explosion, though, is to come in the home market. Tiffany also sees this as a worldwide phenomenon -- with what is happening here to be reflected first in Germany, then in the Scandinavian countries, England and finally Spain and France.

To Your Good Health

Confused Mom Spanks Young Son to Slumber

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently spent a weekend with my sister. Each night at 7:30 or 8 o'clock she would take her only child (a beautiful boy of six months), put him to bed and start hitting him to make him go to sleep.

Dr. Molner

She says that each "pop" or "lick" that she gives him induces crying that will make him cry himself to sleep.

Will this heating affect him in later life? I have two children and I rock them and sing them a lullaby to get them to sleep. Which method do you recommend? — R.G.

Have you the faintest doubt which method I recommend?

Your sister has her "wires very badly crossed." There isn't any question whether such a twisted attitude is going to affect this child in later life. My fear is that emotional damage already has been done.

Making the child cry himself to sleep, indeed!

Distorted Treatment

You didn't give me your address, or your sister's, so there is nothing I can do except speak out against such brutal and distorted treatment of a baby. It is misery for the infant now: it can hardly do anything else but make him grow up hating the world. And we wonder what causes delinquency!

Can't you impress on your sister's husband the need for him to talk to the family doctor? Your sister must be very emotionally confused, and needs help, but even more urgent than that, the baby needs to be protected.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have recently heard of "painless hemorrhoidectomy." Of course I am not naive enough to believe that it is actually painless, but is there a newly developed method of surgery or treatment immediately afterward that lessens the discomfort?

Some years ago I heard of people who suffered a great deal of pain following this surgery. — MRS.F.P.

It isn't the operation that hurts, since it is done under anesthesia. It is the period afterward. The area is naturally tender. I am as doubtful as you are that it can be painless. That just isn't reasonable.

But the painfulness has been very considerably reduced. The after-care is of the greatest importance. This involves gentle dilation of the rectal canal to prevent adhesions and excessive scar formation.

In addition, bulk producers are now fed to patients immediately after surgery, so there is some degree of natural dilation.

Don't Return

The people who suffer most are the ones who were not told to return for this post-operative care and dilation — or rather, who were told to return, but didn't realize how important it would be.

If adhesions and heavy scar formation are allowed to occur, it is an invitation to permanent discomfort instead of a return to natural function after a relatively short period of soreness. I suggest that you read my booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids." For a copy send 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis., 54911.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I go to the bathroom, I've noticed a whitish, liquidy substance that follows. I'd like to know if it could be anything serious before I consult my doctor. — D.S.

Your logic baffles me. Go to the doctor to find out! This sounds like mucous colitis, which should receive medical attention.

NOTE TO MRS. R.S.: Removal of the Bartholin gland is not a serious undertaking, and is the usual procedure when the gland becomes chronically infected.

Two Rivers Man Heads Water, Pollution Unit

Conservation Group Expected to Have 'Very Busy Year'

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Edward Keip of Two Rivers, a veteran officer of the Wisconsin Conservation Congress, has been chosen chairman of the group's water and pollution committee for next year.

The appointment of congress committee chairmen and members has been ratified by the State Conservation Commission, which accepts their reports in the formulation of policy and regulations.

The Congress waters committee is expected to be exceptionally active during the next year, partly as a result of the broadened state action program in waters protection resulting from the comprehensive revision and strengthening of pollution laws approved recently by the Legislature.

Other advisory committee chairmen approved by the commission after nomination by the Congress executive committee are C. J. Weber, Cuba City, Grant County, big game committee; Ed Young, Rhinelander, warm water fish; Leroy Sykes, Barron, trout, and Irvin Lang, Cadott, upland game.

Baracudas Top Senior League

HORTONVILLE — After one week's action in the Recreation Pee Wee Softball League three teams are tied for first place.

The Cardinals, Dodgers, and White Sox all share first place with records of 3-2. The Giants are in last place with a 1-4 record.

The Cardinals were captained by Kerry Everts, the White Sox by Randy Schwartz, the Dodgers by Chuck Radichel and the Giants by Vince Leeman.

In the Senior Baseball League the Baracudas, captained by Mark Everts, lead with a record of 3-1. The Chargers, captained by DeWayne Bellile, and the Comets, captained by Alan Cousineau, are tied for second with a 2-2 record. The Horses, captained by Chuck Boetcher, have a 1-3 record.

Triumph, 5-3, on Rubilotta's 4-Hitter, Melton's 3-Run Homer; Twin Bill Slated at Decatur

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Quad Cities' Vern Geishert may be starting to wish he had never thrown a no-hit game against the Fox Cities Foxes.

Tuesday night, the Midwest League-leading Foxes beat Geishert for the second straight time since he fired a May 6 no-hitter at them.

Andy Rubilotta pitched a strong 4-hitter, and Bill Melton belted a 3-run homer as the Foxes stopped Quad Cities, 5-3, to continue closing in on the first-round championship.

Fox Cities maintained its 3½-game edge over runnerup Burlington, which whipped Waterloo, 16-5. The Foxes, who have six games to play in the first round, will send Steve Koker and Jerry Nyman against the Commodores in Decatur tonight.

The Foxes' "magic number" stands at three. Any combination of three Foxes wins or Burlington losses will mean the pennant for Fox Cities. The Bees have five games to go, including a twin bill tonight.

Geishert, the curve-balling artist from Richland Center, absorbed his third loss in 10 decisions last night and was rapped as he hasn't been all season. Geishert, who had allowed the amazingly low total of only 10 earned runs in 91 previous innings, was combed for four earned runs and seven hits by the Foxes in five frames. His ERA rose from 0.99 to 1.31 before he was taken out for a pinch-hitter.

Applies Crusher

Melton, the Foxes' strong-boy from Azusa, Calif., applied the crusher to Geishert's hopes with a mighty, 3-run blast over the left field wall in the fifth inning -- his fifth homer of the season. It was only the second circuit drive given up by Geishert this year -- and the Foxes also accounted for the other one, a 2-run wallop by "Deacon" Jones in Davenport.

The left-handed Rubilotta, meanwhile, was brilliant on the Foxes' mound in eight of the nine innings, enroute to his fourth victory in seven decisions.

Rubilotta's only hard time came in the sixth inning, as he surrendered all three runs, two hits and two walks and came within one pitch of being pulled out of the game.

Pinch-batter Ray Vegas opened the Angels' sixth with a walk, and Doug Griffin also walked. Tom Silverie ended Rubilotta's shutout bid with a run-scoring single to center. The runners took second and third when center fielder Al Fitzmorris bobbled the ball.

Jim Vopicka struck out, but Griffin scored as Jim Maness

Frank Robinson's Catch Saves 7-5 Baltimore Victory

Tigers' McLain Becomes First In AL to Record 11 Triumphs

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles made Frank Robinson the catch of the year. Now Robinson has made the catch of the year for the Orioles.

The American League's top slugger turned spectacular outfielder Tuesday night, making a great ninth-inning catch in right field that saved 7-5 victory for Baltimore over New York in the first game of a doubleheader.

Robinson, who has sparked the Orioles to the top of the league since they acquired him from Cincinnati this past winter, immediately turned into the most unpopular person in Yankee Stadium and was the target of all sorts of debris during the second game which the Yankees won 8-3.

Toppled Backward

The controversial catch came with two Yankees on base and two out. Roy White lofted a fly to deep right field. Robinson raced back to the 3½-foot fence, leaped high into the air, caught the ball and toppled backward into the box seats in the stands.

Umpire Hank Soar waited a few seconds, then signaled the out, which ended the game. Soar's signal also was the signal for Yankee Manager Ralph Houk to become enraged and race onto the field. He argued in vain, then announced he was protesting the game.

"He didn't keep control of the ball," Houk contended afterward. "He was groping for the ball. I don't know what chance I've got with the protest, but I just hope I can find somebody who has a picture of him lying there without the ball."

Robinson, who ended up with only part of his legs visible from the field, was equally as certain that he held the ball.

Fan Reached Out

Then there was Elston Howard's fly ball in the sixth inning. Robinson caught it near the fence but again had to wrestle himself loose from a fan who reached out and tried to prevent him from making the catch.

In other AL games, Cleveland edged Boston 2-1, Detroit defeated Washington 5-2, Kansas City nipped Chicago 9-8 and California downed Minnesota 10-7.

Before his controversial fly ball, White made two errors that led to five Baltimore runs in the second inning and hit a

Bradley Socks 3 Homers as Bees Triumph

Burlington matched the Fox Cities' 5-3 win over the Quad Cities by dumping Waterloo, 16-5, in Midwest League action Tuesday night to remain 3½ games off the pace set by the Foxes as the first-round pennant chase nears an end.

In picking up the victory, Burlington pounded two Waterloo pitchers for 22 hits. The Bees' Bill Bradley clouted three home runs in the game. The first was with two on, the second with one on and the final one was a solo blast.

The third inning was the big one for the Bees as they had three homers and tallied nine runs.

Young and Williams of Clinton combined for a 4-hit, 2-0 shutout of Quincy and Dubuque's Abraham went the distance in shutting out Decatur, 4-0.

Deny Milwaukee Will Get Baseball by '67

Expansion Possible in 1968

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Baseball officials are denying a published report that the National League is ready to expand to 12 teams and restore baseball to Milwaukee in 1967.

Expansion may be possible, however, in 1968, a baseball club official says.

The Milwaukee Sentinel quoted Los Angeles Dodgers general manager Emil (Buzzie) Bavasi as saying there would be enough players for expansion in 1968 and Milwaukee would have to be considered because of the park the Braves left behind.

"Where else are you going to find a stadium which can seat 40,000 people?" said Bavasi.

The latest expansion reports were touched off Tuesday when the Washington Star said in print that the National League would add Milwaukee and Oakland to its membership next year.

League president Warren C. Giles said in Cincinnati, "I don't know where anybody could get so much misinformation."

Under Court Order

The National League and its 10 clubs are under court orders to return the Braves from Atlanta if Milwaukee is not given an expansion team in 1967. That order, however, has been suspended until the State Supreme Court decides on the league's appeal of its antitrust conviction.

Bavasi was quoted as saying in a telephone interview that Oakland and Milwaukee would have to be considered in expansion plans. "They're the only two cities that have big league parks available," said the Dodgers' official.

Sentinel baseball writer Lou Chapman quoted Bavasi as saying in a telephone interview that there was still a shortage of players of major league caliber but it should be cured by 1968.

Players Available

"Under the new draft rule, there's no doubt in my mind but that there will be sufficient players available," Bavasi said. "The Dodgers alone should have 20 major leaguers in our farm system that we could sell to the two new teams."

The original story by Washington Star columnist Morrie Siegel quoted an unidentified baseball source and said the American League would follow the National by expanding to 12 teams in 1968.

Siegel said Kansas City Athletics owner Charles O. Finley would get the Oakland franchise. Finley replied, "I don't know anything at all about this. This is all news to me."

Chapman quoted another source as saying that National League expansion might come in 1968 with Milwaukee paired with Seattle instead of Oakland.

Shabbily Treated

"The Milwaukee pressure has been pretty good," the source said "and more baseball people have become convinced that Milwaukee wasn't given a very honorable deal. They feel that the city has been shabbily treated."

Auto dealer Bud Selig, an official for a business syndicate seeking a franchise to replace the departed Braves, said Milwaukee Brewers, Inc., had had no contact with baseball officials since their application was rejected last December.

"But we are ready, willing and able," said Selig, "to immediately begin active operation of a major league baseball franchise in Milwaukee."

Johnson Leads Reds' Victory Over Pirates; Marichal Gets No. 13

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Deron Johnson never would make it as a railroad engineer in Cincinnati.

When the railroad engineers learned that Pittsburgh would be in town Tuesday night, they arranged a pleasant little reception. Johnson ruined the party with some lusty hitting that was hardly hospitable.

It's been 20 years or so since Pittsburgh was bothered by smoke but it was just like old times for a few minutes in Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Midway through the first inning of the Reds' 11-8 victory over the Pirates, the engineers and a friendly little breeze combined to float a cloud of black smoke into Crosley Field.

That touch of oldtime atmosphere was the last friendly gesture Cincinnati made all night once Johnson went to work.

The Pirates had grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first inning before the smoke from neighboring Union Station began blowing into Crosley Field.

The cloud caused a delay of four minutes while it floated down the first base line, over to the mound and on out to the outfield. The players could hardly see each other and when it finally cleared, the umpires threw a ball to the outfielders to make sure they could see.

When play resumed, the Reds hopped on Woody Fryman for four runs and a lead they never relinquished. Johnson hammered a three-run homer in the second, climaxing a five-run Reds' rally that built a 9-3 lead

Peck Away at Lead

After coming out of the smoke, the Pirates pecked away at the lead but never caught up. Johnson added a double and scored two runs in addition to his three RBI.

Elsewhere, New York shaded St. Louis 2-1 on Bob Shaw's four-hitter, Atlanta dropped Philadelphia 4-1, Houston whipped Los Angeles 7-4 and

Billy Casper Will Defend Western Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Casper, freshly crowned National Open champion, will attempt to become the first man since Sam Snead to win two Western Open Golf Crowns in succession when the $100,000 tournament begins Thursday.

Snead was the last to snare the coveted title in successive years when he won in 1949 in St. Paul and then repeated in 1950 in Los Angeles.

The 72-hole tournament, which winds up Sunday, will be played at Medinah Country Club and has attracted a field of 132 professionals and four amateurs.

With the exception of Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus, most of the top names on tour will be gunning for the top prize of $20,000, including Arnold Palmer.

PITCHING — Bob Shaw, New York, gained his third victory in as many starts for the Mets, pitching a four-hitter as they edged St. Louis 2-1.

BATTING — Bert Campaneris, Kansas City, rapped four singles, stole two bases and scored three runs, including the ninth-inning run that boosted the Athletics past the Chicago White Sox 9-8.

Yankees Sign No. 1 Draftee For $50,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees signed outfielder Jim Lyttle, their first choice in the college draft, for a bonus package in excess of $50,000 Tuesday.

Lyttle, a Florida State sophomore, will report to Fort Lauderdale of the Florida State League Friday. Last season, he batted .324 with 13 homers in 49

Comparisons Being Made With Wills

Campaneris Tearing Up Base Paths in AL

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Campy Campaneris stole a victory for the Kansas City A's in the last half of the ninth inning Tuesday night — the third time that's happened in four games — so comparisons with Maury Wills of Los Angeles were inevitable.

"At his age Camp is way ahead of Wills at the same age," said Alvin Dark, A's manager. "This boy is only 24 and Wills was almost 27 when he came up to the Dodgers in 1959 (after eight seasons in the minors).

"I don't like to compare ball players directly," Dark said. He didn't want to compare them skill-for-skill, talent-for-talent because the little Dodger shortstop who stole 104 bases in 1962 is much older.

"But if Campy keeps on improving the way I know he can . .who knows?"

Only 10 Stolen Bases

Campaneris has only 10 stolen bases in his first 53 games compared to his season total of 51 last year which led the American League. But this is deceiving.

The swift little Cuban is making use of his speed more effectively this season in more phases of the game. Against the White Sox Tuesday night, he twice beat out bunts down the third base line — something he seldom tried last year.

Nervous fielders have made costly errors trying to cut him down and opposing pitchers make many more wild pitches when he's on base.

With the score tied 8-8 in the last of the ninth Tuesday night against Chicago, Campy opened by beating out a ball to short. He was sacrificed to second. He then surprised by stealing third, the throw was wild and he scored to win it 9-8.

Indians Sign Two Draft Picks, Send One to Dubuque

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two more baseball draft choices have signed contracts with the Cleveland Indians — outfielder Terry Taylor and second baseman Jimmie Carroll.

Taylor, 18, from Belmont, Calif., was assigned to Dubuque in the Class A Midwest League. Carroll, 20, from Atlanta and a junior at Georgia Tech, was assigned to Pawtucket in the Class AA Eastern League.

Lauds Viet Nam Heroes

Terrell Wins Friends In VA Hospital Visit

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernie Terrell, who bristles when he's called the World Boxing Association champion, paid a return visit to Veterans Administration Hospital Tuesday and made a young Viet Nam war veteran a permanent fan.

Terrell sought out Gilbert Garcia, 24, of the tiny south Texas town of Bigfoot. Garcia, a corporal with the Marines in Viet Nam, lost both legs when he stepped on a booby trap south of Da Nang March 26. Garcia had said he would like to have a picture of Terrell when the 6-foot-6 heavyweight visited the hospital last week.

Tuesday Terrell handed out several photographs. The one he gave Garcia was signed, "To Gilbert, a much greater champion than I can ever be. Sincerely Ernie Terrell."

Terrell, who meets challenger Doug Jones in Texas' first heavyweight title fight here June 28, also talked with Marine Pfc Virgil Bohler, 20, of Silsbee, Tex., who was nearly given up for dead after he was wounded last October near Da Nang.

"They were two of the bravest and finest young men I've ever met," Terrell said afterwards.

Earlier Tuesday, Terrell and Jones appeared at a luncheon attended by city officials and newsmen.

Terrell told the gathering he is the only heavyweight champion and does not like to be called the "WBA champion."

"If I am the 'WBA champion,' Cassius Clay must be referred to as 'some other kind' of champion," Terrell said. "There is only one organization in boxing, the WBA."

The WBA does not recognize Clay as the champion, although he generally is regarded as the world titleholder.

"You have to play according to the rules and Clay broke those rules," Terrell said.

"I'd like to defend my title in the Astrodome," Terrell added. "I'd like for it to be with Clay if he straightens himself out, but it'll be ope nto bids."

Foxes' Magic Number Cut After 5-3 Win

was throwing out Paul Alderette. Mark Schultz singled to center, cutting the Foxes' margin to 4-3. Willie Hooker warmed up fast for the Foxes as Rubilotta ran the count to 3-1 on Henry Denoff. With Manager Stan Wasiak perched on the dugout step, one more ball to the batter would have meant an early shower for Rubilotta. However, Andy came through to whiff Deneff and quell the rally.

In the bottom of the sixth, Rubilotta was again on the verge of being taken out, as pinch batter Ron Lolich had already selected a bat to come up for Andy — the third man up in the inning. But when Jay Petersen walked, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Bob Von Eps' double to left, the Foxes had a 2-run cushion, and Wasiak let Rubilotta bat for himself.

Outside of the laborious sixth frame, when he had to serve up 32 pitches, the hard-throwing Rubilotta averaged only about 11 pitches an inning. He allowed no other serious threats to start, as he struck out eight and walked three.

Geishert and Rubilotta battled in a scoreless duel until the last half of the fourth when singles by Melton, Doug Adams and Jay Petersen produced a run.

In the fifth, the crowd of 1,126 had its biggest chance to whoop it up. Leadoff man Al Kristowski, who had punctured Geishert's hopes for another no-hitter by doubling in the first inning, produced a luck-tinged double in the fifth as center fielder Silverie lost the ball in the lights. Maness grounded out to second, Kristowski advancing. Jones walked.

Melton came up to the plate and found a pitch he liked — a belt-high curve ball. Melton blasted it high over the left-field wall, hitting it with such authority that left-fielder Henry Salanoa didn't move a step in pursuit of the ball. The blast enabled Melton to hike his runs-batted-in total to 37 and to break a tie with Jones for the club lead.

Third Straight

Von Eps' sixth-inning double added the insurance for the Foxes' third straight win and fourth success in their last five stretch-run games.

After committing an error in the second inning, Petersen came up with some superb shortstopping. He took away a couple of potential hits with great stops and throws.

Jones also came up with a spectacular play. In the eighth inning, he made a reaching stab in the hole between first and second and, while off-balance, fired a perfect lead throw to Rubilotta, who covered first for the put-out.

Versalles Gets Good News From Doctors

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Zoilo Versalles, ailing Minnesota Twins shortstop and the American League's most valuable player last season, got good news from the doctors Tuesday.

A blood clot under Versalles' right shoulder blade that hampered his throwing and has sidelined him for about a week is reducing, a Mayo Clinic doctor said.

Dr. William Proffitt, team physician, said Versalles has been advised to work out lightly this week and join the Twins Friday at Detroit ready for action.

The Mayo Clinic said it appears that if the clot continues to show improvement, surgery likely will not be necessary.

Sylvia Johnson, Oshkosh, Loses In Coed Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nicki Nordstrom of Arizona State ousted Sylvia Johnson of Oshkosh, Wis., State 4 and 2 Tuesday in the first round of the women's collegiate golf tournament.

Miss Johnson had won the final berth in qualifications the previous day for the 32 - coed field for match play. Miss Norstrom was paired in the second round today with Bonnie Byrne of California State College, a 5 and 3 victor over Jacqueline Fladoos of Clarke College.

Roberta Albers of Miami, Fla., the defending champion, whipped Jane Blalock of Rollins College 5 and 4. Peggy Conley of Washington, co - favorite in the tourney, eliminated Susan Overfelt of Michigan State 3 and 2.

John Henry Johnson Not Satisfied With Pay, Released

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fullback John Henry Johnson, given his release Tuesday by the Pittsburgh Steelers, said he has no definite plans but is "looking to play for anybody that will give me the most money."

The 11-year National Football League veteran, who had signed his 1966 contract, said he didn't get the salary he asked for.

Dan Rooney, club vice president, said Johnson told him in a letter that he was physically fit but dissatisfied with his contract.

"The letter expressed a general tone of discontent," Rooney said.

"You don't play ball," Johnson said, "if you're unhappy with the organization."

Johnson, 36, sat out last season after injuring his leg in the first game.

Cubs Botch It Up Again

Durocher on Verge of Tears

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs might not accomplish much this year but it won't be long before they have their rough, tough manager, Leo Durocher, in tears

Durocher was actually on the verge of crying Tuesday after his Cubs had botched a chance to short-circuit the league leading San Francisco Giants Instead, they lost 9-7

Forgetting a few bonehead plays in the first inning including one by Giant star Willie Mays, who cost his team a run by failing to touch third base the game went into the ninth inning with the Cubs trailing 5 4

Ollie Brown opened the Giant ninth with a double Hal Lanier bounced to shortstop Don Kessinger who had a play at third to cut down Brown and possibly get the Cubs out of the inning without any damage

But Kessinger's toss hit Brown on the back for an error Pitcher Juan Marichal then singled through the pulled in infield and before the inning was over the Giants had scored four runs

In the bottom of the ninth Byron Browne hit a three-run homer off Marichal who staggered to his 13th victory

Durocher discussing Kessinger's play, said, How can anyone do anything like that' An error is an error but a play like that is impossible Just a short flip just like hitting that door with a ball Nothing to it

He could have thrown to either side or even over the runner But not hit him in the back when he's only a couple of steps from you There's no excuse for it '

Leo got up slowly and walked into his shower stall The interview ended when he turned on the water

The Cubs had suffered their 42nd defeat of a season which has to go some before reaching the halfway mark

List Bryant As Resting Comfortably

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doctors at the View Park Community Hospital administered electrocardiagrams and other tests today to University of Alabama Football Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant but didn't say when he would be released

Spokesmen would say only that he is resting comfortably and there is no change in his condition

The famed 52 year old coach collapsed Monday while speaking to a coaches clinic at Pepperdine College

Approximately 500 coaches were present when Bryant began his talk on recruiting and organized his fields in which he is considered a specialist

Following a full day of tests doctors concluded that Bryant was suffering from internal bleeding brought on by an exhausting work schedule

Ralston Faces Rising Challenge of Russian Tennis at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, top American hope for the Wimbledon title, faced the growing challenge of Russian tennis today.

The Bakersfield, Calif., star seeded No. 6, was paired against Alexander Metreveli, the Soviet No. 1, in the second round — and he agreed it was no pushover.

"This boy can play," Ralston said. "No sensible man could fail to respect the Russians these days."

Metreveli, 22-year-old journalistic student at Tbilisi University, is the most finished product of the Russian drive to get a foothold in world tennis. For two straight years he has reached the third round at Wimbledon.

It is just seven years since the Russians decided to promote tennis as a serious sport for the Soviet people.

Win Junior Titles

Russian players won both boys' and girls' junior titles at Wimbledon last year. The Russias are out to do the same again this time, with two 17-year-olds challenging the cream of the world's teen-agers — Vladimir Korotkov and Rosa Iskanova.

Roy Emerson of Australia, tilting for his third straight Wimbledon title, has an old score to settle against Wilhelm Bungert, the tall and elegant German. Bungert was the last man to defeat Emerson at Wimbledon — in the quarter-finals of 1963.

Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, who is seeded No. 8, faced the Australian left hander, Owen Davidson.

Tony Roche, the Australian who is seeded No. 2, took his place in today's round despite an injured left ankle. He defeated Ted Beards of Britain 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 Tuesday in the first round after being granted a 24-hour postponement.

Survives Shaky Start

The women's singles got under way Tuesday and the eight seeds all successfully cleared their first hurdles. But Nancy Richey, the U.S. Wightman Cup star from Dallas, Tex., survived a shaky start before overcoming Fay Toyne of Australia 1-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Her Wightman Cup costar, Mrs. Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., overcame a long, grim second set to defeat 19-year-old Winnie Shaw, the rising Scots star, 6-2, 8-6. Billie Jean had her service broken three times in the second set, but always volleyed her way out of trouble.

Reigning champion Margaret Smith of Australia, crushed Britain's Liz Starkie, 8-6, 6-2. Maria Bueno of Brazil, winner of the title three times in seven years, scored a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla.

Santo Suffers Spike Wounds

CHICAGO (AP) — Third baseman Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs was released from a hospital after treatment of four spike wounds over his left knee suffered as the Cubs lost to the San Francisco Giants 9-7 Tuesday.

Santo, who extended his consecutive game hitting streak to 19 games before he was spiked by Giant pitcher Juan Marichal sliding into third, was given tetanus shots at the hospital.

If his knee does not stiffen, Santo will play in a Giant-Cub twi-night bill today.

The mishap occurred in the seventh inning and Santo was carried from the field by teammates and taken to Wesley Memorial Hospital.

Sturgeon Bay Wins Over Kaukauna '9'

Frank Robinson's Catch Saves Victory

STURGEON BAY — Jim Stearn mastered a 1-hitter as Sturgeon Bay beat Kaukauna, 6-0, in the Northern Division of the Fox Valley Legion League here Tuesday.

Stern fanned 14 batters and didn't walk anyone. He allowed only three men to reach base. One was on a hit by Grogan, the Kaukauna catcher, and the other two were on errors. One of the men that got to first on an error was picked off by the Sturgeon Bay catcher, Kroll.

Sturgeon Bay scored its six runs on only seven hits. Kroll had a pair of safeties and Jim Andre doubled to drive in two runs.

Tom Bils and John Jansen shared mound duties for Kaukauna. Bils started and went the first five innings with five strikeouts. Jansen finished up, striking out six and walking seven.

two-run homer in the sixth. Eddie Watt pitched 3 2-3 innings of hitless relief until the Yankees had their short-lived rally in the ninth.

The second game was tied 3-3 until the seventh when the Yankees erupted for five runs. Hal Reniff ignited the rally with a single, scored the tie-breaking run and allowed only one hit in 5 2-3 innings of relief.

Denny McLain became the first in the AL to win 11 games, stopping Washington on five hits. Jim Northrup tripled home two runs for Detroit while Norm Cash singled across two.

Cleveland's Gary Bell pitched a six-hitter and received support from Rocky Colavito, who started both of the Indians' run-scoring innings with singles. Boston scored its lone run in the ninth on Tony Conigliaro's single.

Bert Campaneris broke an 8-8 tie for Kansas City in the ninth when he got his fourth single, was sacrificed to second, stole third and continued home on catcher J. C. Martin's wild throw. Chicago had tied it in the ninth on John Romano's run-scoring double.

Ed Kirkpatrick helped California build an 8-0 lead, driving in four runs with a single and a homer. Minnesota rallied to within 8-7, but reliever Minnie Rojas stymied the Twins on two hits in the last four innings.

Manawa Deals Frailing His Second Loss

Marion Legion Team Bows, 3-1; Waupaca Wins

Manawa's American Legion baseball team beat Marion, 3-1, Tuesday night — handing pitching star Ken Frailing his second straight defeat.

Manawa's Dennis Nelson, a right-hander, scattered six hits, struck out three and walked one in gaining the decision. Southpaw Frailing, who fanned 20 batters, gave up five hits and walked three.

Waupaca smashed out a 14-3 win over Weyauwega, to record its third win in four Central Division, Fox Valley Legion League outings.

Manawa broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth inning. Gary Hass singled and took second on a wild pitch. Al Sabrowsky singled him home. A wild pitch sent him to second. Don Knaack and Dave Sabrowsky walked to fill the bases. Al scored on a wild pitch.

Al Sabrowsky and Frailing each socked a pair of singles in the game.

Waupaca scored four times in the first inning and never was headed. Ken Tappa, the winning pitcher, was relieved by John Anderson in the sixth. Tom Rohde was the loser.

Rick Riddle and Anderson each hit four singles for Waupaca, and Lonnie Sherma hit a 3-run double. Riddle drove in four runs and Anderson two.

Brillion's Kloehn Also Triumphs

Mrs. Wildenberg, Little Chute, Wins Archery Golf Crown

Mrs. Chris Wildenberg, of Little Chute, took first place in the women's division of the Fox Valley archery golf shoot held last weekend at Mount Morris.

Mrs. Wildenberg shot a 47 for 18 holes to nose out Delores Rimel, North Fond du Lac, who had a 48 and Sonje Johnson, Appleton, placed third with 50.

Robert Kloehn, Brillion, took the men's title with an 82 for 36 holes and Don Wolk, Oshkosh, was second with 83. Don Rohrbeck, Menasha, finished third with 84.

Donald Marks, Berlin, won the junior boys crown with 46, and Ann Wildenberg, Little Chute, took the junior girls title with 62 while Gayle Scheibach, Fond du Lac, had 66.

Neal Marks, Berlin, won the Cadet boys crown with 52 and Terry Sharkey, Menasha, was second with 59. Cathy Evers, Little Chute, won the cadet girls title with 81.

Fox Valley archers will be participating in a number of major shoots in the area this summer. The Fox Valley Outdoor Target shoot will be held July 17 at Lakeside Park, Fond du Lac. The Broken Arrow Club, Hilbert, will hold the Wisconsin Archers Sports Shoot July 23 and 24 and the Wisconsin Archers Flight Shoot will be July 31 at Mount Morris.

The state outdoor target championships will be held Aug. 13 and 14 at Fond du Lac and the Fox Valley Field Championships are set for Aug. 28 with the Green Bay Golden Arrow club as host. On Sept. 10 and 11, the state bowhunters shoot will be held at Neceedah.

Aqua Foxes Will Stage Meet Sunday

The Aqua Foxes Water Ski Club will hold its second annual Wisconsin Water Ski Novice Tournament on Little Lake Butte des Morts Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m.

The tournament is open to any skiers who have never finished better than 10th in any other tournament.

Trick skiing, slolom course skiing and jumping from a 5-foot ramp are the events included in the tourney. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in men's, boy's, women's, and girl's divisions.

In the afternoon, a water skiing exhibition will be presented for the general public. Anyone may view the event from the Aqua Foxes club site, which is on North Lake Street, Neenah, just across the railroad tracks from Fritschie Park.

CAC to Hold Cage Draft Thursday

The Catholic Activities Center Summer Basketball League will hold its "draft" for high school and college students at 8 p.m. Thursday, according to CAC Director Chuck Kunitz.

Buckpasser Will Face Kauai King At Arlington Park

CHICAGO (AP) — The year's first showdown between Kauai King, Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, and Buckpasser, last year's 2-year-old champion, looms in the $100,000-added Arlington Classic at Arlington Park Saturday.

Another contender is expected to be Creme dela Creme, also a hot contender for 1966 3-year-old laurels with eight victories in nine starts over two seasons.

After Kauai King's disappointing fourth place finish to Amberoid in the Belmont Stakes, owner Michael J. Ford said the colt would be freshened up until the American Derby here Aug. 6.

But after Kauai King arrived in Chicago 10 days ago, he became so frisky that Ford decided to have him take a shot at the classic.

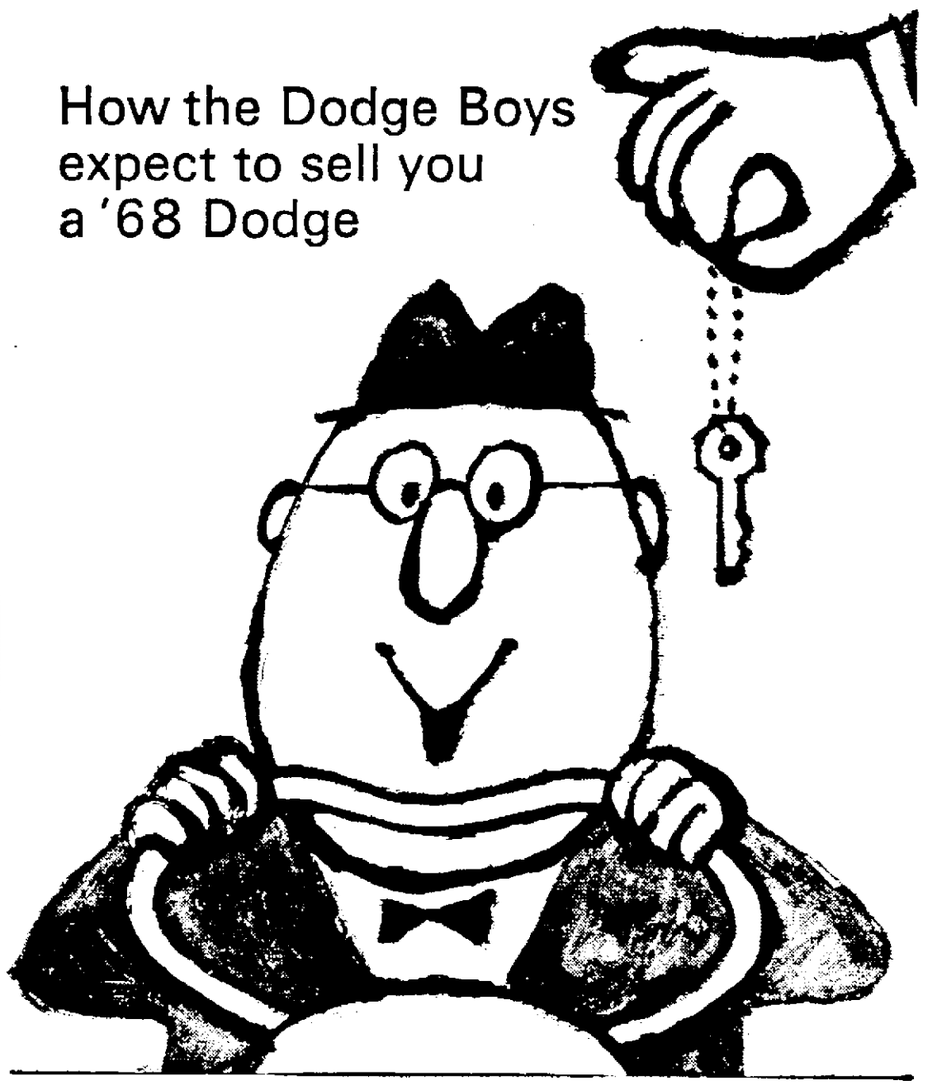
How the Dodge Boys expect to sell you a '68 Dodge



By offering a great deal on a sharp '66, then following up with "good guy" service after the sale.

There's a difference when a dealer's after repeat customers rather than just "sales right now." When you want people to trade again, there are some things you've just got to do.

You've got to make a deal that is one. You can't have people finding out later that their deal wasn't one at all.

You've got to sell yourself every time you service the car. After all, you want that Dodge in good shape, too. You'll have to resell it when your customer comes back to trade.

This is what The Dodge Boys' Rebellion is all about. Sharp cars, deals that are, and service that lets you know we want your business.

Stop in and see the dealers who are making it by being "good guys"—The Dodge Boys.

Y'gotta be a good guy if you want to be a Dodge Boy.

Reds Defeat Bucs; Marichal Wins No. 13

San Francisco downed Chicago 9-7

Shaw won his third straight game for the Mets allowing only two hits after the second inning Tim McCarver spoiled his bid for a shutout with a seventh inning homer McCarver was the only Cardinal to get past first base against the veteran right-hander

Snap Streaks

Three singles and an infield out produced both Met runs in the fourth, as New York snapped a four-game losing streak and a four-game Cardinal win string

Hank Aaron hit his 24th home run and Denny Lemaster pitched a five hitter as the Braves downed the Phillies

Aaron's total matched the National League mark for homers through June He has nine games left this month in which to break the NL record and try for the major league high of 30 held by Babe Ruth

John Bateman drove in four runs — three of them on a bases-loaded double as the Astros beat the Dodgers for the second straight night Mike Cuellar saved the victory for Dick Farrell

Juan Marichal became the major leagues winningest pitcher with his 13th victory as the Giants outlasted the Cubs Marichal was tagged for 10 hits but hung on to pick the complete game

Shaw Claims Psychology Helps Pitching

Cardinals Suspect Mets' Hurler Was Working Spitball

ST LOUIS (AP) New York right hander Bob Shaw claimed he was using psychology on St Louis Tuesday night but the Cardinals suspected that it was a good old fashioned spitball

Shaw throwing sharply breaking stuff had the Cardinals asking plate umpire Harry Wendelstedt to see the ball a half-dozen times But it did little good Wendelstedt kept upholding Shaw and Shaw kept firing his stuff at St Louis as the Mets won 2-1 on a four hitter

The victory was Shaw's third in as many starts since the San Francisco Giants sold him to New York last month It squared his record at 4-4

Shaw who floundered with the Giants this season denied that he throws a spitter He said however that he started going to his mouth before each pitch last year for psychological reasons a trick he said he learned from Lew Burdette who is widely suspected for throwing spitballs He said he wipes his hand before throwing

Sometimes you'd better get wiser as you get older Shaw said But you know when you don't get the batters out they don't want to look at the ball The more they ask for the ball the better it is for me It's a big advantage to have the hitters looking for something

St Louis Manager Red Schoendienst agreed adding that there's no question Shaw throws spitballs

But if you know he's going to throw it you might as well cope with it Schoendienst said

Shaw gave up only two hits after the second inning One of them Tim McCarver's home run in the seventh ruined his shutout He didn't walk anyone and didn't allow anyone except McCarver get past first base

He says he's pitching more effectively now because he's rounding into shape after missing spring training as a Giant holdout

John Whitlinger Wins 2 Trophies In Net Tourney

Neenah's John Whitlinger won two trophies in the Evanston tennis tournament

Whitlinger defeated Eric Friedler 6-2 6-2 in the finals of the 12 and under singles class He teamed with Waukesha's Mark Cahill to win the 14 and under doubles title They beat Glencoe's Howie Conant and Jerry Carzen 3-6 6-3 6-2

Whitlinger lost to Carzen 6-4 6-4 in the semi finals of the 14 and under singles

The Neenah Legion baseball team remained unbeaten in the Southern Division by scoring a 3-1 victory at Fond du Lac Tuesday night

In other games Menasha boosted its record to 3-1 by downing Sheboygan 5-3 and Mayville nipped Berlin 2-1

Tom Walkner hurled the win for Neenah and Mark Haberman and Gerry Steffen shared mound duties for Menasha Steffen gained the victory

Menasha was hit 10-4 but managed to score four of its five runs in the last three innings

Roger Schultz of Mayville and Mike Markofski of Berlin hooked up in a tight mound duel Schultz played a deciding role in the victory as he singled in the winning run in the ninth inning with two out

Schultz fanned 14 and walked two while Markofski had one strikeout and did not walk a man Schultz retired the last 19 men he faced

Cubs Vs. Red Skelton?

Suit Ordering Lights for Wrigley Field Dismissed

CHICAGO (AP) — A suit to compel the Chicago Cubs to install lights at Wrigley Field only major league park where night baseball is not played was dismissed in Circuit Court Tuesday

The suit was filed against owner Philip K Wrigley and other Cub directors on March 17 by Bill Shlensky 27 a railroad attorney who owns two of the 10 000 shares of club stock

Judge Daniel A Covelli in dismissing the suit ruled that a court of equity can not and should not interfere with business operations

When the suit was filed Wrigley said we always have plans for installing lights but they would be used only to finish day baseball games and for football

Wrigley Field is home base for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League

An attorney for the Cubs Arthur Morse contended that if the Cubs started playing night games they would encounter strong competition from movies shopping centers and prime television time

Would you want the Cubs to compete against Red Skelton Morse asked

The last place Cubs have won only 20 of their first 61 National League games

Cubs Purchase Astros' Don Lee

HOUSTON (AP) The Houston Astros announced Tuesday the sale of pitcher Don Lee to the Chicago Cubs

Lee was on the Astro Oklahoma City farm club roster having been sent there about three weeks ago No sale price was disclosed

Shirley Helser Fires 551 Set

Shirley Butch Helser set the pace in the Comic Couples League at the 41 Bowl in recent action as she fired games of 204 and 195 for a 551 series

Top score for the men was a 569 set by Joe Spilski

Other high scores included a 202 game and 511 series by Dawn Strebig and a 204 game and 501 series by Shirley Hiesberg

Heavy Trading Continues Rally

Market Widens Gains Before Start Of Profit Taking

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading was the heaviest of the week as the stock market's rally continued today, encountering some profit taking early this afternoon.

The market was slightly higher from the start, widened its gains and then ran into some sharp selling.

The list remained higher on balance but a number of issues which had been higher stumbled and showed losses. At the same time, fairly good gains, some running to as much as 2 or 3 points, were displayed by several of the so-called glamor issues in aerospace and office equipments.

Meanwhile, losses ranging to as much as 2 or 3 points were shown by some of the high stepping color television issues and airlines.

The market again was meeting psychological resistance as it neared the 900 level in the Dow Jones industrial average which it topped last week in a recovery drive.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.01 at 837.99.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 321.8 with industrials up 2.6, rails off .9 and utilities off .1.

Douglas Aircraft responded further to the order it received from United Air Lines for $220 million worth of aircraft. It was delayed in opening, finally sold on a block of 17,000 shares at a gain of ¾ which it stretched to a full 4 points before paring a point from the rise.

Milwaukee Arena Remodeling Plan Suggested

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A $13 million remodeling and expansion program was suggested for the Milwaukee Arena and Auditorium Tuesday.

The two halls should be air-conditioned in a $2 million project in time for the American Legion national convention here in 1968, architects said.

The program submitted to the Auditorium and Arena Board also calls for construction of a two-block concourse in front of the building, demolition of the existing building linking the Arena and Auditorium, and construction of meeting and dining halls on that site.

These projects would be carried out over a five-year period under the plans recommended by Daverman Associates, Inc., an architectural and engineering firm. The board will meet Friday to discuss the plan.

The construction changes would cost $12.5 million. Another $575,000 would be spent for new seating and furnishings, the firm said.

Lost on Appleton Street

Finder Not a Keeper; Woman Recovers $233

A route 1, Larsen woman has the honesty of an Appleton resident to thank for the recovery of $233 Tuesday.

Patrolman Charles List of the Appleton Police Department was seated in his parked squad car at College Avenue and Superior Street about 4:20 p.m. when a man came up to the car with "a handful money."

Gerald Ardell, 40, 1813 N. Clark St., told List he found the money "in a crumpled pile" in front of a popcorn machine in the 300 block of W. College Avenue. Ardell, a bindery man at Neenah Printing Co., was on his way to get a haircut.

List and Ardell counted the money which consisted of $20, $10 and $1 bills.

The money was tagged and placed in the police department vault. An hour later, Mrs. Roy Haase reported to police that she lost a large amount of money, she wasn't sure just how much after she got out of her car on W. College Avenue.

After showing proper identification, she claimed the money from police.

Identities Are Expected Soon In Legislative Lobby Probe

MADISON (AP) — An already crecy had been abused and tattered veil of secrecy guarding asked the justices to consider the identity of those indicted in calling a halt to the entire pro- a grand jury investigation of ceedings.
legislative lobbying was expect- Quick Rejection
ed to be fully lifted today.

Published reports said that the indictments named as many as six banks, and that three individuals, including two state assemblymen, might be involved. There was no confirmation.

Circuit Judge Richard W. Bardwell, presiding magistrate in the grand jury probe, had no comment. Dist. Atty. Michael Torphy could not be reached.

9 Charges

The indictments were returned Tuesday by the 17 member Dane County grand jury. Bardwell said the charges included six alleged misdemeanors and three felonies.

Warrants were issued immediately but they reportedly were not served. Instead, Torphy chose to notify the accused by telephone and arrange voluntary court appearances.

The procedure kept identities off the record in an obvious attempt to guard against a renewed attack on the validity of the secret grand jury proceedings.

The initial challenge was made by Norman Skogstad, an attorney representing the West Side Bank of Milwaukee. He told the State Supreme Court Monday that the jury's rule of se-

Bardwell said Tuesday that he expected another challenge.

The state lobby law was enacted in 1957. It prohibits lobbyists from offering legislators anything of value. The maximum penalty for violation, which is a misdemeanor, is a fine ranging from $200 to $5,000.

Witness Says Dodd Took Trip To Help Klein

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's former administrative assistant swore today that the senator told him the purpose of a 1964 trip to Germany was to help Chicago public relations man Julius Klein.

James P. Boyd Jr. was the first witness as the bipartisan Senate Ethics Committee began taking public testimony in its investigation of misconduct charges against Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat.

A trip Dodd made to Germany in April 1964 has been described by the committee as "a critical element" in the current phase of its probe — the senator's relationship with Klein, a registered agent for West German interests.

Boyd testified that before the senator made the trip, Klein had advised him that he had lost clients in Germany and needed to be "bolstered" and to have his "image refurbished."

Boyd said also that David Martin, a long-time aide to the senator, told him that the matter of interviewing a prisoner in a German prison also was involved in the trip.

Dodd has said that he made the trip for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to investigate murder and kidnaping as instruments of Soviet policy.

Dodd asked the Ethics Com-

One Other Communist Jet Damaged; Five U. S. Planes Lost Over North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot flying a jet fighter crippled by enemy fire and running critically low on fuel shot down a Communist MIG17 jet over North Viet Nam Tuesday.

One other MIG was damaged and possibly destroyed as four Navy F8 Crusaders and four MIG17s tangled 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. But the MIGs shot down one Crusader, and ground fire brought down a Navy photo-reconnaissance plane in the same area.

In all, five American planes were reported lost in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief shot down Tuesday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, an Air Force F100 Supersabre hit by Viet Cong groundfire 75 miles southwest of Saigon today and a C123 transport downed on a defoliation mission over the South Tuesday.

Crews Rescued

The crews of both planes lost in South Viet Nam were rescued.

In the ground war, U.S. paratroopers and cavalrymen battled a Communist battalion on the eastern flank of South Viet Nam's strategic central highlands for the third day, and a spokesman said the enemy toll had risen to 144 killed.

No major action was reported elsewhere in the South. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky eased his political war against his militant Buddhist opponents by briefly lifting the five-day blockade of Saigon's Buddhist Institute. During the hour's respite, 203 persons quit the encircled compound, but several hundred remained behind.

Several truckloads of draftage youths were hauled off for military service as Ky mingled the conciliatory gesture with continued firmness against the dissidents.

Continues Fast

The battle with the Communist battalion was the third this month in the central highlands, whose loss would split South Viet Nam in two. It began Monday when the Reds hit a small unit of the 101st Airborne Division pushing through a valley during Operation Nathan Hale.

Helicopters quickly lifted in reinforcements from the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division. The outnumbered Communists pulled into tunnels and log bunkers they had prepared to keep a toe-hold on the highland stretch north of the coastal town of Tuy Hoa.

U.S. officers think that the Communists may plan a summer monsoon offensive with the highlands as their chief target. To keep an enemy drive from starting, the allied forces are staging constant search operations in the area, seeking out enemy concentrations.

Patrolmen Seal Off Small Neighborhood in Shooting

Battles Erupt as Civil Rights Leaders Debate 75 Miles Away

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Highway patrolmen sealed off a small Negro neighborhood early today after Negroes and whites exchanged gunfire in Philadelphia. One white man was wounded late Tuesday night.

The gun battles erupted here as civil rights leaders 75 miles away debated the merits of violence and nonviolence when they returned to Philadelphia as part of the Mississippi march.

Philadelphia Police Chief Bruce Latimer said a white man whom he identified as Stanley Stuart, an employe of a glove factory, was wounded during an exchange of gunfire near the Freedom Democratic party headquarters.

Stuart was treated for buck shot wounds in the neck and shoulder at a hospital here and sent home.

The highway patrol moved in and blocked off a three or four block area.

Birdshot

"No one's going in or coming out until daybreak," said Inspector Maynard King.

Latimer said Stuart's car was hit by both birdshot and buckshot. He said he thought Stuart was alone at the time.

Negroes inside the Freedom Democrat headquarters relayed a report to their offices that three carloads of whites drove up and began firing at them. They said they returned the fire and thought they hit at least two cars.

Other staccato bursts of gun fire were heard in the area later.

Jim Letherer, a white one-legged veteran of the Selma, Ala., march, said he was outside the F. D. T. building at the time. Letherer, 32, from Saginaw, Mich., said a blue car drove by and a shot was fired from it.

It returned a few minutes later and three or four more shots were fired.

"I was standing about five feet from the car," Letherer said. "He shot at me and missed. After he shot at me he pulled away real fast. I threw my crutch at the back of the car.

More Shots

"A bunch of local folks were armed and they started shooting back."

More than an hour later, he said, a second car with two men

Hundreds Riot; 24 Arrested In Florida City

Cars Overturned, Policemen Injured In Pompano Beach

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes rioted early today, throwing rocks and bottles at police, stores and cars before riot police cleared the streets with billy clubs and the threat of tear gas.

Two cars were overturned, one was set fire, and three or four policemen hurt by flying glass, one officer said.

Debris littered the main street in the Negro district from sidewalk to sidewalk, but the overall damage apparently was light.

Display windows at two stores were smashed, and there were three reports of homes being looted.

Police arrested 24 Negroes.

The riot in this city of 16,000 about 25 miles north of Miami lasted less than an hour.

It apparently was the culmination of tension built up Tuesday when reports spread

Father, Son Seek Same Legislative Seat

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A Wichita man has filed for the Republican nomination for the same legislative seat being sought by his son, a Democrat.

"I suppose it creates an odd-looking situation," said Bruce B. Madden, the father. "But the filings were entirely independent."

Madden's son, Robert B. Madden, 21, filed for the Democratic nomination for state representative early in May. He did not know of his father's intentions.

Friend Sought On Charges Of Abduction

RACINE (AP) — A family friend was sought today in connection with the disappearance of a 6-year-old girl.

A warrant charged Gerald F. Pashek, 44, with abduction, a police official said.

The child, Debra Sue Larsen, was found apparently unharmed Tuesday about 24 hours after she had disappeared.

Deputy Inspector Thomas J. Koetting said the warrant was issued after a witness reported a man let the girl out of a car near her home. The witness wrote down the car's license number, Koetting said.

Pashek's car was found parked in the Milwaukee suburb of Cudahy. Police in Cudahy said today they were watching the rooming house where Pashek had lived, but had not been able to locate him.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Larsen, who moved here recently from Cudahy, described Pashek as a family acquaintance.

Servicemen's Pay Hike Clears Major Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pay increase for U.S. servicemen averaging 3.2 per cent reportedly has cleared a major congressional hurdle.

Sources said Senate-House conferees reached tentative agreement Tuesday on the increase for some 3 million persons now on active military duty or in other uniformed services.

Details of the military pay boost were expected to be announced today by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., House Armed Services Committee chairman.

Police Still Search for Clues To Death of Boy in Superior

SUPERIOR (AP) — Detectives turned to science today to try to solve the mysterious death of a 14-year-old newspaper carrier boy.

Police conceded they had found few clues in two days of investigation after the crushed body of Michael Fisher was found abandoned in a roadside ditch.

"We'll have to rely on the State Crime Laboratory," said Police Chief Charles Barnard.

The chief said the youngster's clothing was being sent to the crime laboratory in Madison. Also forwarded were blood-stained rags found on a bridge Tuesday.

Barnard said the rags appeared to contain a fragment of tissue and hair. They were discovered in a paper bag on a girder of a bridge over the Nemadji River about three miles from where the boy's wagon and its load of newspapers were found Sunday.

Police Uncertain

Barnard said he was leaning toward the theory that the boy was beaten to death, although police have not yet completely discarded the alternate possibility that the youngster was struck by a hit-and-run vehicle.

The wagon was found in front of the first home on Michael's newspaper route Sunday morning. The other 65 papers were undelivered. The body was found 12 hours later in a remote area at the outskirts of Superior.

An autopsy attributed the cause of death to a crushing blow on the head. Absence of widespread bloodstains at both the area where the wagon was left and the place where the body was found has led police to speculate that the boy was lured into an automobile before his death.

Still missing were the 14-inch long wire cutters the Fisher boy carried to use in opening newspaper bundles.

Authorities quoted a witness as reporting having overheard an early morning argument Sunday in which one voice shouted, "You're going to jail," and another replied, "No, I'm not going to be arrested."

An investigator theorized that the youngster may have "seen something he shouldn't have."

Mysterious Crew Seizes Station; Police Hold Couple

LONDON (AP) — A leading British politician-businessman was charged with murder today after the operator of a pirate radio station was found slain in his home.

The dead man's pop music station off the southeast coast in the Thames estuary meanwhile was occupied by a mysterious band of raiders who silenced it.

Maj. William Oliver Smedley, former vice president of the Liberal party and a pirate radio tycoon, was charged with murder in a special court.

The dead man was Reg Calvert, 37, who ran Radio City, a pop station operating from an abandoned antiaircraft fort on Shivering Sands, 12 miles off the coast.

The shooting came shortly after disclosure that an unidentified boarding party had taken over the station.

Police gave no indication whether there was any direct link between the raid and shooting.

Smedley, 54, is chairman of Project Atlanta, an organization

Summer Enrollments Near 19,000 for 11 Campuses in State

MADISON (AP) — Summer session enrollments at the 11 campuses of the University of Wisconsin neared 19,000 as classes began Tuesday.

Subsequent registration in several short sessions is expected to raise the total to 22,000, more than 10 per cent above 1965, the university said

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of two young people in separate accidents have brought Wisconsin's 1966 highway toll to 406, compared with 419 on this date a year ago.

Rodney Notsinger Jr., 15, of rural Elroy died Tuesday of injuries received on Monday when a tractor overturned on him as he drove the vehicle on a town road near Elroy.

Cameron Puckett, 3, of Woodman died Tuesday night of injuries suffered a few hours earlier when he was struck by a car in Woodman.

A double-fatality crash on a highway narrowed to one-lane traffic because of construction drove Wisconsin's 1966 traffic toll to 404, compared with 419 a year ago today.

Two persons died Tuesday in a headon collision near Spring Green on U.S. 14 where barricades had been erected in one lane of traffic by a construction crew.

Killed were Earl S. Campbell, 47, of rural Spring Green, and Mrs. Oriole LaFleur, 62, Bay City, Mich. Her husband,

House Committee

Hearings Begin on Military Draft; General Hershey Is First Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee opens hearings today on the military draft — a system the committee chairman described as an "unpleasant fact of life that cannot be wished away."

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who has headed the Selective Service for 25 years, is the first witness at sessions called by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers after the draft came under fire from congressional critics.

In a statement prepared for the start of today's hearing, Rivers said the committee must determine whether the draft law is functioning as Congress intended or whether it needs substantial revision.

Facts Clear

The South Carolina Democrat added: "The facts appear abundantly clear — we do need a draft law for now and the foreseeable future."

Hershey's testimony could have a bearing on whether there will be a later, full scale investigation of the Selective Service System.

"If it looks like the draft needs an investigation, we'll make it," Rivers said.

Rivers acknowledged there have been complaints about the draft's operation. He said he hoped Hershey could answer them.

Some of these he cited as:

— One local board defers a college student indefinitely, while another board terminates the deferment from completion of the academic year.

No nationwide regulation on part time students.

— High school dropouts must score higher on tests than high school graduates to be accepted.

"This obviously encourages high school dropouts," Rivers commented.

The chairman warned "No law . . . can endure if it does not, in the last analysis, have the sanction and support of a majority of the people."

Congressional critics contend the draft discriminates against the poor and uneducated. They charge that the affluent who can afford to go to college are deferred.

Some members of Congress have suggested that other types of national service, such as the Peace Corps, be allowed as an alternative to the draft.

But others say new administrative procedures could curb discrimination.

Just Treatment

"We will never devise a draft law which will gladden the heart of the young man who receives his induction notice," Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said in calling for a special draft study commission last month.

"But we can write a law which will assure him that his country is treating him justly, without discrimination and with his best interests in mind during this period of national emergency."

The "authority to induct" portion of the draft law expires June 30, 1967. The hearings starting today could provide groundwork for decisions on this and other sections of the law.

De Gaulle Shares Viet Nam Views With Brezhnev

MOSCOW (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle discussed the war in Viet Nam with Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev today and French sources reported their views were similar.

The informants said De Gaulle was critical of U.S. policy on Viet Nam while Brezhnev accused the United States of savage aggression.

The French sources said the two leaders "noted the convergence of their points of view on the Viet Nam situation."

Earlier French sources said differing viewpoints had slowed up the opening round Tuesday.

"When we talk about easing of tensions, they talk about security," one French informant complained.

President Johnson and a royal visitor, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, are side by side as arrival honors are rendered Tuesday on the south grounds of the White House. The king is in Washington on a two-day state visit. (AP Wirephoto)

Chilton Co-Op Garage Burns in Tuesday Fire

Two-Truck Structure Owned by Station Totally Demolished

CHILTON — A two-truck garage owned by the Co-Op Service Oil Co. station on E. Grant Street was razed by fire about 5:40 p.m. Tuesday.

The fire appeared to have originated in the ruins of the adjacent old Lunde building, which burned several years ago, Fire Chief Nobert Sturm said.

Co-op spokesman said the west wall of the co-op's seed storage building, located next to the garage, was burned. Seed valued at $3,000 was lost.

The entire city volunteer fire department was called out in the effort to contain the blaze. The co-op mill and a private seed company also are located nearby.

Unloading Car

The blaze was noticed by workers who were unloading a railroad freight car of feed between the mill and burning garage. They reported hearing a series of explosions from the garage when notifying the fire department.

Sturm said the freight car saved the mill from being destroyed. Firemen were able to keep it covered by water and prevented the blaze from spreading further.

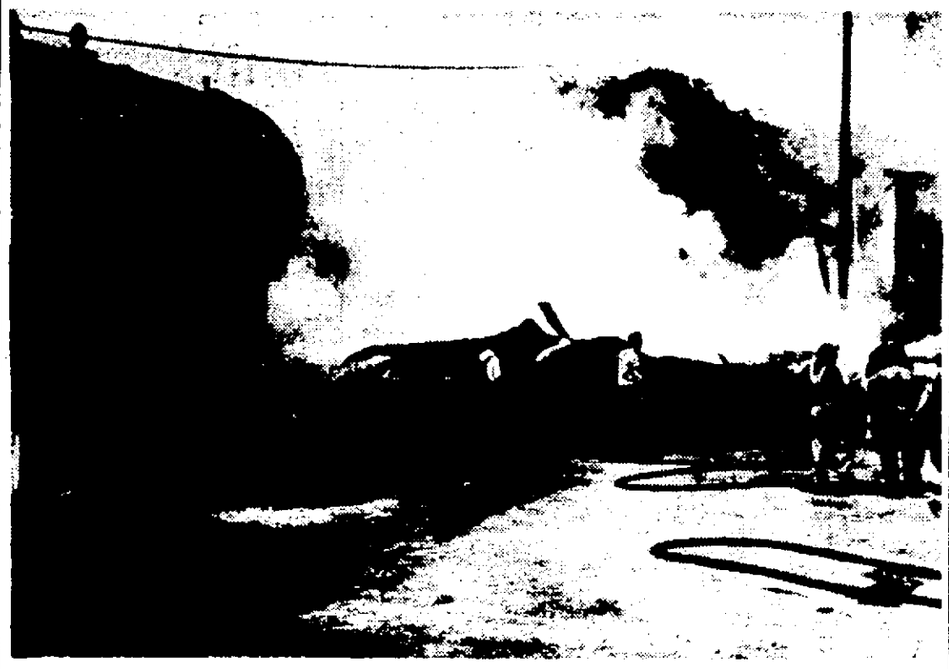
About a half-ton of feed in the car was destroyed by the heat. The wall of the car facing the fire was badly warped.

Intense Heat

Co-op mill workers had to discontinue unloading the car because of intense heat.

Two trucks normally stored in the garage were removed before the structure collapsed. An old car stored there was lost.

Sturm said the department brought the blaze under control in 20 minutes, but firemen remained at the scene for two hours to prevent a flareup from the smoldering ruins.



The Chilton Co-Op Oil Service Co. station's garage was razed in a fire of undetermined origin Tuesday night. Firemen battled the blaze in an effort to keep it from spreading to a nearby feed mill also owned by the co - op. There was no damage estimate. (Youngsteadt Photo)

Water Level a Vexing Issue

Foresee Citizens Committee To Deal With Lake Problems

A citizens committee to deal with problems of Lake Winnebago, primarily the water level, will probably be established soon by the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, William Morris, executive director, said today.

Morris, who met Monday night in Oshkosh with two officials of the Fond du Lac County Conservation Alliance to discuss the lake water level problem, said a recommendation calling for establishment of a committee will be submitted to the commission's executive committee at its July meeting.

John Franson, president of the Conservation Alliance, said the alliance is primarily interested in establishing a water level which will provide for better navigation.

Find Solution

Franson said the meeting with Morris was arranged because the Alliance now has a special committee on the Lake Winnebago water level which is attempting to find some solution.

He said the Alliance was seeking a responsible, governmental body that could effectively deal with the problem.

Franson said that while he is confident the proposed committee will solve the problem, "if for some reason it is unable to do so, we will call for a congressional hearing."

According to Morris and Franson, the committee would be composed of one representative of each municipality affected by Lake Winnebago, lake property owners, navigational interests, conservation groups, paper firms and state and federal officials.

Morris and Franson said they hope the committee is organized by August so it can meet to identify the exact problems and begin working on them.

In addition to the water level problem, Morris noted that siltation in the Fond du Lac area and pollution are two other areas of concern.

Franson said he, Fred King, chairman of the Alliance's special committee, and Morris, will meet with Fond du Lac County officials July 11 to discuss the problem and also to explore the possibility of Fond du Lac County joining the planning commission.

He "can't be sure what the exact response will be of the county officials to the suggestion the county join the commission."

Plate Glass Smashed at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — A large double-thick glass window was smashed at the Art Kiermas garage, corner of Eighth and Main streets, sometime Monday night, according to city police.

Glass was scattered on the showroom floor, but no object was found.

Police said there are indications the window was struck by a fist or a heavy object. There was no evidence of blood and apparently no entry was made.

Brillion Approves Curb, Gutter Work

Assessment for Sheet Project Set at $2.85 Per Lineal Foot

BRILLION — A board of public works proposal to assess $2.85 per lineal foot for an extensive amount of curb and gutter work won council approval at a special session Monday.

Property owners will have a chance to air the assessments at a public hearing at 8:30 p.m. July 8. Some 13,400 feet of curb and gutter will be placed on Lee Avenue from Custer Street to W. Ryan Street and along Roselawn Drive, E. Water Street, Lincoln Avenue, S. Parkway Street, Grand Avenue and S. and N. Francis Street.

The construction of sidewalks along Lee Avenue in the Parsons addition was discussed and tabled for the time being.

Plumbing Work

A contract for plumbing work at the city garage addition was awarded to Paul Engel Plumbing and Heating. The bid was $663. Bids for heating will be opened at 8 p.m. July 25.

In other council action, a $995 expenditure was approved for painting the old water tower. The price includes re-lettering, and will be done by Larson Tank Co.

The two new elevated units were recently painted by the firm.

Increased city water rates will be placed in effect July 1, according to Public Service Commission approval, councilmen learned. First billing for the new rates will be Oct. 1.

Tax Apportionment

Lynn Williams, city clerk, reported that the city received $2,127 remittance from the state treasurer for telephone tax apportionment.

The clerk read a supplemental order from the Public Service Commission which extended the time for completion of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. grade crossing of Glenview Avenue.

The time is extended to July 1, 1967.

K of C Council Elects Officers At Manawa

MANAWA — Frank Binder was elected grand knight of the local council of the Knights of Columbus at the groups meeting last week.

Other officers elected were Dr. Richard Larsen, deputy grand knight; Franklin Trantow, chancellor; Lowell Prellwitz, recorder; Albert Kielpinski, treasurer; Gordon Carew, advocate; Ray Nellis, warden; Leon Pankratz, outside guard; James Carew, inside guard, and William Jensen, lecturer.

James O'Donnell jr. was elected to a three-year term as trustee.

The council was informed that Gerald Simon has been reappointed district deputy of District No. 5 for a third term.

New officers will be installed at the August meeting.

Manawa Will Consider Two School Proposals

Plans Costing $1,155,500 and $784,500 To be Explained at July 19 District Meeting

MANAWA — Proposals for school expansion totaling $1,155,500 and $784,500 will be considered at a July 19 meeting of Joint District No. 7.

An informal vote will be taken to give the school board planning direction.

The school board met until midnight Tuesday with Sheboygan architect Lawrence Bray, discussing the proposed agenda for the meeting.

Members decided that a short history of the expansion situation will be presented and then Bray will explain the two proposals with their cost estimates.

Scheme A, costing $1,155,500, would use existing facilities for kindergarten through eighth grade, and construct new facilities for the high school.

Scheme B, whose cost is estimated at $784,500, would remodel present facilities for grades seven through 12, and build new space for the kindergarten through sixth grade.

Advantages for Scheme A outweigh the disadvantages Bray said. A new high school could be designed to meet its needs. All areas would be fully utilized, with very little remodeling of existing facilities.

There would be a high num-

New London Delays Action On Subdivision Facilities

Planners, Works Board to Study Proposal Before Offering Plans

NEW LONDON — Action was delayed Monday until July 11 by the city Planning Commission on a program for installing public improvements in subdivisions.

After lengthy discussion members decided more study was needed before any recommendation to the council could be made. The Board of Public Works met with the commission in the special meeting.

The new proposal would basically determine when, how and what the cost of improvements would be to the subdivision. Idea of the ordinance is to eliminate costly checkerboard development and avoid some of the tax burden placed on taxpayers.

Pay Schedule

It was pointed out that the city had not lost any money in sub-division development. All bills had been paid for public improvements.

Under the current plan developments are put in sub-divisions the same as normal development within the city, with a three-year and 6 per cent per annum pay schedule for the improvements.

Mayor Harry S. Emans said, "We don't want an ordinance that will hinder progress nor one that puts a financial burden on the city or puts them in the financing business."

Raise Interest Rate

Art Gesse, commission member, suggested raising the interest rate to encourage borrowing to pay for improvements and setting up a plan encouraging development in unison rather than checkerboarding which is extremely expensive.

City Attorney S. W. Krostue, said the amount of interest to be charged was a minor detail. The contents of the ordinance and what items it covers are the important matters, he said.

"A realtor will be able to sell more lots and much easier if not restricted to selling from one block at a time," Krostue added. "Persons not paying their special assessments when due was charged at the rate of .8 of one per cent per month," he added.

Plan Premature

Ray Pelishek, public works director, said, "the sub-division development plan as laid out in the city planning report was good, but the city isn't of size enough to handle it at present. We have over $1 million in storm sewers which have to be installed throughout the city." Pelishek listed the plan as a little premature.

Pelishek suggested the state statute on sub-divisions be adopted with various amendments as a control ordinance.

The proposed plan would have the sub-divider pay for all sanitary sewer work in the area by having it done himself or petitioning the city, installing adequate water supply to meet requirements of the public utility and various other improvements including curb and gutter, streets and sidewalks are covered in the plan.

Richard Berglund, commission member, said, "if the city wants to grow and expand it will have to carry part of the financial load. Otherwise, the developments will be made in some other area."

Objections By Owners of Corner Lots

CHILTON — Aldermen Tuesday night approved a resolution authorizing a $44,000 water and sewer project for the city.

The project includes water and sanitary sewer mains and extensions on Bonk, Connell and Jensen streets in the Homebuilders plat, Manhattan Street east of Memorial Drive, and on portions of Calumet and Breed streets.

The resolution allows the city to negotiate contracts and provides for payment through the levying of special property owner assessments.

Also provided is a $3,037 curb and gutter project on the entire length of Hawthorne Court.

The action followed a public hearing on the special assessment schedule recommended by the McMahon Associates engineering firm, Menasha, and Director of Public Works Walter Muehl.

Assessment Rates

Rates are $6.50 per foot for sanitary sewer, $5.50 per foot for water mains, $225 for service connection with lateral, and $2.63 per foot for curb and gutter.

Main objections came from corner lot owners who previously had been assessed for work along one side of their property. Although it has been city practice to pay one-third of the cost for the long side of the lot, some owners felt this was inadequate compensation.

Assessments are payable in cash or in three installments with 6 per cent interest after the first year.

Attorney Neil Hobbs, Fond du Lac, advised the council during the hearing after City Atty. William Engler, Jr., disqualified himself because he owns property involved in the project. Hobbs said it was difficult to ensure the complete fairness of any assessment.

The council also authorized city participation in the Wisconsin Retirement Fund, effective Jan. 1, 1967.

The council agreed to pay the cost of printing a city promotion brochure initiated by the Chamber of Commerce. The four page brochure will cost $310 for 5,000 copies.

Southern Evangelist To Speak at Services

CLINTONVILLE — Billy Davis, an evangelist from Macon, Ga., will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Clintonville Tabernacle. He also will speak at the Sunday services.

Following the services, the Tabernacle will close for the duration of the Wisconsin District Camp meeting.

The Rev. Benjamin D. Urshan is pastor of the Clintonville Tabernacle.

Faulks Bros. Co. Wins Curb, Gutter Contract For Weyauwega Work

Waupaca Firm Bids $13,879 on Project; Board of Review Members Appointed

WEYAUWEGA — A contract totaling $13,879 was awarded to Faulks Bros. Construction Co., Waupaca, for the installation of curb and gutter on several streets at the council meeting Monday night.

One other bid of $15,144.50 was received from Ed Sommers, Shiocton.

The curb and gutter will be installed on W. Wisconsin and on N. Mary streets from N. Mill west to the intersection of Mary and Wisconsin and then south to West Main Street.

Work is scheduled to begin by June 27.

Board of Review

Appointed to the Board of Review were Kenneth Radtke for a five-year term and Ralph Peterson to complete an unexpired term. They will replace Earl Knowles, who resigned recently, and Harold Clark whose term expired.

The council authorized purchase of a one-watt self-charging walkie-talkie to be used by the police department.

A request by Police Chief Lawrence Schmies for a radar timer was tabled. He explained that speeding had become excessive in the city and often the squad car does not catch up with the speeder until he is out of the city. He pointed out that a school zone is located near one exit. Using the radar timer would be safer because the squad car would not have to speed thru the city endangering others, he added.

In other action, the council approved 17 bartenders licenses, 16 cigarette licenses, 16 non-intoxicating beverage licenses and one milk license.

Sewage in Fox

River Pollution Level 'Very Unsatisfactory'

Pollution of the Fox River in Appleton from human sewage has apparently reached a "very unsatisfactory" stage.

The extent of pollution in the river is known from a "coli count," according to Dr. William Gallaher, Appleton water plant superintendent.

A "coli count," according to Gallaher, is an "index of human pollution." He said "it indicates how much pollution there is in the river based upon the amount of human sewage. It is a form of bacteria count."

Gallaher disclosed Monday that he will inform state and municipal officials attending the Governor's Conference of pollution in Green Bay on June 30 that the average coli count in the Fox River at Appleton "is far from satisfactory."

High-Level Conference

Gallaher will be among several officials from this area attending the high-level conference, but is one of few requested to give professional opinions on pollution based on the data to which they have access.

Anything beyond a coli count of 24,000 per 100 milliliters represents "a very unsatisfactory situation," Gallaher said.

The coli count data he is supplying the conference dates back to 1934. The Fox River is Appleton's present water supply source.

The annual average shows that during the past decade the coli count has been on the decrease, but is still almost twice as high as it should be.

Gallaher's report shows the average count in 1965 was 43,900 per 100 cubic mililiters.

"Safest Years"

The safest years were from 1934 to 1943 when the count ranged from only 12,700 to 26,400.

However, during the period of 1944-48 the coli count was 87,300 per 100 cubic mililiters and from 1949-53 it averaged out to 72,000.

During 1954-58 there was a sharp dip to 44,000 and then it increased from 1959-63 to 58,600.

Gallaher said the fluctuations could be blamed to many things including stream flow, waste dumped into the river, water

Sundays' Results

Marion Undefeated in BABA Competition

MARION — In the Eastern and Western division of the BABA Marion remained the only undefeated team as they dumped Tigerton Sunday 5-2.

In other action Clintonville edged Big Falls 2-0 in 11 innings, Leopolis beat Bowler 11-6, Caroline downed Menominee 10-3, and Gresham beat Shawano 5-1.

Marion came up with five runs in the third inning as Bob Schroeder was safe after running out a third strike. Larry Westphal bunted moving the runner to second base. Ken Lodewegan singled, an error put Dennis Brandenburg at first, moving Lodewegan to second as Schroeder scored. Remaining runners scored on Dave Brandenburgs single, and Gordy Kopitzke hit a two run homer.

Tigerton didn't score until the eighth.

High Points

Kopitzke had three hits for Marion and Lodewegan had two. Gary Schlender, Mike Thiel and John Hanson each had two hits for Tigerton.

The winning pitcher was Lodewegan who allowed eight hits. The loser was Gary Schlender who allowed seven hits.

Big Falls lost a heartbreaker to Clintonville as the two teams battled to a scoreless deadlock until the 11th inning.

Sam Hogan who relieved pitcher Kurt Marshek in the seventh got the win. Bill Radies went all the way for the loss. Marshek and Hogan allowed six hits, fanned 13 and walked two.

Radies allowed only five hits, struck out four and walked one.

Nine Runs

Bowler led Leopolis 5-2 going into the ninth when Leopolis came up with nine runs to win. Greg Stezinski was the winning pitcher as he fanned 13. Mike Zienert who was relieved by Lyle Grosskopf in the ninth was the loser. Bowler outhit the winners 9-7. Al Steinke got two hits for Leopolis. Carl Kerstner had three for Bowler.

Tim Olson went all the way for Caroline in beating Menominee, he fanned 10. Guy Grignon was the loser. He was relieved by Jerry Roebeck in the second and Roger Waukau came on the eighth. Caroline had 12 hits and Menominee had 10. Tom Joswiak homered for Caroline and Reg Waukau homered for Menominee.

Gresham came up with four runs in the top of the ninth highlighted by a bases loaded double by winning pitcher Dave Kuhn to beat Shawano.

Marv Wiesnicht who was relieved by Frank Wegner in the 10th was the loser. Gresham had 13 hits with Joe Duquain getting three. Shawano had nine with Tom Cotter getting three.

Sunday Games

Games next Sunday will have Menominee at Leopolis, Bowler at Shawano, Gresham at Clintonville, Caroline at Tigerton, and Marion at Big Falls.

In the Northern division of the BABA Sunday Wittenberg nipped Eau Claire Dells 4-3 as both Steve Strong, Wittenberg and the Dells' Larry Olson allowed only six hits.

Strong and Gene Wood homered for the winners with Strongs coming in the top of the eighth to break a 3-3 tie.

In other action Elderon downed Hatley 15-5 as they pounded out 19 base hits. Winning pitcher Dave Boda blasted two homers for Elderon as did teammate Richie West while Gary Wyman also had a homer. Romey Zblewski was the loser. Hatley had nine hits including a home run by Bill Joswiack.

State Veterans

Stordock Nominated For Honor at King

WAUPACA — G. H. Stordock, former commandant of the Grand Army Home at King and a leader in state veterans organizations, has been nominated to have one of the new buildings being constructed at the home named in his honor.

The nomination came at the annual state convention of Disabled American Veterans Sunday at Fond du Lac.

New Structures

A new central service building is under construction at the home and a new $2.5 million nursing care home will be started later this summer.

Myhra is chairman of the Assembly veterans and military affairs committee, and the resolution was in recognition of Stordock's efforts in behalf of legislation pertaining to veterans of all wars and their dependents.

Stordock has been legislative director of the Wisconsin Veterans Council since 1961. He also was active during World War II in the same capacity and was largely responsible for legislation enacted at that time for veterans of WW II. Following the Korean conflict he promoted similar legislation.

Woman to Teach In West Africa For Summer

NEW LONDON — Janis Marzinzik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Henry Marzinzik, 310 E. Hancock St., left Saturday for West Africa where she will participate in an education program titled "Operation Crossroads".

She will attend orientation sessions at Douglass College, New Brunswick, N.J., before leaving with the privately sponsored organization for Africa. Miss Marzinzik will leave New York Friday for Monrovia, Liberia.

"Crossroads" is similar to the Peace Corps, except that it is a summer program. About 320 persons have been chosen from 1,800 applicants to work in 26 foreign countries.

Miss Marzinzik will return Aug. 27. She will resume her duties as a teacher at Sabish Junior High School, Fond du Lac, this fall.

Radio Hams To Participate In U. S. Contest

Waupaca Club Will Seek Contact With Other Stations

WAUPACA — The Amateur Radio Club will participate in a nationwide field day exercise Saturday and Sunday, according to Paul Niles, club president.

Purpose of the contest is to contact as many other stations in the United States, its possessions and Canada during a 24-hour period, starting at 4 p.m. Saturday.

The club will set up emergency equipment which will be powered by a gas driven generator, and operate two amateur radio stations.

Site of the operation will be the Rainbow Stag Club between Shadow Lake and County Trunk E, two miles south of here.

Approximately 15 club members will run the radio equipment. Last year the club made nearly 700 contacts with other stations during the 24-hour period.

Niles said the contest is designed to demonstrate what can be done in establishing a radio network in times of an emergency.

The contest is sponsored by the American Amateur Radio Relay League.

Tentative Pact Okayed For Razing of Bridge

New London to Ask PSC Hearing Regarding City-Railroad Agreement on High Street Job

NEW LONDON — The city council Tuesday approved a preliminary agreement between New London and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. on the razing of the High Street Bridge and establishment of a grade crossing.

City Atty. S. W. Krostue will submit a petition to the Public Service Commission (PSC) today for a hearing on the bridge.

Krostue said the proposal was believed to be a reasonable solution. The project is unusual in that it eliminates an overhead bridge for a grace crossing, Krostue said.

City's Share

The city's share of the $26,137 total cost of the project is estimated at $20,062 in the preliminary agreement. The PSC will make the final decision on distribution of cost to the involved parties.

A meeting of the light committee with the board of education is to be scheduled regarding lights used during the night at the Washington High School building.

The city is now paying $40 per month to operate the lights.

Ald. Isabelle Schoenrock (2nd), light committee chairman, recommended the billing of the lights be turned over to the school district.

Action Needed

Krostue said all that was needed was for the council to withdraw its authorization for supplying power and the school then would have to arrange for a supply with the utility. He suggested a meeting of the committee and school board to discuss the matter.

No change has been made in the lighting arrangement with the utility since the school building became part of the New London unified district.

A request by Ald. Schoenrock to remove a parking meter from in front of Markman's Department Store and another from in front of Burton's Bar and placed on State Street was tabled for study.

Objects To Removal

Ald. Robert Raithel (5th) objected to the removal of the meter from in front of Burton's Bar.

Police Chief Jack Algiers wants the meter in front of the tavern removed to improve the flow of traffic on U. S. 45 headed north. The removal of the meter would give an additional 20 feet of space for traffic making right turns on the right turn, no stop corner.

Alds. Tohm, Stern and Stewart were named to the board of review.

Clintonville Club To Sponsor Tour

CLINTONVILLE—The Flower and Garden Club will sponsor a tour on Sunday. The group will meet in the parking area off Seventh Street at 8 a.m.

Anyone interested in taking the tour may contact either Mrs. Joseph Paul or Mrs. E. A. Hutchinson for reservations.

Chilton Nine Forfeits Game

EWC Commission Rules Two Ineligible Players Competed

NEW HOLSTEIN — Bob Feuerstein, Eastern Wisconsin Conference commissioner, from New Holstein, annouced Tuesday that Chilton High School has been ordered to forfeit an earlier EWC contest to Kiel because of the use of two ineligible players.

Feuerstein said two Chilton players had played with an amateur league outside of school in violation of Eastern Wisconsin Conference rules. Although Chilton won the game, 3-2, the records will show a forfeited win to Kiel.

Chilton's league record is now 3-2 and Kiel is 1-4.

Washington High Class Will Hold Reunion In New London

NEW LONDON — The Washington High School class of 1961 will hold its five year reunion at 6:30 p.m., Aug. 13, at the Rainbow Supper Club.

Legion Posts Will Hold Joint Installation

BRILLION — A joint installation service for new officers of the six Calumet County American Legion posts will be conducted Thursday by Sixth District Commander Casey Jones, Montello.

New officers of the Brillion post are Dan Grether, commander; Don Deffke, first vice commander; Bob Heinga, second vice commander; Lloyd Habermann, finance officer; Don Baer and Ken Geiger, sargeants-at-arms; Tom Hoyt, chaplain; Art Neumeyer, historian; Wilbert Behnke, service officer, and Peter Konyha, adjutant.

Arrives in August

Ethiopian Student to Spend 1966 School Year at Brillion

BRILLION — Sinkie Bahiru, a native of Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, Africa, is Brillion's foreign exchange student for the 1966-67 school year.

He will live with the Herbert Bastian family, route 1. The Bastians have three sons, Jim, 20, Joel, 16, and John, 14.

Bahiru, who will arrive here the first week in August, lists football, basketball and volleyball as his favorite games. He enjoys popular music and is interested in learning to play a musical instrument. Due to a lack of instruments in Africa, this interest could not be fulfilled there, he said. He also enjoys swimming, hiking and playing checkers.

The young African is presently enrolled in a technical school in Ethiopia and lists mathematics, general science and mechanical drawing as his favorite subjects. He plans to be an electrician.

The city's first foreign exchange student, Bui-Quang Thach, from South Viet Nam, who spent the year with the Charles Miller family, route 1, will leave next week.

ber of teaching stations. The junior high school would have separate use of science, home economics and shop equipment. Expansion room for all grades would be available.

Disadvantages of scheme A include poor circulation in the lower grades and a high initial building cost.

Advantages of Scheme B, Bray said, include a plant for kindergarten through sixth grades designed for needs, low initial building cost, and utilization of all areas.

Disadvantages of Scheme B include poor circulation in grades seven through 12 and a large investment in an old building with the possibility of it becoming outdated in a few years.

There would be no kitchen facilities, small room for expansion, no physical education fields and no room for a future indoor swimming pool.

Site Comparisons

Site comparisons will be made of the two properties — the Charles McCabe property east of the city and the Irvin Klemm property west of the city. Comparisons will be made in relation to size, topography, location and projected growth of population.

Cost estimates will be presented for water, sewer, electricity, gas lines, fire protection, installation of utilities and street development. Cost of the McCabe property is $19,000 plus an estimated $8,900 for development.

Comparable figures are $16,000 for the Klemm property, plus an estimated $31,200 for development. If the Klemm property is selected, a five-foot extension walk would be added to the north bridge for safety at an approximate cost of $25,000.

Band Uniforms

In other action, Douglas Erickson, band instructor, asked the board to consider purchasing new band uniforms. A West Point style was presented for consideration by a sales representative.

The style is a three-way uniform which could be converted into a tuxedo-style concert uniform and a summer performance uniform. The present uniforms are 10 years old, Erickson said.

The new uniforms would cost $78.50 each, and about 75 would be needed.

Brown Solons Okay Funds For Site Fight

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Brown County Board, in a unanimous roll call vote, appropriated $6,000 to be used in any possible county participation in court action over selection of a university site in Green Bay.

The board also approved the sale of an $850,000 bond issue to finance a runway extension project at Austin Strauble field and approved a 7 per cent across the board wage hike for all employes at the Brown County Hospital except those on the medical administrative staff.

In appropriating the $6,000 for the university site dispute, the board took note of Outagamie County's action in starting a court procedure in an attempt to halt construction of the new university on the Shorewood Site in Green Bay.

Although the action was started against the state of Wisconsin and excludes Brown County at this point, the board already has retained special legal counsel to keep an eye on the case and set aside the money today in case the county becomes a party to the suit.

rules and regulations was referred to the finance committee, the city attorney and the director of public works. Muehl explained the rules are partly obsolete and incomplete.

A contract with the Wisconsin Fire Equipment Co. for $6,965 to cover the cost of equiping a new fire truck was approved.

City Clerk Arthur Pohland announced the city will receive $4,619 from the state for telephone tax.

Pohland also reminded aldermen they were invited to attend Wisconsin League of Municipalities' regional meetings July 20 in Green Bay and July 21 in Fond du Lac.

Fire protection contracts with the towns of Chilton, Charlestown and Brothertown were accepted.

John Friedel, city recreation director, suggested the recreation department be allowed to use Klinkner Park as a supervised playground on a part-time basis. Details will be worked out with the recreation commission and presented at the next council meeting.

Yankees Share Baseball Lead At New London

NEW LONDON — Norb Klatt pounded two homeruns and Greg Baehman struck out 14 Cardinals to pace the Yankees to a 12-8 victory in major league play in the Boy's Baseball League.

Steve Sanders collected a round tripper for the losers. The win gave the Yankees a 5-1 record and a share of first place.

The Orioles edged the Giants, 6-5, to maintain their share of first place. Ted Feurig struck out 11 and Mike Smith homered for the Orioles.

Terry Wing struck out 16 Dodgers as the Red Sox moved into a tie for second place with the losers. Both have 3-2 season marks. Joel Kleinbrook homered for the losers and Steve Zuelke connected for the Red Sox.

Ted Algiers struck out 10 Wolves in leading the Panthers to a 5-1 minor league victory. Randy Scheid whiffed 14 Tigers as the Colts won 13-8 in the only other minor loop game Monday.

New London Collision Results in $100 Loss

NEW LONDON — More than $100 damage resulted from a two car collision at 3:30 p.m. Monday at Mill and Douglas streets.

City police said a car driven by Emma E. Harrison, route 1, Larsen, was traveling south on Mill Street and was slowing to make a right turn when a car driven by Paul C. Fritz, 74, 726 Depot St., Manawa ran into the rear of her car.

Neither driver was injured.

Legion, Auxiliary Install Officers

WEYAUWEGA — Officers of the Arndt Bruley Post of the American Legion and the auxiliary were installed at a joint meeting and pot luck supper on Monday night.

American Legion officers installed were Loren Ebert, commander; Joseph Pleshek, first vice-commander; Merwyn Sorensen, second vice-commander; Bill Bauer, third vice-commander; Oswald Prillwitz, finance officer; Marvin Bacon, historian; Al Kantola, sargeant-at-arms; Alvin Neidhold, chaplin and DuWayne Redmann, adjutant.

Officers of the auxiliary are Mrs. Gordon Baehnman, president; Mrs. Keitha Prentice, first vice president; Mrs. John Laude, second vice president; Mrs. Clifford Fields, secretary; Mrs. Roy Anderson, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Haffner, chaplain; Mrs. Willard Purchatzke and Mrs. Duane Koehler, sargeants-at-arms, and Mrs. Bill Bauer, historian.

Green Bay Attorney Announces Candidacy

GREEN BAY — Cletus J. Republicans Plan Picnic At Manawa

WAUPACA — Several state and county Republican party officials and candidates are scheduled to attend a Waupaca County Republican picnic and jamboree July 17 at the Schuelke Cedar Springs Resort near Manawa.

Plans for the day include games for both adults and children, a band concert and barbecue supper.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. Tickets for the event will be available from party precinct chairmen.

Acting Director Appointed for Recreation Unit

Lloyd Koehnke Jr. Gets Post on Temporary Basis

Lloyd E. Koehnke Jr., 34, was appointed acting director of the Appleton Recreation Department by the Parks and Recreation Commission at its meeting Tuesday.

Koehnke, who has been with the department for 10 years, the last six as sports supervisor, will fill a vacancy created by the resignation of R. W. Grover. He will serve until the commission appoints a permanent director.

The commission has until Sept. 1 to fill the post. Appointment will be made based on qualifications established recently by the city council in the reorganization of the park and recreation departments.

Koehnke's appointment was recommended by Mayor George Buckley.

Permanent Director

Ald. Arthur Mueller, (19th) commission member, said the commission should appoint Koehnke as permanent director, but several other members said this could not be done due to the recent ordinance passed by the council.

The ordinance establishes qualifications which must be met by job applicants, including a college education. Applicants must take written and oral examinations.

Several aldermen have introduced a resolution recommending the deletion of the college requirement. The resolution was tabled until the next meeting.

Recreation Activities Open for 87 Children

Clintonville Organizes Program at Park; First Junior Playground Starts Monday

CLINTONVILLE — The summer recreation program opened Monday at Walter A. Olen Park with 87 children registering.

The first week is primarily for organization. The recreation directors develop baseball teams, woodcraft projects, and tournaments which will function throughout the seven-week program. Any child age 7-14 may join the park program at any time during the summer.

Besides the organized activities, there are many other activities available. There are also a horseshoe pit, shuffleboard courts and a miniature golf course. Friday afternoons will be devoted to handicraft.

Junior Playgrounds

At 10 a.m. Monday the first of three weekly junior playgrounds will be conducted for children, 5 to 7. This hour will include games, stories, songs, and arts and crafts under the leadership of Diane Glass, assistant director.

Junior boys' baseball will begin at 9 a.m. Monday and the senior boys at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Teams will be organized at 9 a.m. Friday. For boys wishing to improve their baseball skills, Stephen Baldo, playground director, will hold a "how to play baseball" school at 2 p.m. daily starting on Monday.

Also slated for next week are a "tetherball tournament, croquet tournament, and the beginning of the tennis and ping pong leagues.

Program Times

The program of events for the week of June 27-July 1 includes from 9 a.m.-noon on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, junior baseball, and the same hours on Tuesday and Thursday will be senior baseball. The junior playground program will be 10-11 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

From 2-4 p.m. Monday will be baseball instruction in batting; Tuesday, in fielding; Wednesday, in pitching, and Friday, individual help.

From 1:30-3:30 p.m., Tuesday, croquet tournament; 1:30-2:30 p.m. Thursday, girls' tetherball tournament, and 2:30-3:30 p.m. Thursday, boys' tetherball tournament.

The handicraft will be 1:30-4 p.m. Friday.

Kresge Quits Dime-Store Post at 98

Leaves Position With More Than $200 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Sebastian S. Kresge, 98, whose name appears in large letters on 673 variety stores across the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico, has resigned from his firm.

The farm boy who at 30 entered the dime-store business with $8,000 left it Tuesday with more than $200 million. The dime-store concept developed into general merchandising at varied prices.

The founder of the Detroit-based S.S. Kresge Co. sent a letter to the board of directors announcing his resignation as chairman. The company said H.B. Cunningham would continue as president and chief executive officer, a post he has held since 1959.

Kresge also resigned as trustee of the Kresge Foundation, an educational philanthropic organization he established in 1922 with a gift of $1.3 million. The foundation now has a net worth of $175 million.

"Up until three months ago," Kresge said in his resignation letter, "I thought it would be possible for me to continue my advice and counsel for another year, but my health will not permit."

Oldest Chairman

He was the oldest chairman and the one with the longest tenure, 53 years, of any corporation listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

A short, stocky man with a broad face reflecting his Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry, Kresge moved to Detroit in 1897, less than a year after investing his $8,000 to buy half ownership of a dime store with John G. McCrory in Memphis, Tenn.

Later he traded McCrory his half of the Memphis store and $3,000 for full ownership of a store in Detroit. McCrory went on to found a retailing chain of his own, McCrory Corp.

The S.S. Kresge Co. now has 40,000 employes. Its sales volume this year totaled $1 billion.

Kresge was a nonsmoker and nondrinker and once said, "I never gave a dime to any church, the pastor of which used tobacco."

He gave generously to others, however. Between 1922 and 1957 he donated $65 million to the Kresge Foundation, which has made grants for education, religion, health and youth work.

He now lives at Mountainhome, Pa., not far from the farm where he was born July 31, 1867.

Robert Kennedy Family Might Take Raft Trip

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — For the second time in as many years, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., and his family might make a raft trip in the western United States.

A source at this central Idaho resort said Tuesday, Kennedy, his wife Ethel, and seven of their nine children accompanied by astronaut John Glenn have reservations at the resort June 30. They probably will take a raft trip down the Salmon River.

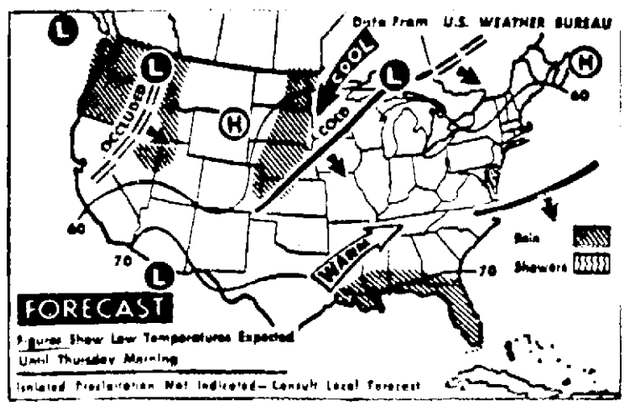
Last year the Kennedy family and several friends were to make the trip but the water was too high. So the party took a raft trip down the Yampa and Green Rivers in Colorado and Utah.

It was the first time the Kennedys had made such a trip. It went off without a hitch.

King of Saudi Arabia Addresses Luncheon

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Faisal of Saudi Arabia addressed a luncheon sponsored by Washington news correspondents today and continued conferences with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The king arrived in the capital Tuesday for a three-day stay as part of his 10-day state visit. He received a booming, 21-gun salute on the White House lawn, then joined Johnson in an air-conditioned limousine for a parade through downtown Washington.



Tonight's Weather Will be rainy in parts of the Gulf Coast and Florida, the north and central Plains, the north and central Rockies and parts of the north Pacific Coast. Little change in temperature is anticipated across the nation. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Chinese Movie Producer Thought Victim of Purge

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese importer of Communist Chinese motion pictures said today he has complied with a cabled request from Peking to stop showing three films. He believes they are victims of the current purge on the mainland.

Two of the movies show Peking Mayor Peng Chen and the third tells of the growth of Red China's military forces.

Peng Chen was recently removed from the post of first secretary of the Peking party committee, and the army film has been attacked for presenting an unbalanced, misguided picture of the military growth. The scenario was written by officials accused in the purge.

UW Aide's Son, Teammate Will Enroll in Fall

MADISON (AP) — Lewis Ritcherson, son of Les Ritcherson, University of Wisconsin assistant football coach, will enroll at the UW in September, athletic director Ivan B. Williamson said today.

Coming with the coach's son will be James S. Jones. They were top players on the Moore High School football team of Waco, Tex., that compiled a 7-3 record last season.

Ritcherson was quarterback and Jones, an end. They accepted grant-in-aid scholarships.

Minimum Speed Limits

A minor bill which could alleviate much frustration and possibly some accidents on state highways was signed into law recently by Governor Knowles It gives the State Highway Commission authority to set minimum speed limits on the state trunk system Wisconsin until this time has never had such minimum limits

A driver meandering along on a busy highway in periods of heavy traffic such as occur on holiday weekends is a real menace Long strings of cars will pile up behind him creating in each following driver the psychological impulse to take a chance on getting by Such slowpoke drivers who want to loll along and enjoy the scenery should take to secondary roads

Through highways must be reserved for the purpose of carrying large volumes of traffic in an orderly fashion A slow driver disrupts such orderly movement and should be disciplined as well as the speeder

Step Toward Urban Renewal

While Appleton aldermen have been holding lengthy meetings of late they have been making some solid contributions to the present and future requirements of this growing community

Preliminary approval of the recommendation of Ald Roy Pointer 14th Council president that action be taken to form an Urban Renewal Citizens Committee represents one of the most objective moves in recent months

It demonstrates that while Appleton has a comparatively new inexperienced Council its members are looking to the future and making the plans so necessary now to launch the eventual rejuvenation of the downtown district along with rehabilitating and conserving some old neighborhoods

Communities for the most part carry out these various types of projects with the assistance of federal aids administered through the U S Department of Housing and Urban Development However contrary to some misguided reports this aid is not just doled out for the sake of granting a community a federal aid A city desirous of financial and technical help must have the machinery for sound planning along with tight code and ordinance enforcement Most important is an updated comprehensive plan which Appleton now has and is implementing

The recommendation by Ald Alvin E Pews (5th) that the City Planner define the goals and objectives of a citizens' committee along with recommending a list of persons who could be considered, was a wise one and should be expedited

The citizens' group — to represent a broad cross section of the community– will be in the position to make recommendations to the Common Council including the fact the city will need a redevelopment authority to be the official agency once actual urban renewal work is started here On the latter, we are talking about 1967 or 1968 so time really is of the essence

Kudos to Huber

All in all the three segmented sessions of the 1965 state legislature produced a remarkable record of accomplishment It would have been a good record given solid majorities for the governors party in both houses of the legislature the fact that it was achieved with a Republican governor and senate and a Democratic assembly is what makes it truly remarkable

Some credit for this record must be given to Governor Knowles for the diplomatic manner in which he handled leaders of both parties in the legislature, but certainly equal recognition is due the Democratic leadership in the Assembly, principally Speaker Robert Huber of West Allis

In a statement last week to the West Allis Star Huber observed

The legislators of both parties chose the responsible course of action and in the face of many handicaps did establish a record based upon the needs of all our citizens The record will show that the game of politics was shunted to the side arenas and that the spotlight remained upon our needs in education water, organization of government and highways

And then he added

'The subject of the importance of legislative services and the need for reorganization of the legislative procedures was also given major attention I am one of those who feels that it is a 'must' that the Wisconsin Legislature should meet in annual budget sessions The public has been moved from corner to corner and swayed from this estimate to that estimate relative to revenue surpluses so that they probably have come to the conclusion that it is pretty difficult to tell which is the accurate estimate of our fiscal situation I feel that the legislature should consider the budget one year at a time for the reason that it will be far easier to make possible a much more accurate tax need forecast I strongly feel that unless the legislature makes this change toward fiscal responsibility the taxpayers of the state will be plagued by an uncertain tax atmosphere and that over-taxation is the evil result of this present system"

It is to be hoped that irresponsible candidates of either party can be restrained from trying to take exclusive credit for the record of the 1965 legislature The voters of the state, who have seen their wishes become law in many important fields should see through any such deception

Rather if issues for the fall elections are to be drawn from the 1965 session, they should be the kind of issues which Speaker Huber has now posed how to improve the efficiency of the legislative process in the state

East and West Germany to Debate

President Johnson has consistently urged the extension of American efforts to improve trade and other exchange relations with both the Soviet Union and the Eastern European satellites This is quite thoroughly in keeping with the activities going on in most Western European countries West Germanys ruling political party has also joined the move

One of the young and ambitious members of the Christian Democrats is Dr Rainer Barzel already being touted as Chancellor Erhards successor in office In a speech in Washington last week Dr Barzel indicated that the Christian Democrats feel that some of the leadership toward German reunification and 'the easing of tensions with the Communist nations has been snatched by the Social Democrats and the Free Democrats Germanys two other major political parties And while he did not criticize West Germanys policy his suggestions were considerably removed from that policy as of this moment

Dr Barzel said that the present division of Germany with The Wall splitting Berlin is a situation too inhuman too explosive, too expensive too unreasonable to be maintained and that it will be changed 'either by us or by others His recommendations for change included a major effort to convince the Soviet Union that a divided Germany is more dangerous to Russia than a unified one and that free elections in all of Germany would pose no threat to the Soviet A unified Germany would make lasting peace with its neighbors have a special military status perhaps without nuclear arms and there could even be room for Russian troops on German soil to help ease the suspicions He also strongly recommended that a Western alliance should not exist merely to deter aggression but instead provide a means of joint political and economic action

Certainly one of the stimulants to this encouragement of a softer attitude toward the Soviet Union has come because of the television debates coming up between East and West German spokesmen Enthusiasm for the discussions surprised officials on both sides They came about because of letters across the border which were published and the East German government has been dealing with Social Democrat leaders in arranging the debates which will be televised in both East and West Germany The Social Democrats have suggested terms for reunification that would include acceptance of the Oder-Neisse border with Poland renunciation of nuclear arms and the 1938 Munich pact which cut Czechoslovakia into pieces and the establishment of diplomatic relations with Communist governments The Free Democrats have recommended more trade with East Germany and other means to force open the border

To those who favor a constant hard line approach to all Communist countries the gradual changes in West Germany in attitude toward the East must appear to be concessions and appeasement But they also indicate some acceptance of reality The Soviet Union does have an immense military force In any negotiations it must be remembered that both sides must profit It appears that in West Germany rigid opposition to any dealings with East Germany or other Communist regimes is no longer a sound base for political advancement

Indian Agents Go Trout Fishing

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for June 21, 1866.

The transfer has been made This week Dr Davis turned over the books, papers property and effects of the office of the Indian Agency to his successor Morgan L Martin, of Green Bay

There was a large amount of property in the hands of Dr Davis that he required receipts for, and which had to be inspected by the incoming Agent For that purpose both gentlemen visited the reservation

Arriving there they both went off and had a jolly time trout fishing—at which Dr Davis came out decidedly ahead—and then they gave their attention to business which was dispatched in short order with satisfaction on both sides

Rep. Byrnes Answers Lawrence Professor in Debate Over Inflation

Editor Post-Crescent

I am informed that Professor Thomas E Wenzlau of Lawrence University has addressed an open letter to me through the columns of your newspaper I replied to Professor Wenzlau on June 2 and in fairness to me he has no doubt made available to you a copy of my letter to him In the event he has not, I am enclosing a copy of my letter and its enclosure for such use as you may care to make of it

John Byrnes
Member of Congress
8th District Wisconsin

Dear Professor Wenzlau

I appreciated your writing me with respect to my MEMO of May 24

First, I want to grant your superior knowledge of economics and the use of statistics I think, however that you are overly eager in the use of the word dishonest '

The statistical data used was taken from a table released by the Department of Labor on April 21 1966 a copy of which is enclosed It is certainly true that the dollars and cents comparisons do not reflect with complete accuracy the inflation factor I'm not sure that any statistics that are used can completely break out changes that might be due to either inflation or deflation

I think it would have been more accurate to have dispensed with the reference to gross weekly earnings and instead used spendable earnings and compared them with real spendable earnings By doing so the change in Social Security taxes would have been reflected in both items Such a comparison would have shown that while spendable earnings (not adjusted for inflation but after deduction of taxes) increased by $2 46 from March 1965 to March 1966 at the same time the real spendable earnings (adjusted for inflation and after deduction of taxes) declined by $0 17 It seems to me that this does show the result of the inflationary factor negating what otherwise would have been an increase in real spendable income I don't find anything 'dishonest' in the conclusion from such a comparison that the increase in weekly earnings is deceptive when accompanied by inflation

For complete accuracy I should call your attention to the fact that the tax change reflected in the figures is only the tax changeresulting from the Social Security increase The withholding tax increase which you suggest is also involved did not go into effect until May 1 and therefore did not affect the figures for March

While the item used in the MEMO would have been more accurate had I included a reference to the tax increase, I assure you this omission was not calculated Please chalk it up to an effort to simplify rather than to be dishonest

John W Byrnes

How About Inflated Cost of Government?

Editor Post Crescent

I read with interest the open letter to Rep John Byrnes by Thomas F Wenzlau I re-read the letter with amusement and re-read it again with dismay

I found it interesting that Mr Wenzlau agrees with the Byrnes statistics showing that gross earnings have increased 4 2 per cent in the past year while prices increased only 2 8 per cent in the same period This seems to illustrate that the free enterprise twins, Industry and Commerce were able to squeeze a little more efficiency out of the old capitalist system and provide wage earners with a real increase of 1 4 per cent Why then do we find that the spendable income has gone down'

The explanation Mr Wenzlau offers is amusing I think He says The absolute decline in spendable earnings resulted from an increase in social security contributions by workers and increased income tax withheld Neither of these changes are the result of inflation" I'm not well versed in the new' economics or the 'new' rhetoric but it seems to me that the inflated 'costs' of government and the higher 'price' of social security are both a result of inflation and partly a cause of more inflation Certainly a decline in spendable earnings is going to result in higher wage demands when labor agreements are negotiated

I was particularly dismayed by Mr Wenzlau's use of academic opinion (quoted above) to substantiate his charge that Mr Byrnes had been statistically and intellectually dishonest I'm not sure I understand what he means by intellectually dishonest but it certainly sounds nasty doesn't it"

Land Use Zoning Key To Pollution Control Bill Before Governor

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — In the nature of legislative politics, the controversy about the new state water pollution legislation that stretched over a period of many weeks was concerned more with the mechanics than with substance In the nature of legislative news coverage and its emphasis on conflict and disputation publicity accompanying the protracted fight left a blur in the public consciousness

Wyngaard

Yet the fact is that the new legislation now headed for Gov Knowles' desk and his approving signature in many respects is the most far reaching ever seriously contemplated in Wisconsin and may be a kind of landmark achievement in the country as a whole

Indeed there are some officials and even legislators, familiar with the earlier difficulties encountered by some of the individual propositions embodied in the omnibus bill who are surprised that they have been finally achieved

Perhaps the best illustrative example is the section in the prospective statute which for the first time sets up a system of shorelands use zoning The idea is not new It has been talked about for years as one of the essential weapons in a serious fight to protect water resources, and especially the priceless resources represented in the thousands of recreational lakes Standing alone the shorelands zoning bill almost surely would have died a perfunctory death Yet, here is the new shorelands zoning act, on the verge of enactment with the governor's certain signature

HOW IT HAPPENED

There can be little doubt in the mind of any observant citizen concerned about the protection of natural resources that the increasing development along lakes and streams everywhere in Wisconsin threatens the quality of those waters and in the case of many lakes their very existence as public recreational values

As the lakes are steadily and more intensively ringed with residential and commercial buildings, the consequences in water quality deterioration are obvious. The idea of land use zoning is not new The state has had a general zoning law for more than a quarter of century But it is fixed to the local government sovereignty theme The county can enact a zoning ordinace setting out permitted land uses but such a law does not become effective in a local governmental unit without the consent of that local unit, typically a town board

The thrust in shoreland zoning in the new law is to give the county original and primary authority without necessary acquiescence of the town, with respect to setting up shoreland use controls The new law provides a carrot in the form of some state aid grants to the counties for the administration of such ordinances More significantly – and a fact that is probably not yet widely known – is that it provides a stick

Not only is the state department directed to set up guidelines and standards and otherwise to encourage such local legislation but it is given authority after 1968 to act directly to achieve shoreland zoning regulations in the default of the counties or in the event their own ordinances are ineffective or otherwise unsatisfactory

DIFFICULTIES WILL REMAIN

The execution of such a bold concept won't be easy implying as it does interference with the supposed rights of individuals who want to buy small shoreland frontages to erect improvements on them and to install septic tanks according to their own convenience and specifications But the original land use zoning idea in Wisconsin was not easy to communicate either and in fact is not yet accepted—decades after its endorsement in state law – in some areas

Associated with the shoreland zoning idea is the latest movement for water use zoning which is also especially pertinent in some of the crowded lakeland areas As the law stands today local units of government are exclusively responsible But there is a growing awareness of the inconvenience of inconsistent town board lake use rules on the one hand and the inability or unwillingness on the other of some local governments to act If the idea that waters are public is sustained uniform regulation will one day be unavoidable on the lake as well as on the shore

Wars Have Increased As 'Civilization Grew'

BY SYDNEY J HARRIS

One of the chief conceits of so-called "civilization" is that war and conflict were more prevalent in what we call 'primitive" societies But most anthropological research does not bear out this view

Studies of primitive tribes whether in Africa or among the American Indians indicate that only as the tribes advanced further into more 'civilized states did they relax their efforts at peacekeeping and intensify their warlike activities

Harris

Indeed most of the North American tribes had 'peace chiefs as well as war chiefs ' The peace chiefs engaged in elaborate ceremonials with other tribes to enable potential conflicts to be resolved amicably without loss of face on either side

And these primitives" were so psychologically shrewd that sometimes they arranged for the tribes to engage in mock battles with the exchange of hostages, to drain away the hostility and release pent up emotions without going through a real war

The higher the level of civilization the fewer provisions are made by society for resolving conflicts Every modern nation has a department of war none has a department of peace As society becomes wealthier, stronger and more technical more of its resources are allocated to military preparations

A good case could be made that the Johnson administration's decision to stay in Viet Nam – despite the rapidly deteriorating situation—is not based on military political or moral considerations but simply is an unwillingness to lose face there Politicians even more than most people hate to admit they were wrong phrases like 'national honor' are often used as a camouflage for persisting in such tragic mistakes

Methods of maintaining peace were part of the essential fabric of primitive societies because it was realized even then that deterrence did not deter tribes that prepared for war went to war unless there was some means of turning off the war machinery and turning on the peace machinery This is also an we seem to have [illegible] in our advancing technological society

For several years we have been involved in disarmament negotiations in Geneva, but it is proved that these are more than feeble efforts on [illegible] like a moral posture while at the same time [illegible] energy and funds [illegible] the most powerful [illegible] factory the world [illegible] known It is a ludicrous unequal contest between the war chief and the peace chief in our tribe [illegible] since no one knows what the peace chief is [illegible] doing

Perhaps it is time we dropped the illusion of being civilized and restored some of those primitive methods of keeping our young men alive
